Air France Plane With 33 Aboard Crashes, Burns

PARIS, Wednesday, Sept. 2 (AP) An Air France plane bound for Indochina with 33 passengers aboard crashed and burned late last night on Mt. Cemet, in the French Alps.

Several explosions were heard after the plane crashed. Three hours later the wreckage was still burning, Air France said.

Trieste Crisis Responsibility Denied By Italy

ROME, Sept. 1 (AP)—Italy tonight denied responsibility for the current crisis over Trieste, in a formal reply to Yugoslav charges that Italian troops had violated the Yugoslav border.

The reply from Premier and Foreign Minister Giuseppe Pella cited a "new and threatening attitude and proposals" by Yugoslavia and said Italy "retains the right to consider any measures whatsoever of a precautionary and protective character." It made no direct mention of Yugoslav charges of border incidents.

President Tito's government in a note delivered earlier today in Rome protested "most energetically against the armed demonstrations of Italian army units along the Yugoslav-Italian border."

Yugoslavia described the weekend Italian troops movements in border areas as a provocation and said she might bring the Trieste dispute before an international forum.

Italy has maintained that the troops were engaged in routine exercises. The reply to Yugoslavia said Italy "after all has the full and indisputable right to take within its own territory any measures considered necessary under such circumstances."

Pending the Italian reply, tempers seemed to be cooling in Rome in the fourth day of the crisis.

Fishing Luck Good So Ike Prolongs Stay

FRASER, Colo., Sept. 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower landed a pound and a quarter rainbow trout today —and then decided to prolong his stay here for 24 hours.

The President had intended to leave late today for the summer White House in Denver, but Press Secretary James C. Hagerty announced in mid-afternoon that the departure had been delayed until tomorrow evening.

The reason, said Hagerty, was that Eisenhower was having such good luck in the trout streams.

Delivery Delayed Until After ROK Quota Returned

PANMUNJOM, Wednesday, Sept. 2 (AP)—The Communists released 100 American including 41 officers and 59 tough top rank sergeants today. In an apparent parting slap at their rank the Reds delayed the delivery until after a large quota of South Koreans were returned.

The 29th day of operation big switch began at the usual hour of 9 a. m. (7 p. m. Tuesday, EST) but the entire first six truckloads of returning prisoners—about 150 men—were South Koreans.

The Koreans were silent and subdued as they clambered down from the Communist trucks.

Two Majors Released

There were 10 Air Force men in the second group of Americans and two majors—one Air Force and one Army. The first group was composed of 16 officers mainly captains, and 34 non commissioned officers. The second group was split evenly—25 officers and 25 non commissioned officers.

The first American returned today was Sgt. James A. Alt, of Petersburg, W. Va.

One first lieutenant jumped off the Molotov truck wearing a dark flowing beard. Another repatriate still wore combat boots indicating he had been captured only recently.

The U. N. command sent back 2,397 North Koreans and as usual the reds were clad only in shorts and caps.

Over 3,000 Yanks Freed

Today's release brought the exchange of U. S. prisoners over the 3,000 mark,

Nonetheless, today's group of 300—100 Americans and 200 South Koreans—marks the first sharp dip below the Red schedule of 400-a-day since the exchange began 29 days ago.

There was unofficial speculation that the cut-down might signal the beginning of sparring for more captives. The Communists have accused the Allies of holding back 250 captives, including ringleaders of Red prisoner riots of Koje Island.

Rail Strike Still Looms On Sept. 10

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The government failed in its first try today to win postponement of a scheduled Sept. 10 strike by conductors on the nation's railroads, but there still appeared hope the walkout will be averted.

Chairman Francis A. O'Neill Jr. of the National Mediation Board said efforts to find a way of averting the strike will resume tomorrow morning (8:30 a.m. EST).

The union has called for a walkout starting Sept. 10 on some railroads to back up a demand for new pay rates graduated according to size of locomotive used to pull a train. The union contends such a pay system, with premiums where more powerful locomotives are used, is needed to let the conductors share in railroad productivity gains.

Latest Russian A-Blast Causes Little Concern

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Lack of official alarm over Russia's latest atomic explosion appeared today to be based on a possibility that atom bomb production in this country has hit a peak and that vast improvements in triggering the hydrogen bomb are on the way.

One person with a knowledge of atomic development said there is reason to believe the United States is stockpiling A-bombs at maximum speed, that fissionable material is being turned out at the greatest rate possible with present equipment and every particle of it is going into weapons.

Russia Underestimated?

This same individual said, too, there are signs of tremendous strides in perfecting the H-bomb and much of the advance seems to have been in triggering.

Yet atomic scientist Ralph Lapp saw indications that the United States has "again underestimated Russian atomic capability," a capability he suggested should be reassessed. As he sees it, Russia appears to have set off a hydrogen type explosion and followed up with a standard atomic test. He said this indicates the Soviets may have "enough atomic scientists to have two separate teams working on two different developments and capable of conducting virtually simultaneous tests."

Fourth Soviet A-Blast

With little flurry or evidence of unusual concern, the Atomic Energy Commission announced last night that Russia had touched off blast number four of the atomic bomb type. There were two similar explosions in 1951 and one back in 1949, in addition to Russia's claim two weeks ago she had tested a type of the much more powerful H-bomb. The AES recently gave a measure of support to the Soviet claim.

Good Or Bad News?

"Draft Husband" Movement For Kitchen Chores Gains

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Bad news today for all us husbands.

The experts say that from here on out we're apt to be spending more and more of our time working in the kitchen.

Some 1,500 delegates to the eighth international Congress on Home Economics, meeting in Edinburgh, Scotland, debated this question:

Their answer, stripped to the bare bones of horrible reality, appears to be this:

Shift the chores over to their husbands.

A Scandinavian delegate—female, of course—went so far as to insist that kitchenry should be taught innocent schoolboys.

"When they marry," said the Scandinavian lady smugly, "they might as well be used to working in the kitchen and drying the dishes."

You see the plot? Trap and train 'em while they're young.

Mrs. Ella McNaughton, assistant to the association's executive secretary, said sweetly:

U. N. Tribunal Rules Loyalty Firings Illegal

Decision Is Expected To Revive Row Over Alleged Subversives

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept 1 (AP) — A United Nations tribunal held today that 11 American employes of the U. N. were fired illegally in connection with U. S. loyalty investigations. Four were ordered reinstated to their jobs here and seven others were awarded a total of $122,500 damages.

The decision of the 4-member tribunal, highest appeals court for the U. N. staff, was expected to revive in full force the red-hot controversy over alleged subversives in the U. N. The controversy plagued former Secretary Trygve Lie during the months before his resignation took effect this year.

Hammarskjold Silent

The present secretary general, Dag Hammarskjold, declined to comment. Associates said he was studying the findings and would make his decision as soon as possible on the reinstatement of the four. He has the option of giving them their jobs again or paying them heavy damages.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), who often has attacked alleged American Communists in the United Nations, said:

"I think we should refuse the appropriation of money for the salaries of employes of the United Nations who are Communists—that is, American nationals—or (refuse) to give them indemnities."

21 Staff Members Appealed

The United States would be expected to pay approximately 35 per cent of the amount awarded the dismissed employes, under the present basis for sharing United Nations overall costs.

Today's findings grew out of appeals of 21 staff members, most of whom had invoked the Fifth amendment (relating to self-incrimination) in refusing to answer Senate or federal grand jury questions as to whether they were Communists.

U. S. Employment Shatters Record

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—More Americans were working last month than ever before and fewer were unemployed than at any time since the end of World War II, the Commerce Department reported today.

It said August employment reached a record 63,408,000, and unemployment declined to a post-war low of 1,240,000, a level which officials considered close to a bare minimum.

"Only 1.9 per cent of all civilian workers were out of jobs this August as compared with 2.5 per cent a year ago," commented Acting Secretary of Commerce Robert A. Murray. "Thus, with a current labor force of 65 million, unemployment is barely over the one million mark."

The figures showed 308,000 more people working in August than in July, due to a pick-up in commercial and industrial hiring which more than offset a seasonal decline in farm employment.

Employment in factories, stores and other businesses climbed to 56,134,000 from the 55,492,000 estimated in July.

On the other hand, farm employment dropped to 7,274,000.

Demo Rally Planners Get Involved In Snafu

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Democrats planning a party conference and $100 a plate dinner in Chicago Sept. 14-15 got involved in a North-South snafu today over whether all Southern party leaders were invited.

Some Dixie leaders still said they hadn't received invitations to the affair, which was planned weeks ago. National Committee Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell said in Chicago that all Democratic senators, governors and representatives were invited.

Mitchell added he was disturbed by reports that some Southern leaders were slighted.

AWOL Soldiers Return

BERLIN, Sept. 1 (AP) — The U. S. Army said today that two soldiers who have been in the Soviet zone for over a year have returned.

It said the two—Pvt. Robert W. Dorey, 21, of Somerville, Mass., and Pvt. Joseph P. Ward, 40, of Elizabeth, N. J.—will be tried by court martial for desertion.

Boy Sees His Dad For First Time

From behind the Iron Curtain into the arms of a father he had never seen is the heart-warming story of six-year-old Nicky Hall, who arrived at Montreal airport yesterday with his 29-year-old mother to be greeted by Alfred C. Hall, United Kingdom information officer in Ottawa. Mrs. Hall was refused a visa when her husband was transferred from the British Embassy in Moscow over six years ago.

W. Va. Farms Hard Hit In Record Heat Wave

[By The Associated Press]

Temperatures soared to record highs over more than a third of the country Tuesday as the summer's longest heat wave continued witheringly with no immediate prospect of relief.

At least 30 deaths were attributed to the protracted heat spell.

Water shortages began to develop in some Midwest communities, but the situations were not critical.

The lack of rain—in some sections the heat wave is in its second week—began to worry farmers.

In West Virginia, Agriculture Commissioner J. B. McLaughlin termed the current drought in his state the worst in 20 years. He said the corn crop is "absolutely ruined," and there was little hope for wheat, rye and barley crops next spring. Dairymen have been forced to sell parts of their herds because of the water shortage, McLaughlin said.

Chicago's temperature of 101 at 4:55 p.m. (EST) set a new record. A 97-degree high at Milwaukee set an all-time record for that date.

New York City's 93 degrees also set a record.

Temperatures of 100 were numerous Tuesday. Among cities reporting the reading were Huntington, W. Va., Rockford, Chicago and Vandalia, Ill.

Fastest Jet Flight Is Made By Briton

LITTLEHAMPTON, England, Sept. 1 (AP)—British jet pilot Neville Duke attained the fastest officially recorded air speed in history Monday but failed to set a new world record because of a rules technicality, it was announced tonight.

Duke streaked over the official three kilometre course here four times at an average speed of 722 miles an hour, the Royal Aero Club reported after a study of his clockings.

But because a new mark must be one per cent faster than the previous, Duke's speed in a sweptwing British Hawker Hunter fighter plane does not replace that of 715.69 m.p.h. achieved last July by U. S. Air Force Lt. Col. W. F. Barnes in a Sabre jet fighter.

1,982 Reserve Officers Get Release Notices

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Navy today told 1,982 reserve officers that they will no longer be needed on active duty.

All of the officers receiving the notices mailed today will be released in January. The Navy said that under current manpower and budget restrictions no additional reserve officers will be forced out.

The officers to be dropped from active duty include 39 captains, 466 commanders, 688 lieutenant commanders and 743 lieutenants. Retirement orders have been sent to 46 officers of all ranks.

Third Hurricane Of Season Spotted

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Sept. 1 (AP)—A Weather Bureau bulletin said Hurricane Carol—the third of this season—was located at 5:30 p.m. (EST) tonight approximately 800 miles east of Martinique.

It said winds of 75 to 80 miles an hour prevail and that the storm is moving northwestward towards the United States mainland at 10 to 12 miles an hour.

The storm is expected to increase in strength during the next 24 hours, it said.

Security Guard Denies He's Red

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—A civilian guardian of top secret Army films was quoted by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) today as undecided whether communism is "good or bad."

The unidentified guard, a witness before McCarthy's Senate investigations subcommittee, denied he was a Communist, the senator said, but admitted signing an election petition for a Red candidate.

McCarthy questioned 10 witnesses during the day as he resumed his hearings into possible Communist infiltration of the armed forces. The hearings are private and the witnesses were not identified by name.

Guerrilla Agreement

RANGOON, Burma, Sept. 1 (AP)—Informed sources said today Burma and Nationalist China have reached final agreement on the withdrawal of Nationalist guerrillas from eastern Burma within two weeks.

Bonn Says Red Infiltrators Plan Terror Campaign

BONN, Germany, Sept. 1 (AP)—The West German government charged today that armed Communist terrorists are filtering in from the East to wage a terror campaign against Sunday's crucial election by wrecking polling booths and assassinating political leaders.

The West German border police have arrested 4,500 Red agents trying to sneak in from the Soviet-occupied East, but thousands of others are believed to have slipped by.

Some top Reds who were arrested as they entered West Germany, reported today that Communist thugs had orders to destroy election booths and frighten voters from casting ballots for the new 484 member parliament.

Adenauer Voices Warning

The government said at least three of the agents were directed by their Russian and East German bosses to "eliminate" West German political figures.

In other major developments today in the bitter election campaign:

1. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer warned that Moscow has launched an "all out offensive" to keep West Germany from rearming in defense of Western Europe. He declared that an election defeat of his government which advocates this rearmament would mean that Russia has won the cold war.

Reich Party Target Of Suit

2. Adenauer's government moved to squelch the threat of a Nazi comeback by deciding to file suit in the constitutional court to outlaw the Nazi-like German Reich party (DRP).

3. Erich Ollenhauer, head of the chief opposition party, the Socialists, demanded that West Germany stay out of any "military bloc" so that all Germany can be reunited through a four-power agreement.

These conflicting arguments by Adenauer and Ollenhauer drew clearly the battle lines for the Sept. 6 parliamentary voting. The vital issue they raised makes it one of the most important elections in Europe since World War II.

Scores Overcome

100,000 Defy Heat, March In 10-Hour Legion Parade

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1 (AP)—Under a hot sun, the American Legion paraded 100,000 strong today before turning again to controversies raging at its national convention over Air Force cuts and the United Nations.

Veterans of three wars, reinforced by members of present day military, rode or marched in the 10-hour procession through downtown streets.

Scattered through the parade were beauty queens, 323 drum and bugle corps and bands, 170 replicas of locomotives and box cars and scores of automobiles carrying dignitaries.

Thousands of spectators lined the parade route. Some brought their own folding chairs; others sat on the curb and some clung to cornices of buildings which they had climbed for vantage spots. Still others sat in windows.

They lined the streets 8 to 10 deep in spots. Many business firms erected wooden barriers in front of their plate glass windows for protection.

Some of the spectators collapsed from the near 100-degree heat. A hospital on wheels scuttled back and forth along the route to care for the exhaustion cases.

Two legionnaires, both World War I veterans, were dead on arrival at City Hospital after they collapsed while marching in the parade. Dr. Walter Gunn, first aid chairman for the convention, estimated 150 other paraders and spectators were overcome by heat.

Three Cities Are Proposed By U. N. Allies

Conference Oct. 15 In Geneva, Honolulu Or Frisco Suggested

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Seventeen United Nations allies reportedly decided today to sound out the Communists to determine whether they would agree to a Korean peace conference on Oct 15 in Geneva, San Francisco or Honolulu.

A responsible diplomat said the United States was instructed to approach the Communists through neutral Sweden which maintains diplomatic ties with Red China.

The time and place for the proposed political conference with the Communists was discussed for the first time today by top United Nations diplomats and South Korea's representative.

45-Minute Session

Secretary of State Dulles, acting as conference spokesman, said after the 45-minute session the diplomats reached "general identity of approach in regard to the time and possible sites for the conference."

Dulles said the group agreed unanimously that in keeping with a United Nations General Assembly resolution the American government would "communicate with the other side and seek to make complete arrangements for a time and place" for the peace parley.

A Western diplomat said no single meeting place was decided upon, in order to give the Communists the maximum choice. Some mention was also made of Colombo, Ceylon, but most diplomats agreed communications and other facilities necessary for a successful meeting were lacking there.

Reds May Propose New York

Dulles promised to report back to the group once Communist China's and North Korea's reaction to the United Nations proposal have been ascertained, informants said.

Many diplomats attending today's meeting at the State Department privately expressed belief that Red China probably would reject all three proposed sites and counter with one of its own choosing. An Indian government spokesman in New Delhi said he believes the Chinese Communists might agree to New York as a conference site.

U. S. Will Bolster Iran With Dollars

TEHRAN, Iran, Sept. 1 (AP) — President Eisenhower has notified Iranian Premier Fazollah Zahedi that the United States is prepared to bolster his hard-up new regime with dollars, a well-informed source said today.

The first American emergency aid is expected to be around 30 million dollars, Washington reports said. Iranian newspapers have been guessing as high as 100 million.

The Iranian source said an exchange of letters between Eisenhower and Zahedi is expected to be made public within 24 hours.

Both Zahedi and Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi have publicly stated that Iran is broke and must have money—from any source—to meet such day-to-day items as the government payroll.

Hero Of Corregidor Near Death In Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 1 (AP)—Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, the hero of Corregidor, lay near death today in Brooke Army Hospital. His son said there appeared little hope the retired general would recover.

Wainwright suffered what the hospital called "another cerebral thrombosis" early today. It said "Grave concern for his recovery was felt."

He entered the hospital July 6 and suffered a cerebral thrombosis (stroke) Aug. 13. He had shown marked improvement, however, and received visitors on his 70th birthday Aug. 23 and had been able to sit in a wheel chair last week.

"When they marry," said the Scandinavian lady smugly, "they might as well be used to working in the kitchen and drying the dishes."

You see the plot? Trap and train 'em while they're young.

Mrs. Ella McNaughton, assistant to the association's executive secretary, said sweetly:

U. N. Tribunal Rules Loyalty Firings Illegal

Decision Is Expected To Revive Row Over Alleged Subversives

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept 1 (AP) — A United Nations tribunal held today that 11 American employes of the U. N. were fired illegally in connection with U. S. loyalty investigations. Four were ordered reinstated to their jobs here and seven others were awarded a total of $122,500 damages.

The decision of the 4-member tribunal, highest appeals court for the U. N. staff, was expected to revive in full force the red-hot controversy over alleged subversives in the U. N. The controversy plagued former Secretary Trygve Lie during the months before his resignation took effect this year.

Hammarskjold Silent

The present secretary general, Dag Hammarskjold, declined to comment. Associates said he was studying the findings and would make his decision as soon as possible on the reinstatement of the four. He has the option of giving them their jobs again or paying them heavy damages.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), who often has attacked alleged American Communists in the United Nations, said:

"I think we should refuse the appropriation of money for the salaries of employes of the United Nations who are Communists—that is, American nationals—or (refuse) to give them indemnities."

21 Staff Members Appealed

The United States would be expected to pay approximately 35 per cent of the amount awarded the dismissed employes, under the present basis for sharing United Nations overall costs.

Today's findings grew out of appeals of 21 staff members, most of whom had invoked the Fifth amendment (relating to self-incrimination) in refusing to answer Senate or federal grand jury questions as to whether they were Communists.

U. S. Employment Shatters Record

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—More Americans were working last month than ever before and fewer were unemployed than at any time since the end of World War II, the Commerce Department reported today.

It said August employment reached a record 63,408,000, and unemployment declined to a post-war low of 1,240,000, a level which officials considered close to a bare minimum.

"Only 1.9 per cent of all civilian workers were out of jobs this August as compared with 2.5 per cent a year ago," commented Acting Secretary of Commerce Robert A. Murray. "Thus, with a current labor force of 65 million, unemployment is barely over the one million mark."

The figures showed 308,000 more people working in August than in July, due to a pick-up in commercial and industrial hiring which more than offset a seasonal decline in farm employment.

Employment in factories, stores and other businesses climbed to 56,134,000 from the 55,492,000 estimated in July.

On the other hand, farm employment dropped to 7,274,000.

Demo Rally Planners Get Involved In Snafu

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Democrats planning a party conference and $100 a plate dinner in Chicago Sept. 14-15 got involved in a North-South snafu today over whether all Southern party leaders were invited.

Some Dixie leaders still said they hadn't received invitations to the affair, which was planned weeks ago. National Committee Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell said in Chicago that all Democratic senators, governors and representatives were invited.

Mitchell added he was disturbed by reports that some Southern leaders were slighted.

AWOL Soldiers Return

BERLIN, Sept. 1 (AP) — The U. S. Army said today that two soldiers who have been in the Soviet zone for over a year have returned.

It said the two—Pvt. Robert W. Dorey, 21, of Somerville, Mass., and Pvt. Joseph P. Ward, 40, of Elizabeth, N. J.—will be tried by court martial for desertion.

Boy Sees His Dad For First Time

From behind the Iron Curtain into the arms of a father he had never seen is the heart-warming story of six-year-old Nicky Hall, who arrived at Montreal airport yesterday with his 29-year-old mother to be greeted by Alfred C. Hall, United Kingdom information officer in Ottawa. Mrs. Hall was refused a visa when her husband was transferred from the British Embassy in Moscow over six years ago.

W. Va. Farms Hard Hit In Record Heat Wave

[By The Associated Press]

Temperatures soared to record highs over more than a third of the country Tuesday as the summer's longest heat wave continued witheringly with no immediate prospect of relief.

At least 30 deaths were attributed to the protracted heat spell.

Water shortages began to develop in some Midwest communities, but the situations were not critical.

The lack of rain—in some sections the heat wave is in its second week—began to worry farmers.

In West Virginia, Agriculture Commissioner J. B. McLaughlin termed the current drought in his state the worst in 20 years. He said the corn crop is "absolutely ruined," and there was little hope for wheat, rye and barley crops next spring. Dairymen have been forced to sell parts of their herds because of the water shortage, McLaughlin said.

Chicago's temperature of 101 at 4:55 p.m. (EST) set a new record. A 97-degree high at Milwaukee set an all-time record for that date.

New York City's 93 degrees also set a record.

Temperatures of 100 were numerous Tuesday. Among cities reporting the reading were Huntington, W. Va., Rockford, Chicago and Vandalia, Ill.

Fastest Jet Flight Is Made By Briton

LITTLEHAMPTON, England, Sept. 1 (AP)—British jet pilot Neville Duke attained the fastest officially recorded air speed in history Monday but failed to set a new world record because of a rules technicality, it was announced tonight.

Duke streaked over the official three kilometre course here four times at an average speed of 722 miles an hour, the Royal Aero Club reported after a study of his clockings.

But because a new mark must be one per cent faster than the previous, Duke's speed in a sweptwing British Hawker Hunter fighter plane does not replace that of 715.69 m.p.h. achieved last July by U. S. Air Force Lt. Col. W. F. Barnes in a Sabre jet fighter.

1,982 Reserve Officers Get Release Notices

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Navy today told 1,982 reserve officers that they will no longer be needed on active duty.

All of the officers receiving the notices mailed today will be released in January. The Navy said that under current manpower and budget restrictions no additional reserve officers will be forced out.

The officers to be dropped from active duty include 39 captains, 466 commanders, 688 lieutenant commanders and 743 lieutenants. Retirement orders have been sent to 46 officers of all ranks.

Third Hurricane Of Season Spotted

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Sept. 1 (AP)—A Weather Bureau bulletin said Hurricane Carol—the third of this season—was located at 5:30 p.m. (EST) tonight approximately 800 miles east of Martinique.

It said winds of 75 to 80 miles an hour prevail and that the storm is moving northwestward towards the United States mainland at 10 to 12 miles an hour.

The storm is expected to increase in strength during the next 24 hours, it said.

Security Guard Denies He's Red

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—A civilian guardian of top secret Army films was quoted by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) today as undecided whether communism is "good or bad."

The unidentified guard, a witness before McCarthy's Senate investigations subcommittee, denied he was a Communist, the senator said, but admitted signing an election petition for a Red candidate.

McCarthy questioned 10 witnesses during the day as he resumed his hearings into possible Communist infiltration of the armed forces. The hearings are private and the witnesses were not identified by name.

Guerrilla Agreement

RANGOON, Burma, Sept. 1 (AP)—Informed sources said today Burma and Nationalist China have reached final agreement on the withdrawal of Nationalist guerrillas from eastern Burma within two weeks.

Bonn Says Red Infiltrators Plan Terror Campaign

BONN, Germany, Sept. 1 (AP)—The West German government charged today that armed Communist terrorists are filtering in from the East to wage a terror campaign against Sunday's crucial election by wrecking polling booths and assassinating political leaders.

The West German border police have arrested 4,500 Red agents trying to sneak in from the Soviet-occupied East, but thousands of others are believed to have slipped by.

Some top Reds who were arrested as they entered West Germany, reported today that Communist thugs had orders to destroy election booths and frighten voters from casting ballots for the new 484 member parliament.

Adenauer Voices Warning

The government said at least three of the agents were directed by their Russian and East German bosses to "eliminate" West German political figures.

In other major developments today in the bitter election campaign:

1. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer warned that Moscow has launched an "all out offensive" to keep West Germany from rearming in defense of Western Europe. He declared that an election defeat of his government which advocates this rearmament would mean that Russia has won the cold war.

Reich Party Target Of Suit

2. Adenauer's government moved to squelch the threat of a Nazi comeback by deciding to file suit in the constitutional court to outlaw the Nazi-like German Reich party (DRP).

3. Erich Ollenhauer, head of the chief opposition party, the Socialists, demanded that West Germany stay out of any "military bloc" so that all Germany can be reunited through a four-power agreement.

These conflicting arguments by Adenauer and Ollenhauer drew clearly the battle lines for the Sept. 6 parliamentary voting. The vital issue they raised makes it one of the most important elections in Europe since World War II.

Scores Overcome

100,000 Defy Heat, March In 10-Hour Legion Parade

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1 (AP)—Under a hot sun, the American Legion paraded 100,000 strong today before turning again to controversies raging at its national convention over Air Force cuts and the United Nations.

Veterans of three wars, reinforced by members of present day military, rode or marched in the 10-hour procession through downtown streets.

Scattered through the parade were beauty queens, 323 drum and bugle corps and bands, 170 replicas of locomotives and box cars and scores of automobiles carrying dignitaries.

Thousands of spectators lined the parade route. Some brought their own folding chairs; others sat on the curb and some clung to cornices of buildings which they had climbed for vantage spots. Still others sat in windows.

They lined the streets 8 to 10 deep in spots. Many business firms erected wooden barriers in front of their plate glass windows for protection.

Some of the spectators collapsed from the near 100-degree heat. A hospital on wheels scuttled back and forth along the route to care for the exhaustion cases.

Two legionnaires, both World War I veterans, were dead on arrival at City Hospital after they collapsed while marching in the parade. Dr. Walter Gunn, first aid chairman for the convention, estimated 150 other paraders and spectators were overcome by heat.

Three Cities Are Proposed By U. N. Allies

Conference Oct. 15 In Geneva, Honolulu Or Frisco Suggested

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Seventeen United Nations allies reportedly decided today to sound out the Communists to determine whether they would agree to a Korean peace conference on Oct. 15 in Geneva, San Francisco or Honolulu.

A responsible diplomat said the United States was instructed to approach the Communists through neutral Sweden which maintains diplomatic ties with Red China.

The time and place for the proposed political conference with the Communists was discussed for the first time today by top United Nations diplomats and South Korea's representative.

45-Minute Session

Secretary of State Dulles, acting as conference spokesman, said after the 45-minute session the diplomats reached "general identity of approach in regard to the time and possible sites for the conference."

Dulles said the group agreed unanimously that in keeping with a United Nations General Assembly resolution the American government would "communicate with the other side and seek to make complete arrangements for a time and place" for the peace parley.

A Western diplomat said no single meeting place was decided upon, in order to give the Communists the maximum choice. Some mention was also made of Colombo, Ceylon, but most diplomats agreed communications and other facilities necessary for a successful meeting were lacking there.

Reds May Propose New York

Dulles promised to report back to the group once Communist China's and North Korea's reaction to the United Nations proposal have been ascertained, informants said.

Many diplomats attending today's meeting at the State Department privately expressed belief that Red China probably would reject all three proposed sites and counter with one of its own choosing. An Indian government spokesman in New Delhi said he believes the Chinese Communists might agree to New York as a conference site.

U. S. Will Bolster Iran With Dollars

TEHRAN, Iran, Sept. 1 (AP) — President Eisenhower has notified Iranian Premier Fazollah Zahedi that the United States is prepared to bolster his hard-up new regime with dollars, a well-informed source said today.

The first American emergency aid is expected to be around 30 million dollars, Washington reports said. Iranian newspapers have been guessing as high as 100 million.

The Iranian source said an exchange of letters between Eisenhower and Zahedi is expected to be made public within 24 hours.

Both Zahedi and Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi have publicly stated that Iran is broke and must have money—from any source—to meet such day-to-day items as the government payroll.

Hero Of Corregidor Near Death In Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 1 (AP)—Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, the hero of Corregidor, lay near death today in Brooke Army Hospital. His son said there appeared little hope the retired general would recover.

Wainwright suffered what the hospital called "another cerebral thrombosis" early today. It said "Grave concern for his recovery was felt."

He entered the hospital July 6 and suffered a cerebral thrombosis (stroke) Aug. 13. He had shown marked improvement, however, and received visitors on his 70th birthday Aug. 23 and had been able to sit in a wheel chair last week.

Death March Threat Forced POWs On Air

Returned Colonel Says Propaganda Added To Speech

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea, Wednesday, Sept. 2 (AP)—A returned lieutenant colonel said yesterday he and 19 others were forced to make a propaganda broadcast over the North Korean radio under threat of a "death march."

Lt. Col. Paul V. Liles, a West Pointer from Columbus, Ga., told for the first time how at least some of the prisoners were made to lend their names to propaganda broadcasts from Pyongyang, North Korean capital.

Liles and the 19 others starving men brought 100 miles south from the Pyoktong prison camp to Pyongyang under the pretext of being allowed to broadcast an appeal to the U. S. Air Force to drop food packages at their camp.

The men were allowed to write their own speeches, but at the last minute the North Koreans added phrases attacking "American imperialism" and inserted other anti-American propaganda.

"I objected," Liles said, "but a Korean major said anyone who failed to make a speech would be marched back to Pyoktong (near the Manchurian border) on foot."

Liles said this was "tantamount to a death sentence" because it was the bitter winter of 1950-51 and the men were so weak "they couldn't even march around the yard."

So Liles and the others made the broadcast and "felt very bad" about it. Their only consolation was they were allowed to give the location of the Pyoktong camp and thus would be spared the risk of accidental bombing and strafing. The Reds had given no information on the location of the camps up to that time.

Briton Reunited With Russian-Born Wife

MONTREAL, Sept. 1 (AP)—Alfred C. Hall, excited and elated, greeted his Russian-born wife and six-year-old son today at Montreal airport in an emotional reunion between the couple who were separated nearly seven years by the Kremlin.

Hall, British information officer in Ottawa, had never seen his son until the youngster marched down the steps from a plane, calling out "Daddy."

The youngster preceded his mother, blonde, blue-eyed Clara Strunina Hall. They were the last passengers off the plane which left London yesterday.

Hall met his wife while she was studying English at Moscow University and he was stationed in the Russian capital as a member of a British diplomatic mission.

The Halls were separated when the Russians refused to issue an exit permit for Mrs. Hall at the time her husband was transferred. The visas for her and their son Nicky, were issued only a fortnight ago.

Triplets Born To Cow

ELKTON, Md., Sept. 1 (AP)— A young cow gave birth to triplets early this morning, two bulls and a heifer.

The cow, owned by William Flamer of Blue Ball, Md., and the calves were reported doing fine. These were her first offspring.

Martinsburg Begins Celebrating Today

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 1 (AP)—Martinsburg starts celebrating its 175th birthday tomorrow, devoting the remainder of the week to parades and parties and a pageant reciting its history.

The civic committee sponsoring the affair expects several thousand visitors.

Congress May Insist On Corporate Tax Cut

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP) — Congress may insist on a cut in corporation incomes taxes next year, Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa) said today, but may compromise on 4 per cent instead of 10.

Corporation income taxes are scheduled to drop about 10 per cent next April 1 under present law. President Eisenhower, however, has urged indefinite suspension of the cut, which would reduce the government's revenue about two billion dollars a year at a time when it is struggling to balance the budget.

Simpson, a senior Republican member of the House Ways and Means Committee, said a compromise cut probably would be proposed to avert further clashes between the administration and GOP leaders in Congress who want to get taxes down all along the line.

Kansas City Probers Blast Union Leaders' 'Terrorism'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP) — A House labor subcommittee said today that union leaders, using "gangster tactics" of violence and terror, paralyzed the building trades industry in Kansas City for two months.

The subcommittee called recent labor disorders there "one of the most forbidding chapters in the history of American unions."

It urged an immediate grand jury investigation of "possible" violations of the Taft-Hartley labor law and the perjury statute.

The lawmakers, headed by Rep. Wint Smith (R-Kan), reported on hearings held in Kansas City June 29-July 3. Other subcommittee members who joined in the report were Reps. Hoffman (R-Mich) and Lucas (D-Tex).

The report blamed most of the troubles, which it said threw up to 25,000 men out of work, on jurisdictional disputes among unions. It said these were sparked chiefly by a bid for power by Orville L. Ring, president of a teamsters local.

The hearings uncovered an "appalling" record of threats, "unconscionably vicious assaults," brazen kidnapping and other violence, the subcommittee said. Roving gangs moved in strong armed convoys, "including Mr. Ring's air conditioned Cadillac," the report went on.

"This committee and the Congress should look with deep concern at this sordid account of free men, afraid to work, terrorized by the gangster tactics of those (union leaders) to whom the Congress

It's Hot In Tophet And Devil's Kingdom

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 1 (AP) —It was hot today in Tophet, people who live there said. Folks in Satan's Kingdom, the Devil's Hopyard and Furnace Hollow agreed with them.

"My thermometer says 90, but I don't know that it's too accurate," reported Joseph Dooley of the Tophet section of Roxbury.

An innkeeper in Satan's Kingdom, New Hartford, had no doubts, however. "It's 98," he said flatly.

Ranger Louis Baroni said the 88 at Devil's Hopyard State Park, East Haddam, "isn't as bad as it was yesterday; there's more breeze."

The thermometer at R. N. Smith's grocery store in Furnace Hollow, Stafford, registered 94. "It's in the shade, too," said Smith.

Frost Leaves Cooler But Faces New Term

CHICAGO, Sept. 1 (AP) — Jack Frost got out of the cooler today but found the law still hot on his trail.

Detectives at the House of Correction doors fanned him with a warrant while the temperature was above 90. The warrant charged he passed a worthless $100 check in Washington, D. C., March 24, 1952. Frost waived extradition proceedings.

Frost, 48, of Tampa, Fla., had just finished a four-month term for passing a worthless check in Chicago.

The number of farm tractors in the United States increased from 1,885,000 in 1942 to 4,170,000 in 1952.

It's good to be missed

Now that Schlitz is again available everywhere, orders are pouring in at an unheard of rate. No such flood of orders has ever been seen in the history of this or any other brewery.

Absence has made the heart grow fonder. Based on the orders on hand for Schlitz, the most popular beer in history is destined to become even more popular than ever.

The power behind these orders is the pent-up demand of the American people for the brand they know and like best—a beer so fine it made a city famous.

This is the public's response to Schlitz quality after ten long weeks of absence. It's good to know you've been missed.

Heat Relief May Come Friday As Water Shortages Develop

Highs From 95-100 Forecast For State

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1 (AP) — At least three sections on the fringe of Baltimore were hard up for water today and forecasters saw no hope of relief from the current heat wave until about Friday.

A mass of slightly cooler air moving down from New England and reaching as far south as Salisbury and as far west as Baltimore kept today's temperatures in that area five or six degrees under predicted readings.

The forecasters predicted highs ranging from 95 to 100 again Wednesday, except along the coast.

Local thundershowers may bring relief temporarily to some sections, but they are expected to be widely scattered and Maryland's weather promises to be mostly fair and warm for the next three days.

Housewives hauled water in buckets as wells ran dry or the pressure in taps dwindled to a trickle in the seventh straight day of excessive heat.

One of the trouble spots was in Catonsville, on the west edge of Baltimore, where wells supplying 25 families went dry.

Firemen ran out 1,500 feet of 2½-inch hose with faucets every few feet so the householders could get water.

In the Elton Avenue section, just across the eastern city limits in Baltimore county, angry residents circulated a petition asking the county commissioners and the Baltimore Bureau of Water Supply for emergency service.

The area is one of those outside the Baltimore city limits but tied into the Baltimore water system.

Way To Beat Heat Little Too "Raw"

HAGERSTOWN, Sept. 1 (AP)—It was "right hot," contended Henry Pratt, and besides, wasn't he in his own house?

In the doorway, said Mrs. Maude Myers, one of several neighbors who signed a complaint against Henry, "naked as the day he was born.". The sight "slowed down traffic and brought children in the neighborhood congregating," Mrs. Myers said.

Her complaint resulted in a 10-day suspended jail term for Pratt, a 45-year-old Negro, in magistrate's court. The judge called it disorderly conduct.

Study Of Disease Which Killed Gehrig Launched

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP) — A major study of the neurological disorder which claimed the life of Lou Gehrig, the baseball star, has been started on Guam, the U. S. Public Health Service announced today.

The Pacific island was chosen because the fatal disease—amyotrophic lateral sclerosis—is believed to be highly prevalent there.

State Briefs

HAGERSTOWN, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Board of County Commissioners ordered Washington County constables today to quit selling dog licenses. Instead, they're to arrest any dog owners whose dogs don't have tags.

Something had to be done, the commissioners decided, about some 2,000 dogs running around the county without tags. The "grace period" for buying them, they said, is over.

KEEDYSVILLE, Md., Sept. 1 (AP) —Russell I. Earnshaw, 41, proprietor of the Earnshaw Funeral Home here, died unexpectedly last night of a heart attack. A native of Hagerstown, Earnshaw had been in the undertaking business since 1932.

HAGERSTOWN, Sept. 1 (AP) — Eugene Stull, 20, of 630 Grand Place, Frederick, was released from the House of Correction last week after serving a term for traffic violations.

His freedom was short lived. He was brought here today and held for grand jury action on charges of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, and the larceny of several guns and a box of tools from John W. Sagle on Oct. 13, 1952.

Mission Reaches India

NEW DELHI, India, Sept. 1 (AP)—A six-man American-Korean foundation mission including Gen. James A. Van Fleet, the retired former commander of the U. S. Eighth Army in Korea, arrived by air tonight for a three-day stay after studying the rehabilitation needs of war-torn Korea.

The world's first cafeteria was opened in Chicago in 1895 by a man named Ernest Kimball.

Censors Affirm Their Film Ban

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1 (AP)—Maryland's Board of Motion Picture Censors today affirmed its ban on "The Moon is Blue" after taking a second look at the film.

The censors called the comedy "indecent" and "immoral."

Sydney R. Traub, chief censor, added:

"The theme is a story of sex and seduction and a spoofing of the virtue of virginity."

Today's action was on an appeal taken by United Artists Corp. after the censors first banned the film July 29.

Franklin G. Allen, attorney for United Artists, said it would now appeal to Baltimore City Court, where several rulings by the censors have been overturned in recent weeks.

The board's second ruling did not repeat the "obscene" label put on the movie in the original ban. The new order, however, included statements condemning the film by Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, the movie industry's Production Code Authority, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the National Legion of Decency and Archbishop John F. O'Hara of Philadelphia.

1,000 Indians Arrested

BOMBAY, India, Sept. 1 (AP)—One thousand people, mostly landless peasants, were arrested today at Pardi, a village 100 miles from Bombay, after they took possession of 1,000 acres of hayfields and refused to leave.

Young Husband Confesses Slaying 18-Year-Old Wife

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1 (AP)—Edward Charles Fuller, 20, stood before a police magistrate today and acknowledged he stabbed the 18-year-old girl who has been his wife for a year.

Mrs. Mary Wetzell Fuller died about an hour after the attack last night in an alleyway which runs alongside her parents' home.

Although Fuller acknowledged his guilt at the arraignment today, his plea was stricken out as a formality and he was held for a preliminary hearing with the record showing him pleading not guilty.

Joseph R. King, Mrs. Fuller's father, said the couple had separated three times in their year of marriage. Fuller showed up at the King house last night and demanded to see his wife.

"We had an argument," he was quoted by Sgt. John Lutz, one of the officers who told about the investigation in police court.

Fuller was arrested in a restaurant after he had called police and told them he had stabbed his wife and wanted to give himself up.

Sgt. Lutz said Fuller told of throwing the knife on top of a store building. Firemen helped the officers recover it.

Portable Classrooms Bring School Strike

MIAMI, Fla. Sept. 1 (AP)—Angry parents kept some 160 students away from school today in protest against portable buildings being used at one location because of the rapid population increase here.

Only 140 of the expected 300 students enrolled at the portable wooden school. Parents complained that their children would have to walk along a road without sidewalks, bordered by a canal and adjacent to a water filled quarry.

Hoping to solve the problem, school authorities offered bus transportation but a mother declared: "What good is a bus when the area is surrounded by snakes?"

The portable classrooms themselves also met strong objections.

American Indians had no knowledge of iron prior to the arrival of Europeans.

Business And Peace

The notion that business is fearful of peace commands some adherents even in non-communist countries. Communist propagandists do their best to promote it, of course. Then there are those who watch the stock market and draw unwarranted conclusions.

So it is always worth while for a business man to point out a few simple truths that bear on this subject, as President Crawford H. Greenewalt of the DuPont Company has just done in a public statement. One of these truths is that business is part of the national community and shares, unavoidably, in the nation's fortunes—good or bad. As he put it, war is a calamity.

Looked at merely from the financial side, it is "terrifyingly expensive" and business must bear a "very substantial" share of that expense.

That may sound like a generality, but Greenewalt brings it down to the specific. The average return on his own company's investment has "fallen off nearly one-quarter below the average of the three preceding years, roughly paralleling the experience of World War II." The Korean war was no boon to DuPont, particularly when other consequences are borne in mind.

Greenewalt says: "The future is mortgaged; research and development are delayed and interrupted; personnel is diverted from creative pursuits to the taut necessities of the moment. Clearly, those who see war as a business blessing have no talent for simple arithmetic."

If business suffers in war, then it has no reason to fear the peace that can mean stability and sound growth—unless peace for some reason fails to provide the right atmosphere for healthy activity. That could happen if enough people are fearful of peace to impair the demand for the goods and services produced by business. But it need not happen.

Business Spotters

Formation by the President of an advisory council of economic experts representing the nation's key business areas is not an indication that the administration expects a depression. Rather it is an attempt to keep the government in closer touch with the country's economic health than is possible through resort to regular channels of information.

It is true that there already exists a system which gives the White House reports on business conditions. The Department of Commerce, the Federal Reserve Board and the Department of Labor are all constantly on the alert for either inflationary or deflationary tendencies. They present their statistics and findings only periodically, however, and by the time they make them public the damage may have been done.

The new council will report monthly or more often if the necessity arises. It will concern itself with such matters—some of them minor in themselves—as the closing of a plant in one city, the demand for labor in another, the availability of bank credits, and regional commodity prices.

By piecing together the information thus received the government will get a quick check on what is going on and be able to move promptly in the right direction. In a way the system has its counterpart in the arrangement whereby the Weather Bureau keeps watch over storms and hurricanes and sends out warnings of possible trouble.

Flight To The Moon

Flight to the moon offers an interesting subject for hot-weather discussion. Almost from the beginning earthbound man has dreamed of traveling through space and under the sea. Such possibilities intrigued him all the more because they seemed impossible of attainment during his lifetime. Both have been realized during the present century.

It was natural that man, encouraged by success in the air, would set new objectives. Flight to the moon is no more unreasonable now than was the Wrights' insistence they would fly through the air in a contraption of wood and wire.

Man progresses largely through his dreams. The restless spirit which prevents him from becoming satisfied with his surroundings has led to great achievements. Having conquered every corner of the earth, the only frontier left to him is the universe. When flight to the moon succeeds, it will be only a 24-hour sensation, so indifferent has man become to his own accomplisments.

Meanwhile there will be immediate benefits from discussion of the subject. It will take the minds of people off mundane existence. Daily annoyances will be forgotten. When man learns about the moon, and possibly even Mars and Jupiter, it may have the effect of making him better satisfied with his lot on earth, which hasn't been too bad, all things considered.

September

There is a mellowness about September, a kind of drowsiness, as the season's harvest is evaluated and the books balanced for the year. Vegetation has climbed to the peak and retrogression sets in, the metamorphosis being first noticeable with the coloring of leaves.

September is the month of grapes, apples, pears, quinces and plums, which bring to an end the harvest of summer fruits. The month also brings cool nights and early sunsets, football, good golfing weather, resumption of school days, bird migrations and the odor of burning leaves.

Toward the end of September the majority of hibernating mammals has gone underground for a long winter sleep. The fat which they have accumulated during summer will keep them alive until spring, when they awaken and saunter forth coaxed by warm sunshine.

Most of the migratory birds have exchanged their bright summer coats for duller traveling raiment in which they are winging their way to tropical winter homes. They are being replaced by hardier birds which nest in the Far North and seek more temperate climes for the winter.

How To Keep Well

Viruses Are On Top

The wonder drugs have upset the balance of power in germland. Billions of streptococci and staphylococci are being killed by penicillin and as a result, the virus has become the king-pin. This may explain why viral diseases such as polio, flu, and hepatitis appear to be more prevalent than bacterial disorders.

Viruses are elusive organisms and most physicians would give anything to know more about them. We have learned much about their size and shape but whether they are a chemical or a living agent remains a mystery. There is evidence to show they are inert but the results of other investigators suggest they are living. These questions make virology an interesting science and the virologist a busy scientist.

The virus is much smaller than a bacterium and cannot be seen with the ordinary microscope. It differs from other germs by living inside tissue cells. Unlike bacteria, it cannot grow outside living tissue and for this reason is hard to cultivate experimentally. In the laboratory, living viruses injected into fertile eggs will grow and they propagate readily also in special mixtures of suspended human cells obtained from muscle, uterus, and testes.

Numerous diseases are of viral origin. The skin is involved in such disorders as smallpox, chickenpox, measles, German measles, and cold spores. Invasion of the nerves leads to encephalitis, poliomyelitis, rabies, shingles, or choriomeningitis. The liver is preferred by another group of viruses and the outcome is yellow fever, infectious hepatitis, or serum hepatitis. Viruses also are responsible for Coxsackle disease, dengue fever, mumps, influenza, and the common cold.

No one knows why everlasting immunity follows some of these infections. A single bout of German measles, chickenpox, or smallpox is rarely if ever followed by recurrence. By contrast, some persons have one cold after another; others are bothered every year with an attack of influenza. Viral diseases are difficult to prevent with the exception of smallpox; vaccination has been used with excellent results against this disease for more than a century and a half. Pooled gamma globulin, the human blood derivative, contains fighting substances called antibodies and offers temporary immunity against measles, infectious hepatitis, and poliomyelitis. A vaccine against polio also is in the making and early tests are promising.

Many cold vaccines have been introduced but none has been entirely satisfactory. Influenza vaccine has been more useful and every winter thousands of men and women receive it. In World War II yellow fever vaccine was used on a large scale and proved a worthy prophylactic measure. The preventive against rabies is the Pasteur treatment which is given after an individual has been bitten by a rabid animal. In this respect it is a stop-gap to ward off the disease and cannot be compared with smallpox vaccination which leads to active immunity lasting three or more years.

ALCOHOLIC WANTS CURE

Mrs. A. R. writes: I'm 34 years old and have been an alcoholic for 10 years. I cannot leave the house unless I take four or five glasses of beer to give me the strength to go out. Otherwise I would lie in bed all day long. I have four children and have been to several doctors but the medicine they give me does no good. Can you help me with my illness?

REPLY

If you really want to be cured, stop looking for excuses. Ask your physician about Alcoholics Anonymous and the newer procedures for alcoholism. I assume your statement about four or five glasses of beer is a gross understatement of your real consumption. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on alcoholism.

Food And Drug Administration Probes Deaths From Diaper Rash; Doctors Warn Of Boric-Acid Poisoning In Baby Powders; Secretary Humphrey Sore

WASHINGTON — The Federal Food and Drug Administration is quietly gathering evidence that the so-called "harmless" boric acid contained in baby talc and ointments has actually caused the death of scores of infants in recent years.

When all the evidence is in," said one FDA official, "we're going to insist manufacturers put some type of warning label on their products.

"In the meantime," he continued, "we're encouraging manufacturers to stop the use of boric acid in any product where a substitute can be found."

For years, borated talc and ointments have been standard items in almost every home medicine chest. Mothers have considered it a routine, safe treatment for minor cuts and rashes—diaper rash in particular.

No one knows how many infants have died as a result of boric-acid poisoning. Generally, such deaths have been attributed to some other cause. According to Dr. James Ducey of New York's Roosevelt Hospital, "infant deaths often attributed to meningitis and pneumonia actually are caused by boric acid in a powder applied by mothers in a mistaken belief that it has soothing therapeutic value.

"The error in diagnosis occurs," says Dr. Ducey, "because autopsies in these cases are so rare. Relatively large quantities of pure boric acid are available for absorption from ordinary dusting powders containing boric acid."

Early Warning

What started the Food and Drug Administration's probe of boric acid in baby talc was medical reports such as that by Dr. Russell Fisher, chief medical examiner of Baltimore, who as early as 1951 wrote:

"No attention has been paid to the possibility of absorption of boric acid from powders or other preparations applied to the surface of the body. That there is real danger of poisoning by boric-acid absorption through areas of dermatitis (skin infection) has been learned during our study of the unexpected deaths of infants in Baltimore in the past two years.

"The usual history," warned Dr. Fisher, "is that of the development of a "diaper rash' in an infant under one year of age, and the treatment of the dermatitis by repeated application of boric acid in a starch or talc mixture . . . It is considered highly probable that many cases of fatal boric-acid poisoning occur but go undiagnosed."

Notice To Mothers

Another warning published in the AMA's Journal of Diseases of Children by Doctors Clement Brooke and Thomas Boggs stated: "Boric acid and sodium borate are sufficiently poisonous to cause severe symptoms and death when used in amounts commonly considered to be perfectly safe. Boric acid is readily absorbed by a number of different routes and is particularly insidious in that symptoms may be minimal (minor) until a lethal or near lethal dose has been absorbed."

Despite numerous warnings by medical experts, the Food and Drug Administration finds that some manufacturers of boric-acid products have been hard to convince. As a result, unsuspecting drugstores contain millions of cans of borated talc and boric-acid ointment with no warning labels to alert the unsuspecting housewife or mother.

NOTE—Due to curtailed funds, it will be another year before the Food and Drug Administration can complete its study and force manufacturers to place the necessary warning labels on boric-acid products.

Headlines And Footnotes

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey is burned up over a New York Times story that the administration hopes to balance the budget with a national sales tax. Acually, Humphrey had talked off the record to a group of newsmen, but what the treasury secretary actually said was that a "national sales tax is one of many things being considered." Secretary Humphrey feels that the Times not only violated the off-the-record agreement, but got the story twisted. As a result, the New York times will not be invited to any more of Humphrey's off-the-record conferences . . . Along with a national sales tax, the Treasury Department is considering a manufacturing excise tax at the production rather than the retail level, and is even studying another boost in income and corporate taxes. No final decision will be made until the Treasury has a complete picture of the government's needs . . .Internal Revenue Bureau has stopped reviewing the tax returns of the big corporations, believe it or not, as an economy move. Hereafter, the word of the agents in the field will be final on whether the corporations have paid their full taxes. Yet millions of dollars have been recovered every year by reviewing tax returns in Washington. This means the big corporations will get off easier in the future, and, if there are any dishonest agents left in the field, they may be tempted to make a deal with certain corporations, knowing that the returns will never be double-checked. . . . Senator McCarthy stated bluntly the other day that a man who refuses to testify on the grounds that he might be incriminated, must be guilty. Thus, by McCarthy's own standards, he is guilty of six grave violations of the law, since he refused to appear before a congressional committee and answer questions about his finances.

The Army has quietly promoted Brig. Gen. Edwin Sibert, the intelligence "expert" who was caught asleep at the Battle of the Bulge. He refused to believe the Germans were massing in the Ardennes, and as a result, the unsuspecting American Army was caught off-base. Finally, after 11 years, Sibert got his second star. . . . Secretary of Labor Martin Durkin still keeps an active hand in his old union, the AFL Plumbers and Pipefitters. He'll be a voting delegate at the AFL's annual convention in St. Louis, Sept. 21. . . . The British will soon test precision atomic bombing at their Australian proving ground. The British have so perfected radar aiming with an atom bomb they can just about hit a dime. . . . The Defense Department has ordered a survey of all its commisssaries and PX's to determine whether to close them down. At least some post exchanges will be closed after November. . . . U. S. strategists are now convinced Russia will never untie East Germany from its apron strings. Best intelligence from inside the Kremlin is that the purged secret police chief, Beria, favored an independent Germany as a buffer between the East and West. He was opposed, however, by Premier Malenkov, who would not agree to cut the Communist ties to Germany and permit free elections. . . . Here's more bad news for farmers: farm costs, including wages for farm hands and the prices of farm equipment, have climbed another 1 per cent while farm prices have dropped a record 12 per cent.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

A Golden Anniversary

Those gentle-minded persons who do not fear and will not fight Communism, because they regard it as a movement of little permanence, particularly in this country, should have been required to attend the 50th Anniversary of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (1903-1953).

The Bolsheviks (as they originally called themselves) have not been limited to Soviet Russia. They were an offshoot of the Social Democratic Party which Karl Marx developed to propagate his ideas. The First International (1864-1876) was his instrument as long as it lasted. The Second International was more moderate but it ceased to be of any importance after 1917. The Third International (Comintern and later Cominform) is the world-wide Communist instrument for propaganda, infiltration and espionage of Soviet Russia.

At the 1903 meeting of the Russian Social Democratic party in London, Lenin took a position which split the party. Those who followed Lenin were in the majority and were therefore called Bolsheviks; the minority were called Mensheviks and they are now either dead or in exile.

Became World Force

Lenin was successful in seeding down Bolshevism in Russia in the 1917 Revolution which he won with hardly any popular support. Had he failed, had Kerensky been able to establish a democratic regime, or had General Kornilov been able to restore the monarchy modelled after Great Britain, the history of our era might have been less dreadful. The fact is that Lenin, assisted by Trotzky, succeeded and Bolshevism ceased to be a subject for soap-box orators in Union Square in New York or Hyde Park in London; it became a world force financed by the resources of a government.

Having established itself in Russia, it retained most of the institutions of Czarist Russia, namely, autocracy, the centralization of government in an individual, the supreme power of the state over the life of the individual, the revival of serfdom, particularly in agriculture and of slave labor in camps designated for the purpose. But worst of all, it took over the Okhrana, the terrifying secret police which reduces the human being to a frightened, anxious creature. The Okhrana first became the Cheka, then the OGPU, then the NKVD, now the MVD. The name changes; the institution remains the same.

Deification Emphasized

In the czarist autocracy, the czar, "The Little Father," as he was called, was not only the civil but the religious ruler of his people. He held his throne by divine right and regarded himself as the vicar in Russia of God. Lenin, as a materialist, could not adopt this role, so he deified Karl Marx and became his prophet. Henceforth, the basic emotional and intellectual concepts of Russia were to be called Marxism-Leninism.

Stalin was not so modest. He deified himself and required obeisance as to an oriental potentate. He became the state, the church, the conscience of the people. He styled himself the world's greatest genius in all fields. And the day after he died, his name was erased from memory. But Lenin still lives on, the embodiment of Bolshevism.

Fifty years is not a long period in history nor even in the existence of a political party. In a review of the 50th Anniversary issued by the Propaganda and Agitation Department and the Marx-Engels-Lenin-Stalin Institute, this appears:

"Our Party is the only party in the country. It undividedly exercises the leading role in Soviet society. Leadership by the Communist Party is the decisive condition for the firmness and unshakeability of the Soviet system and for all the successes of our people. . ."

Party Above Country

In fact, the party is put ahead of the country. It is supreme. In another part of this review of party history appears:

"The whole course of the half-century history of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union has shown the immense importance of the principles of Party leadership and norms of Party life worked out by Lenin. The Party teaches that it is imperatively necessary to carry out these laws of Party organization, strictly to adhere to the supreme principle of Party leadership, namely, collective leadership, and to the requirements of the Party Rules. . ."

Those who question the dicta of the Party are killed. This emphasis on rigid orthodoxy has produced a reactionary, autocratic, brutal resurrection of orientalism — a return to the world of Genghis Khan, to autocracy and the reduction of man to a thing.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. — More important than the current news of strikes, more important than the palaver about "thought control" and the loss of civil liberties, and more important than the outcry about "witch hunts" is the 20-year trend in America toward the Fascist concept of government control of the relations betweeen employers and employes. And yet a brief news item that tells of a pivotal development in that field of governmental activity got inconspicuous attention last Saturday, largely because its significance is not apparent on the surface.

The item, as reported by the United Press, said:

"Guy Farmer, Eisenhower-elected chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, fired his fourth-in-a-row dissent today against decisions handed down by holdover members. His action was taken to indicate the board will make a basic shift in interpreting the Taft-Hartley Labor-Management Law when the administration acquires a majority of the five seats on the National Labor Relations Board. This is expected soon.

"An NLRB source, noting Farmer's ruling said, 'This signals an important change in policy.' The change-over is expected as soon as President Eisenhower fills the one remaining board vacancy to give the Republicans a three-to-two majority."

The country would be shocked if it read a news item saying the Circuit Court of Appeals in a given area or perhaps the Supreme Court of the United States would change its decisions as soon as a new political party came into power. Yet that is the meaning which can be given to the prospective change in so-called judicial decisions by a Labor Relations Board which is expected soon to have a 3-to-2 Republican majority.

It is just as wrong for the Republicans to dominate the board as it was for the Democrats. The whole concept of government regulation of the minute details of employer-employe relations is illogical in a Democracy where individual freedom is supposed to be sacrosanct. The same fundamental mistake which was introduced by the Wagner Act and which has been retained in the Taft-Hartley Act has brought "a government of men and not of laws." Congress wrote into both laws certain vague phrases of regulation which the Labor Board has been interpreting in accordance with the ideological predilections of the board members.

The late President Roosevelt and his successor President Truman "packed" the Labor Board with a majority of partisans — this was the price the labor unions exacted in exchange for their contributions and support of the Democratic Party in political campaigns. Then the board went on to make rulings which have approximated the Fascism that Italy experienced under Mussolini. Freedom of speech, supposedly guaranteed to everybody by the constitution, was taken away from employers under the Wagner Act. They couldn't even assemble their employes in the shop and talk to them in free America about problems of mutual interest. The Taft-Hartley Act was intended to correct this, but now some pro-labor Senators are talking about going back to the stringent rule of the Wagner law.

One wonders how so-called "liberals" can justify their conspicuous silence on the infringement of freedom of speech which the Labor Board has perpetrated in its long line of decisions. One wonders how the coercion and intimidation so widely practiced by union organizers can be condoned as a "right" of trade unionism and as a corollary of compulsory collective bargaining. But that's what the Labor Board decisions for a long time upheld until some correctives came under the Taft-Hartley Act.

No Labor Board of transient membership is likely to win the respect of either employers or employes. If the Congress will prescribe legislative standards and write them clearly, with a minimum of regulation, the Federal courts are competent to interpret the meaning of the phrases in the law. Life-appointed judges on the Federal bench can do a better job of construing the law than can Labor Board members whose tenure nowadays coincides more or less with the term of the political party in power. Many cases have wound up in the Federal courts, anyway. Time would be saved and basic precedents more quickly established if the Labor Board became solely administrative and the courts alone dealt with the judicial problems arising under the law of labor-management relations.

On The Line

By BOB CONSIDINE

ALLENHURST, N. J.— (INS) — It was one of those endless "benefits," and it was a bother. But the man who asked the favor, man named Jim Oakes, is a nice guy. So off we went, my wife and I, a drive 30 or 40 miles, leaving behind indignant children and bewildered house guests.

It was for the Fitkin Hospital of Neptune, N. J. I had never heard of the Fitkin Hospital. I had never heard of Neptune, fine new world metropolis that it is.

The job was simple enough: The "arm" had been put on some cornered merchants and they had surrendered a considerable mound of merchandise. My job was to auction off the golf clubs in the loot.

Ever try to auction anything? Unless you're with Fasig-Tipton, who auction off one-year-old horseflesh at Saratoga, it is one of the greater ordelas of a man's life. Nobody gives a damn. You clear your throat at the start, apologetically, and realize from that moment it's all up hill. You hear yourself say, amid the roar of conversation, "I've got here the finest little set of golf clubs you all ever did see." But you know as you say it that they loathe golf with a passion. And you, too. So in time you say, "Really, these are fine clubs, and may I have an initial bid of—ah?"

You never know what to ask. Or what the lady in charge told you to ask. You have an unhappy feeling that this is all a dream, nightmare really, and that you have been rolled, somehow, and must seek alms to get the 12:01 home to Locustville, the 17-year-old resort by the sea. You've never begged before, so you don't know how to go about it. You expect to be hit in the kisser, and you are.

"Two dollars," shouts a lush, and everybody at this table falls dead with laughter. Fred Allen, Peter Lind Hayes, Peter Donald, Joe E. Lewis and all the masters of the ad lib never could hold a candle to this guy. You look around uneasily, and the lady who gave you your instructions says, with her eyes, "Ignore the bum and keep punching"

Weeks later, or so it seemed. A nice guy named Mitch May got the price up to a figure in keeping with the value of the shinny sticks, and another nice guy bought them, fortunately outbidding my wife, who temporarily deranged, had been bidding just to keep the thing from flopping.

Anyway, it was kind of an ordeal. Driving home, we commented a bit bitterly on "benefits," and neither of us could remember the name of the hospital that was the beneficiary of our feeble little effort.

The very next evening a kid of ours named Dennis jumped out of a low window of an abandoned place in Allenhurst, during some sort of game of follow-the-leader. He landed in a clump of underbrush. In the underbrush was a jagged tree stump. The stump impaled him momentarily, carving a terrible piece out of his left thigh, exposing the battered muscle.

The lad walked home on it and asked us not to look at it. As I held him in my arms my wife called a doctor named Miles Winder, who used to work on the wounded of the 12th Air Force. He listened briefly to a description of the wound and said he would meet us at the hospital as soon as we could get Dennis there.

We raced him up to Main Street, turned left, and in time there was a little sign that said we were in Neptune, N. J., then there was this fine hospital, and it was Fitkin Hospital. I carried Dennis in, and in a few minutes he had been given preliminary treatment, a series of shots, and drowsily was being wheeled into the operating room.

He was in there 45 minutes and he was "out" for what seemed a terrible long time after that. But at last the doctor appeared and he said that the boy would be all right, that there would be no limp, no infection, no nothing except complete recovery.

"What a bum thing to happen on a Sunday," Dennis said, when he could speak.

We thought so, too, driving home late that night. We thought also that never, never, never again, as long as we lived, would we ever feel that we had been imposed upon by being asked to appear at a "benefit."

Business And Peace

The notion that business is fearful of peace commands some adherents even in non-communist countries. Communist propagandists do their best to promote it, of course. Then there are those who watch the stock market and draw unwarranted conclusions.

So it is always worth while for a business man to point out a few simple truths that bear on this subject, as President Crawford H. Greenewalt of the DuPont Company has just done in a public statement. One of these truths is that business is part of the national community and shares, unavoidably, in the nation's fortunes—good or bad. As he put it, war is a calamity.

Looked at merely from the financial side, it is "terrifyingly expensive" and business must bear a "very substantial" share of that expense.

That may sound like a generality, but Greenewalt brings it down to the specific. The average return on his own company's investment has "fallen off nearly one-quarter below the average of the three preceding years, roughly paralleling the experience of World War II." The Korean war was no boon to DuPont, particularly when other consequences are borne in mind.

Greenewalt says: "The future is mortgaged; research and development are delayed and interrupted; personnel is diverted from creative pursuits to the taut necessities of the moment. Clearly, those who see war as a business blessing have no talent for simple arithmetic."

If business suffers in war, then it has no reason to fear the peace that can mean stability and sound growth—unless peace for some reason fails to provide the right atmosphere for healthy activity. That could happen if enough people are fearful of peace to impair the demand for the goods and services produced by business. But it need not happen.

Business Spotters

Formation by the President of an advisory council of economic experts representing the nation's key business areas is not an indication that the administration expects a depression. Rather it is an attempt to keep the government in closer touch with the country's economic health than is possible through resort to regular channels of information.

It is true that there already exists a system which gives the White House reports on business conditions. The Department of Commerce, the Federal Reserve Board and the Department of Labor are all constantly on the alert for either inflationary or deflationary tendencies. They present their statistics and findings only periodically, however, and by the time they make them public the damage may have been done.

The new council will report monthly or more often if the necessity arises. It will concern itself with such matters—some of them minor in themselves—as the closing of a plant in one city, the demand for labor in another, the availability of bank credits, and regional commodity prices.

By piecing together the information thus received the government will get a quick check on what is going on and be able to move promptly in the right direction. In a way the system has its counterpart in the arrangement whereby the Weather Bureau keeps watch over storms and hurricanes and sends out warnings of possible trouble.

Flight To The Moon

Flight to the moon offers an interesting subject for hot-weather discussion. Almost from the beginning earthbound man has dreamed of traveling through space and under the sea. Such possibilities intrigued him all the more because they seemed impossible of attainment during his lifetime. Both have been realized during the present century.

It was natural that man, encouraged by success in the air, would set new objectives. Flight to the moon is no more unreasonable now than was the Wrights' insistence they would fly through the air in a contraption of wood and wire.

Man progresses largely through his dreams. The restless spirit which prevents him from becoming satisfied with his surroundings has led to great achievements. Having conquered every corner of the earth, the only frontier left to him is the universe. When flight to the moon succeeds, it will be only a 24-hour sensation, so indifferent has man become to his own accomplisments.

Meanwhile there will be immediate benefits from discussion of the subject. It will take the minds of people off mundane existence. Daily annoyances will be forgotten. When man learns about the moon, and possibly even Mars and Jupiter, it may have the effect of making him better satisfied with his lot on earth, which hasn't been too bad, all things considered.

September

There is a mellowness about September, a kind of drowsiness, as the season's harvest is evaluated and the books balanced for the year. Vegetation has climbed to the peak and retrogression sets in, the metamorphosis being first noticeable with the coloring of leaves.

September is the month of grapes, apples, pears, quinces and plums, which bring to an end the harvest of summer fruits. The month also brings cool nights and early sunsets, football, good golfing weather, resumption of school days, bird migrations and the odor of burning leaves.

Toward the end of September the majority of hibernating mammals has gone underground for a long winter sleep. The fat which they have accumulated during summer will keep them alive until spring, when they awaken and saunter forth coaxed by warm sunshine.

Most of the migratory birds have exchanged their bright summer coats for duller traveling raiment in which they are winging their way to tropical winter homes. They are being replaced by hardier birds which nest in the Far North and seek more temperate climes for the winter.

Viruses Are On Top

The wonder drugs have upset the balance of power in germland. Billions of streptococci and staphylococci are being killed by penicillin and as a result, the virus has become the king-pin. This may explain why viral diseases such as polio, flu, and hepatitis appear to be more prevalent than bacterial disorders.

Viruses are elusive organisms and most physicians would give anything to know more about them. We have learned much about their size and shape but whether they are a chemical or a living agent remains a mystery. There is evidence to show they are inert but the results of other investigators suggest they are living. These questions make virology an interesting science and the virologist a busy scientist.

The virus is much smaller than a bacterium and cannot be seen with the ordinary microscope. It differs from other germs by living inside tissue cells. It is considered highly probable that many cases of fatal boric-acid poisoning occur but go undiagnosed."

Notice To Mothers

Another warning published in the AMA's Journal of Diseases of Children by Doctors Clement Brooke and Thomas Boggs stated: "Boric acid and sodium borate are sufficiently poisonous to cause severe symptoms and death when used in amounts commonly considered to be perfectly safe. Boric acid is readily absorbed by a number of different routes and is particularly insidious in that symptoms may be minimal (minor) until a lethal or near lethal dose has been absorbed."

Despite numerous warnings by medical experts, the Food and Drug Administration finds that some manufacturers of boric-acid products have been hard to convince. As a result, unsuspecting drugstores contain millions of cans of borated talc and boric-acid ointment with no warning labels to alert the unsuspecting housewife or mother.

NOTE—Due to curtailed funds, it will be another year before the Food and Drug Administration can complete its study and force manufacturers to place the necessary warning labels on boric-acid products.

Headlines And Footnotes

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey is burned up over a New York Times story that the administration hopes to balance the budget with a national sales tax. Acually, Humphrey had talked off the record to a group of newsmen, but what the treasury secretary actually said was that a "national sales tax is one of many things being considered." Secretary Humphrey feels that the Times not only violated the off-the-record agreement, but got the story twisted. As a result, the New York times will not be invited to any more of Humphrey's off-the-record conferences . . . Along with a national sales tax, the Treasury Department is considering a manufacturing excise tax at the production rather than the retail level, and is even studying another boost in income and corporate taxes. No final decision will be made until the Treasury has a complete picture of the government's needs . . .Internal Revenue Bureau has stopped reviewing the tax returns of the big corporations, believe it or not, as an economy move. Hereafter, the word of the agents in the field will be final on whether the corporations have paid their full taxes. Yet millions of dollars have been recovered every year by reviewing tax returns in Washington. This means the big corporations will get off easier in the future, and, if there are any dishonest agents left in the field, they may be tempted to make a deal with certain corporations, knowing that the returns will never be double-checked. . . . Senator McCarthy stated bluntly the other day that a man who refuses to testify on the grounds that he might be incriminated, must be guilty. Thus, by McCarthy's own standards, he is guilty of six grave violations of the law, since he refused to appear before a congressional committee and answer questions about his finances.

The Army has quietly promoted Brig. Gen. Edwin Sibert, the intelligence "expert" who was caught asleep at the Battle of the Bulge. He refused to believe the Germans were massing in the Ardennes, and as a result, the unsuspecting American Army was caught off-base. Finally, after 11 years, Sibert got his second star. . . . Secretary of Labor Martin Durkin still keeps an active hand in his old union, the AFL Plumbers and Pipefitters. He'll be a voting delegate at the AFL's annual convention in St. Louis, Sept. 21. . . . The British will soon test precision atomic bombing at their Australian proving ground. The British have so perfected radar aiming with an atom bomb they can just about hit a dime. . . . The Defense Department has ordered a survey of all its commisssaries and PX's to determine whether to close them down. At least some post exchanges will be closed after November. . . . U. S. strategists are now convinced Russia will never untie East Germany from its apron strings. Best intelligence from inside the Kremlin is that the purged secret police chief, Beria, favored an independent Germany as a buffer between the East and West. He was opposed, however, by Premier Malenkov, who would not agree to cut the Communist ties to Germany and permit free elections. . . . Here's more bad news for farmers: farm costs, including wages for farm hands and the prices of farm equipment, have climbed another 1 per cent while farm prices have dropped a record 12 per cent.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

A Golden Anniversary

Those gentle-minded persons who do not fear and will not fight Communism, because they regard it as a movement of little permanence, particularly in this country, should have been required to attend the 50th Anniversary of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (1903-1953).

The Bolsheviks (as they originally called themselves) have not been limited to Soviet Russia. They were an offshoot of the Social Democratic Party which Karl Marx developed to propagate his ideas. The First International (1864-1876) was his instrument as long as it lasted. The Second International was more moderate but it ceased to be of any importance after 1917. The Third International (Comintern and later Cominform) is the world-wide Communist instrument for propaganda, infiltration and espionage of Soviet Russia.

At the 1903 meeting of the Russian Social Democratic party in London, Lenin took a position which split the party. Those who followed Lenin were in the majority and were therefore called Bolsheviks; the minority were called Mensheviks and they are now either dead or in exile.

Became World Force

Lenin was successful in seeding down Bolshevism in Russia in the 1917 Revolution which he won with hardly any popular support. Had he failed, had Kerensky been able to establish a democratic regime, or had General Kornilov been able to restore the monarchy modelled after Great Britain, the history of our era might have been less dreadful. The fact is that Lenin, assisted by Trotzky, succeeded and Bolshevism ceased to be a subject for soap-box orators in Union Square in New York or Hyde Park in London; it became a world force financed by the resources of a government.

Having established itself in Russia, it retained most of the institutions of Czarist Russia, namely, autocracy, the centralization of government in an individual, the supreme power of the state over the life of the individual, the revival of serfdom, particularly in agriculture and of slave labor in camps designated for the purpose. But worst of all, it took over the Okhrana, the terrifying secret police which reduces the human being to a frightened, anxious creature. The Okhrana first became the Cheka, then the OGPU, then the NKVD, now the MVD. The name changes; the institution remains the same.

Deification Emphasized

In the czarist autocracy, the czar, "The Little Father," as he was called, was not only the civil but the religious ruler of his people. He held his throne by divine right and regarded himself as the vicar in Russia of God. Lenin, as a materialist, could not adopt this role, so he deified Karl Marx and became his prophet. Henceforth, the basic emotional and intellectual concepts of Russia were to be called Marxism-Leninism.

Stalin was not so modest. He deified himself and required obeisance as to an oriental potentate. He became the state, the church, the conscience of the people. He styled himself the world's greatest genius in all fields. And the day after he died, his name was erased from memory. But Lenin still lives on, the embodiment of Bolshevism.

Fifty years is not a long period in history nor even in the existence of a political party. In a review of the 50th Anniversary issued by the Propaganda and Agitation Department and the Marx-Engels-Lenin-Stalin Institute, this appears:

"Our Party is the only party in the country. It undividedly exercises the leading role in Soviet society. Leadership by the Communist Party is the decisive condition for the firmness and unshakeability of the Soviet system and for all the successes of our people. . ."

Party Above Country

In fact, the party is put ahead of the country. It is supreme. In another part of this review of party history appears:

"The whole course of the half-century history of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union has shown the immense importance of the principles of Party leadership and norms of Party life worked out by Lenin. The Party teaches that it is imperatively necessary to carry out these laws of Party organization, strictly to adhere to the supreme principle of Party leadership, namely, collective leadership, and to the requirements of the Party Rules. . ."

Those who question the dicta of the Party are killed. This emphasis on rigid orthodoxy has produced a reactionary, autocratic, brutal resurrection of orientalism — a return to the world of Genghis Khan, to autocracy and the reduction of man to a thing.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. — More important than the current news of strikes, more important than the palaver about "thought control" and the loss of civil liberties, and more important than the outcry about "witch hunts" is the 20-year trend in America toward the Fascist concept of government control of the relations betweeen employers and employes. And yet a brief news item that tells of a pivotal development in that field of governmental activity got inconspicuous attention last Saturday, largely because its significance is not apparent on the surface.

The item, as reported by the United Press, said:

"Guy Farmer, Eisenhower-elected chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, fired his fourth-in-a-row dissent today against decisions handed down by holdover members. His action was taken to indicate the board will make a basic shift in interpreting the Taft-Hartley Labor-Management Law when the administration acquires a majority of the five seats on the National Labor Relations Board. This is expected soon.

"An NLRB source, noting Farmer's ruling said, 'This signals an important change in policy.' The change-over is expected as soon as President Eisenhower fills the one remaining board vacancy to give the Republicans a three-to-two majority."

The country would be shocked if it read a news item saying the Circuit Court of Appeals in a given area or perhaps the Supreme Court of the United States would change its decisions as soon as a new political party came into power. Yet that is the meaning which can be given to the prospective change in so-called judicial decisions by a Labor Relations Board which is expected soon to have a 3-to-2 Republican majority.

It is just as wrong for the Republicans to dominate the board as it was for the Democrats. The whole concept of government regulation of the minute details of employer-employe relations is illogical in a Democracy where individual freedom is supposed to be sacrosanct. The same fundamental mistake which was introduced by the Wagner Act and which has been retained in the Taft-Hartley Act has brought "a government of men and not of laws." Congress wrote into both laws certain vague phrases of regulation which the Labor Board has been interpreting in accordance with the ideological predilections of the board members.

The late President Roosevelt and his successor President Truman "packed" the Labor Board with a majority of partisans — this was the price the labor unions exacted in exchange for their contributions and support of the Democratic Party in political campaigns. Then the board went on to make rulings which have approximated the Fascism that Italy experienced under Mussolini. Freedom of speech, supposedly guaranteed to everybody by the constitution, was taken away from employers under the Wagner Act. They couldn't even assemble their employes in the shop and talk to them in free America about problems of mutual interest. The Taft-Hartley Act was intended to correct this, but now some pro-labor Senators are talking about going back to the stringent rule of the Wagner law.

One wonders how so-called "liberals" can justify their conspicuous silence on the infringement of freedom of speech which the Labor Board has perpetrated in its long line of decisions. One wonders how the coercion and intimidation so widely practiced by union organizers can be condoned as a "right" of trade unionism and as a corollary of compulsory collective bargaining. But that's what the Labor Board decisions for a long time upheld until some correctives came under the Taft-Hartley Act.

No Labor Board of transient membership is likely to win the respect of either employers or employes. If the Congress will prescribe legislative standards and write them clearly, with a minimum of regulation, the Federal courts are competent to interpret the meaning of the phrases in the law. Life-appointed judges on the Federal bench can do a better job of construing the law than can Labor Board members whose tenure nowadays coincides more or less with the term of the political party in power. Many cases have wound up in the Federal courts, anyway. Time would be saved and basic precedents more quickly established if the Labor Board became solely administrative and the courts alone dealt with the judicial problems arising under the law of labor-management relations.

On The Line

By BOB CONSIDINE

ALLENHURST, N. J.— (INS) — It was one of those endless "benefits," and it was a bother. But the man who asked the favor, man named Jim Oakes, is a nice guy. So off we went, my wife and I, a drive 30 or 40 miles, leaving behind indignant children and bewildered house guests.

It was for the Fitkin Hospital of Neptune, N. J. I had never heard of the Fitkin Hospital. I had never heard of Neptune, fine new world metropolis that it is.

The job was simple enough: The "arm" had been put on some cornered merchants and they had surrendered a considerable mound of merchandise. My job was to auction off the golf clubs in the loot.

Ever try to auction anything? Unless you're with Fasig-Tipton, who auction off one-year-old horseflesh at Saratoga, it is one of the greater ordelas of a man's life. Nobody gives a damn. You clear your throat at the start, apologetically, and realize from that moment it's all up hill. You hear yourself say, amid the roar of conversation, "I've got here the finest little set of golf clubs you all ever did see." But you know as you say it that they loathe golf with a passion. And you, too. So in time you say, "Really, these are fine clubs, and may I have an initial bid of—ah?"

You never know what to ask. Or what the lady in charge told you to ask. You have an unhappy feeling that this is all a dream, nightmare really, and that you have been rolled, somehow, and must seek alms to get the 12:01 home to Locustville, the 17-year-old resort by the sea. You've never begged before, so you don't know how to go about it. You expect to be hit in the kisser, and you are.

"Two dollars," shouts a lush, and everybody at this table falls dead with laughter. Fred Allen, Peter Lind Hayes, Peter Donald, Joe E. Lewis and all the masters of the ad lib never could hold a candle to this guy. You look around uneasily, and the lady who gave you your instructions says, with her eyes, "Ignore the bum and keep punching"

Weeks later, or so it seemed. A nice guy named Mitch May got the price up to a figure in keeping with the value of the shinny sticks, and another nice guy bought them, fortunately outbidding my wife, who temporarily deranged, had been bidding just to keep the thing from flopping.

Anyway, it was kind of an ordeal. Driving home, we commented a bit bitterly on "benefits," and neither of us could remember the name of the hospital that was the beneficiary of our feeble little effort.

The very next evening a kid of ours named Dennis jumped out of a low window of an abandoned place in Allenhurst, during some sort of game of follow-the-leader. He landed in a clump of underbrush. In the underbrush was a jagged tree stump. The stump impaled him momentarily, carving a terrible piece out of his left thigh, exposing the battered muscle.

The lad walked home on it and asked us not to look at it. As I held him in my arms my wife called a doctor named Miles Winder, who used to work on the wounded of the 12th Air Force. He listened briefly to a description of the wound and said he would meet us at the hospital as soon as we could get Dennis there.

We raced him up to Main Street, turned left, and in time there was a little sign that said we were in Neptune, N. J., then there was this fine hospital, and it was Fitkin Hospital. I carried Dennis in, and in a few minutes he had been given preliminary treatment, a series of shots, and drowsily was being wheeled into the operating room.

He was in there 45 minutes and he was "out" for what seemed a terrible long time after that. But at last the doctor appeared and he said that the boy would be all right, that there would be no limp, no infection, no nothing except complete recovery.

"What a bum thing to happen on a Sunday," Dennis said, when he could speak.

We thought so, too, driving home late that night. We thought also that never, never, never again, as long as we lived, would we ever feel that we had been imposed upon by being asked to appear at a "benefit."

Furred, feathered and jeweled fantasies go to feminine heads most glamorously!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

You can yield to your yen for elegance this season knowing that you will be right in the height of fashion.

This trend to th- fastidiously luxurious places more and more emphasis on the dressy hat and on all occasions but those that require strictly tailored appearance, the smartest heads will be shimmering and scintillating.

Iridescent beads, steel cut jets, gunmetal and bronze beads add the touch of elegance in a new way this fall on matching satin or panne hats. Pearls and crystal beading add the lustrous touch to soft delicate white, pink and blue cocktail hats, often of exquisitely manipulated kid or suede.

In jersey, velour and felt, large hats such as bretons, sailors and mushroom shapes take to jeweled effects as well.

For dressy afternoon occasions, there are hats trimmed with sleek, satiny fringe.

Another expression of the luxury look is found in a collection of mink, leopard, ocelot, black fox, broadtail, ermine or persian hats that have matching snap-on collars which can be worn attractively over a suit, costume dress or collarless coat.

Some of the most sophisticated shapes are adorned with new interpretations of flowers or petals, combining two fabrics in either contrasting or monotone colors. Tiny silken roses, often with hand-rolled edges or outlined with small, rounded iridescent braid, add exquisite and dainty detail.

Feathers fascinate in almost endless motifs. There are bandeaux of white swan, marabou and curled pheasant. Pigeon minoches are interlaced on toques in yellow, amber and black. Wings are grouped into patterned shapes. And the all-feather fantasies lend endless flattery to the feminine face.

Cocktail hats are blossoming into importance. So perfect are they as a finish for the ultra-simple line of today's clothes, so very feminine in their interpretation, that after trying on a few you are sure to conclude that it's time to let a little glitter go to your head!

Oldtown Toll Bridge Owner Cites Funeral Cortege Case

M. R. Carpenter, Oldtown, owner of the bridge across the Potomac River between Oldtown and Green Spring, has issued a statement in clarification of the charge of a toll on the funeral cortege last Thursday of Sgt. First Class Paul V. Carder, Oldtown, who died June 13 in Korea of wounds suffered in action.

The statement follows:

"I have a statement signed by Mr. A. C. Ruckman, funeral director of Thrush's Funeral Home at Romney, W. Va., that he paid toll for the hearse and funeral car as part of the funeral expenses and that the total expense was paid by the Federal Government.

"Incidentally, the toll collected from him amounted to .17½ for each vehicle-crossing or a total of .70 for four crossings. It is my understanding that the law does not permit us to discriminate in making charges anymore than it would permit arilroads to do so.

"A very large per cent of the cars crossing our bridge are on cheap monthly rates and the average cost to the drivers is less than five cents per trip.

"I regret the death of Sgt. Carder in Korea as much as anyone, and if a collection should be taken for his widow, I would appreciate the privilege of contributing to it."

Local veterans' organizations participating in the funeral as an honor guard first reported payment of the toll, but were under the impression that the serviceman who escorted the body had to pay the charges out of his own pocket.

A native of Creccio, Italy, she lived in Cumberland the past 40 years. Her parents were the late James and JoAnn Balsioli. She was preceded in death by her husband, Donald Ballarion.

Besides her daughter, she is survived by a son, Anthony J. Ballarion, Clairton, Pa.; a sister, Loretta D'Alesandro, Italy, and four grandchildren.

The body will remain at Scarpelli Funeral Home.

The rosary will be recited today at 7:30 p. m. A requiem mass will be celebrated on Friday at 9 a. m. in St. Mary's Catholic Church with interment in the parish cemetery.

BRODE INFANT

Robin Jeanne Brode, one-week-old daughter of Walter S. and Gloria Jeanne (Null) Brode, 3 Cardinal Road, Essex, died Monday night in University Hospital, Baltimore. The parents are former residents of Cumberland.

Survivors include a sister, Gayle Lynne, and a brother, Gregory Scott Brode, at home, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brode, 28 Race Street, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer A. Null, 120 Seymore Street.

The body is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Null where a short service will be held today at 2 p. m. with Rev. C. K. Welch, pastor of Bethany Evangelical United Brethren Church, officiating.

Interment will be in Madley, Pa., Cemetery.

Ray Edward Arnold, a native of Elk Garden, W. Va., and former barber here, died suddenly yesterday evening in Wheeling, W.Va. He was 60.

Mr. Arnold resided at 189 16th Street in Wheeling. He was born in Elk Garden on August 27, 1893 and was a son of the late Charles and Anna LaVelle Arnold.

He was employed as a barber here up until about a year ago. Surviving are an aunt Adele Butler, Wheeling; and an uncle, Charles LaVelle, Cumberland.

The body is a Bertschy Mortuary and will be taken to the Jones Funeral Home in Fairmont, W.Va., for a funeral on Saturday at 2 p. m.

Interment will be in Maple Grove Cemetery, Fairmont.

RIDGWAY SERVICE

A funeral service for Mrs. Eleanor Humbird Ridgway, 71, wife of Andrew A. Ridgway, who died on Saturday, was held yesterday afternoon at George Funeral Home with Rev. Dr. H. Hall Sharp, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, officiating.

Interment was in Greenmount Cemetery. Pallbearers were Eugene Brant, Marvin Kaplon, William Knotts, George Smith, Howard McIntyre and George Russell.

Emus are hard to shoot because they run at about 35 miles an hour and their heavy, feathered hides often turn bullets.

Country Club Plans Weekend Entertainment

The Cumberland Country Club will conclude its summer season with special Labor Day Weekend activities. A full program of entertainment has been arranged. It includes a visit by Paul Hahn, world famous trick shot artist, a semi-formal dance, special buffet supper and second annual Hole-in-One contest.

Saturday evening there is to be the semi-formal dance with music by Brad Hunt's orchestra playing from 10 until 1 o'clock. A dinner will precede the dance.

Sunday evening there will be the buffet supper. Reservations are to be made by noon Sunday.

JAYNE'S P-W tablets KILL PIN-WORMS
(You may have them and not know it)
Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.
To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ... and here's how they do it:
First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.
Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

County School Post Given Naval Officer

Lt. Frederick M. McCutchen, Bainbridge Naval Training Center, is the successor of Dr. Ralph E. Kessler as supervisor of special education for the Allegany County Board of Education.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, who announced the selection yesterday morning, said Lt. McCutchen is on duty with the Navy and expects to be released within two weeks.

McCutchen is current director of biological and chemical warfare defense training program at the Naval Training Center.

Called Into Service

He was called to duty with the Navy at the outbreak of the Korean War. For the past 36 months he has been training aids officer for the Fourth Naval District.

During the last 18 months, he also has been classroom control officer of the academic department of the Bainbridge Naval Training Center. This involved the supervision of instruction for the 450 teachers and 18,000 student-sailors.

This is McCutchen's second tour of duty with the Navy, having seen service in World War II.

He received his bachelor of science degree from State Teachers College at Bloomsburg, Pa.; and his master's degree from Pennsylvania State College. He also did graduate work at Bloomsburg.

His instructional posts include arts, crafts and recreation teacher at Mt. Alto Children's Hospital, South Mountain, Pa.; the same position at New York Orthopedic Hospital, White Plains; instructor of special education for the mentally retarded at Bethony Orphanage, Womelsdorf, Pa.; special education instructor, Hershey, Pa., High School and special education instructor for mentally retarded students at Bala Cynwyd Junior High School, Philadelphia.

In 1950 McCutchen served as president of the Pennsylvania Conference of Education of Exceptional Children.

McCutchen replaces Kessler who accepted a position in Baltimore County school system.

Draws Jail Term

$500 Fair Premium Money Uncollected

Miss Leona M. Phillips, premium clerk for the Cumberland Fair, reports that she still has some $500 in fair premium money which she would like to distribute to those entitled to it.

Premium money was supposed to have been collected at Fairgo last Saturday, the day the fair ended. Those who have not obtained money to which they are entitled are asked to come to the office of County Agent R. F. McHenry at the Court House between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. before Friday. Miss Phillips is McHenry's secretary.

County School Post Given Naval Officer

Lt. Frederick M. McCutchen, Bainbridge Naval Training Center, is the successor of Dr. Ralph E. Kessler as supervisor of special education for the Allegany County Board of Education.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, who announced the selection yesterday morning, said Lt. McCutchen is on duty with the Navy and expects to be released within two weeks.

McCutchen is current director of biological and chemical warfare defense training program at the Naval Training Center.

Called Into Service

He was called to duty with the Navy at the outbreak of the Korean War. For the past 36 months he has been training aids officer for the Fourth Naval District.

During the last 18 months, he also has been classroom control officer of the academic department of the Bainbridge Naval Training Center. This involved the supervision of instruction for the 450 teachers and 18,000 student-sailors.

This is McCutchen's second tour of duty with the Navy, having seen service in World War II.

He received his bachelor of science degree from State Teachers College at Bloomsburg, Pa.; and his master's degree from Pennsylvania State College. He also did graduate work at Bloomsburg.

His instructional posts include arts, crafts and recreation teacher at Mt. Alto Children's Hospital, South Mountain, Pa.; the same position at New York Orthopedic Hospital, White Plains; instructor of special education for the mentally retarded at Bethony Orphanage, Womelsdorf, Pa.; special education instructor, Hershey, Pa., High School and special education instructor for mentally retarded students at Bala Cynwyd Junior High School, Philadelphia.

In 1950 McCutchen served as president of the Pennsylvania Conference of Education of Exceptional Children.

McCutchen replaces Kessler who accepted a position in Baltimore County school system.

Draws Jail Term

$500 Fair Premium Money Uncollected

Miss Leona M. Phillips, premium clerk for the Cumberland Fair, reports that she still has some $500 in fair premium money which she would like to distribute to those entitled to it.

Premium money was supposed to have been collected at Fairgo last Saturday, the day the fair ended. Those who have not obtained money to which they are entitled are asked to come to the office of County Agent R. F. McHenry at the Court House between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. before Friday. Miss Phillips is McHenry's secretary.

Will Attend Meeting

Mayor Roy W. Eves will attend a meeting of the Legislative committee of the Maryland Municipal League in the Emerson Hotel, Baltimore, Thursday.

Reds Release Sgt. James A. Alt Of Petersburg, W. Va.

27-Year-Old GI POW 32 Months

Sgt. James A. Alt, 27-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Alt, Petersburg, W. Va., was the first American soldier returned yesterday in 29th day of exchange of prisoners in Korea.

Alt was among the three truckloads of apparently healthy prisoners of war returned from Red prison camps. He had been a prisoner of the Chinese Reds since December 2, 1950.

His parents and two brothers, Charles and Joseph, Jr., were at home when the glad tidings were announced over the radio. Besides his two brothers James has two sisters, Mrs. Nellie Keplinger of Petersburg and Mrs. Anna Vance, Dorcas, W. Va.

Noticeably happy over the return of their son Mr. and Mrs. Alt said last night they had made no plans or given no thought of how they would greet their son upon his return home after almost five years absence.

Enlisting in the Army in December of 1948 Sgt. Alt was sent overseas in April of 1949. He was captured during the fierce fighting near the Yalu River in December of 1950 just after the Chinese Reds entered the Korean conflict.

His brother Charles said last night the family had received several letters from James during his confinement and that he had been held in Camp No. 1 of the Reds for some time. His last letter was dated in April of this year, stating his treatment had been better of late and that his food was improved.

Sgt. Alt told his family at all times that he was feeling fine and was in good health. It was Alt's first enlistment, the youth being 22 years old when he entered the service.

The Alt family has resided in Petersburg since 1930. The senior Alt is a carpenter.

Health Department Schedules Clinics

The Health Department has scheduled seven clinics this week.

Child hygiene conferences will be held today at 9:15 a. m. in Westernport, Thursday at 10 a. m. in Corriganville and Friday at 9:30 a. m. in Bowman's Addition and 10 a. m. in Mt. Savage.

At City Hall, a prenatal clinic will be held today, a pediatric clinic Thursday and a chest clinic Friday. All are from 9 a. m. to noon.

Mrs. G. M. Smith Heads Women's Golf Group

Mrs. G. Morgan Smith was elected chairman. Members of her board are Mrs. W. Royce Hodges, Mrs. Frederic W. Eiler, Mrs. Fuller Whitworth, Mrs. Edgar Vandegrift, Mrs. Edward Ryan and Mrs. James E. Truka.

October 25 was set for the final dinner-meeting of the association. Prizes for the fall tournament and awards for the season will be made at this time.

Car Is Damaged

Central firemen extinguished a fire which destroyed the wiring in a 1948 model car in a parking lot on North George Street yesterday, answering the alarm at 6:12 p. m. and returning at 6:30.

has advised the Street Department that the lien method should not be used where improvements are of a temporary nature.

A petition prepared for residents of Forster Avenue points out that for years the city has been reshaping and placing a dust preventive on the road and that the residents desire a higher and more permanent type of surface treatment.

It asks that the Street Department do the following:

Patch all holes in the street and prime the surface with .2 gallons of asphalt per square foot.

Spread 30 to 40 pounds of ¾ inch chips on each yard of surface.

FBI Chief Says Population Trends Could Produce Major Crime Wave

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today the nation's current population trends could produce a crime wave of unprecedented proportions.

Hoover based his theory on the records number of young people "approaching the crime-committing age" and the simultaneous increase in aged citizens, 65 or older, who figure frequently as victims of assault, robberies and murder.

Writing in the September issue of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, circulated among peace officers throughout the country, Hoover said:

"During the period from 1940 to 1950 the nation experienced an unusually high birth rate. In 1940 there was a total of 21,226,146 children nine years of age and under: by 1950 there were 29,565,000 children in that same age group, an increase of approximately 39 per cent.

"The first wave in this flood tide of new citizens born between 1940 and 1950 has just this year reached the 'teenage', the period in which some of them will inevitably incline toward juvenile delinquency and later a full-fledge criminal career. If these children eventually commit crimes at the same rate as that at which criminal offenses are now being committed by their elders, it can be accurately predicted that the nation will soon be confronted with a crime wave of greater overall proportions than anything known heretofore.

"The second development converging into this potential criminal problem is the fact that improved living conditions and better medical science have brought a simultaneous uptrend in the total number of elder citizens and an increase in the proportion which they bear to the population as a whole.

"These are the people who are most vulnerable to almost every type of crime involving an attack on either a person or property. Thus, the number of potential victims increases simultaneously with an increase in the number of potential offenders.

"Window" In Shirt Answer Scar Query

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 1 (AP) — When Bob Massey flings open his coat he becomes the biggest show at the International Harvester works here.

It began while he was recuperating from a gall bladder operation.

He cut a square from a transparent bag and Mrs. Massey sewed it in a shirt.

The question came and he threw open his coat.

"Here, see for yourself," he said.

Peeking out through the "window" of his shirt was the scar.

The show is still going on.

O'Dwyer's Ex-Wife Has No Present Plans To Remarry

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Sloan Simpson, divorced wife of New York's former Mayor William O'Dwyer, said today she has no present plans to remarry.

"No," she replied to newsmen as she arrived from Europe aboard the liner America. "I have no plans to do anything of the sort."

Her name has been linked with various men friends since her civil divorce in Mexico from O'Dwyer, former U. S. ambassador to that nation.

The attractive former model referred to herself as Mrs. Simpson, since in the eyes of Mexican civil law she is divorced. However, she is seeking a Roman Catholic church annulment of her marriage in addition to the civil divorce. A church hearing on the matter is set for Sept. 15. An annulment would free her to remarry in the church, if she wished.

FBI Chief Says Population Trends Could Produce Major Crime Wave

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today the nation's current population trends could produce a crime wave of unprecedented proportions.

Hoover based his theory on the records number of young people "approaching the crime-committing age" and the simultaneous increase in aged citizens, 65 or older, who figure frequently as victims of assault, robberies and murder.

Writing in the September issue of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, circulated among peace officers throughout the country, Hoover said:

"During the period from 1940 to 1950 the nation experienced an unusually high birth rate. In 1940 there was a total of 21,226,146 children nine years of age and under: by 1950 there were 29,565,000 children in that same age group, an increase of approximately 39 per cent.

"The first wave in this flood tide of new citizens born between 1940 and 1950 has just this year reached the 'teenage', the period in which some of them will inevitably incline toward juvenile delinquency and later a full-fledge criminal career. If these children eventually commit crimes at the same rate as that at which criminal offenses are now being committed by their elders, it can be accurately predicted that the nation will soon be confronted with a crime wave of greater overall proportions than anything known heretofore.

"The second development converging into this potential criminal problem is the fact that improved living conditions and better medical science have brought a simultaneous uptrend in the total number of elder citizens and an increase in the proportion which they bear to the population as a whole.

"These are the people who are most vulnerable to almost every type of crime involving an attack on either a person or property. Thus, the number of potential victims increases simultaneously with an increase in the number of potential offenders.

"Window" In Shirt Answer Scar Query

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 1 (AP) — When Bob Massey flings open his coat he becomes the biggest show at the International Harvester works here.

It began while he was recuperating from a gall bladder operation.

He cut a square from a transparent bag and Mrs. Massey sewed it in a shirt.

Yesterday Massey returned to work wearing a coat and awaited the question "How's your scar?"

The question came and he threw open his coat.

"Here, see for yourself," he said.

Peeking out through the "window" of his shirt was the scar.

O'Dwyer's Ex-Wife Has No Present Plans To Remarry

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Sloan Simpson, divorced wife of New York's former Mayor William O'Dwyer, said today she has no present plans to remarry.

"No," she replied to newsmen as she arrived from Europe aboard the liner America. "I have no plans to do anything of the sort."

Her name has been linked with various men friends since her civil divorce in Mexico from O'Dwyer, former U. S. ambassador to that nation.

The attractive former model referred to herself as Mrs. Simpson, since in the eyes of Mexican civil law she is divorced. However, she is seeking a Roman Catholic church annulment of her marriage in addition to the civil divorce. A church hearing on the matter is set for Sept. 15. An annulment would free her to remarry in the church, if she wished.

National League Hitters Set Sights On New Homer Record

Senior Circuit Needs 82 Belts To Beat 1,100

Latter Mark Was Set In 1950; Brooklyn Sets Pace With 180

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—National League hitters, aiming for the fences all season, now are setting their sights on a new league record for home runs.

Statistics compiled by The Associated Press disclose that with a month remaining National League batsmen have found the range for 1,019 four-baggers, surpassing last season's total of 907. The National League record for home runs in a season is 1,100 set in 1950.

The American League, although not as productive as the National League, has accounted for 750 round-trippers as compared to last year's figure of 794. Records include Monday's games.

Dodgers Hit 180

The league - leading Brooklyn Dodgers, who have topped the National League in home run output for four straight seasons, once again are showing the way with 180. The Dodgers should be able to better their club record of 194, which they established in 1950. The major league mark is 221, held by the New York Giants of 1947.

The Giants and the Cincinnati Redlegs trail Brooklyn in the home run standings with 151 each. Cincinnati already has exceeded the club's previous high of 110, made in 1938. The St. Louis Cards, with 115 circuit clouts, going into September, broke their club record of 119, set in 1940, with five today.

The Cleveland Indians are setting the pace in the American League home run parade with 133, followed by the New York Yankees with 120. Cleveland has led or tied the American League in homers for the past three seasons. The Indians hit the most home runs in 1950 and 1952 and shared honors with the Yanks in 1951. The league record is 182 by the Yanks in 1936.

Season Output Is 1,769

All told both leagues have combined for 1,769 home runs this season as compared to 1,701 in 1952. The record for both leagues is 2,073, set in 1950.

Brooks Pass 90 Mark 11th Time

Cards' 120 Hits Is All-Time High

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Eleven was Brooklyn's lucky number today as the Dodgers beat the St. Louis Cardinals 12-5.

The victory was the Dodgers' 91st of the season, marking the 11th year in the history of the club that they have won more than 90.

The Dodgers stretched their league lead to 11 full games over the idle Milwaukee Braves.

And the 17 hit Brooklyn attack included 11 singles.

The Cards lost despite five home runs—all off Preacher Roe. That's one short of the record for a pitcher in one game and the blows ran the Cards' total for the year to 120, an all time high for the club. Steve Bilko hit two and Stan Musial, Rip Repulski and Harry Elliott one each.

45,003 See Yanks Beat Chisox, 3-2

CHICAGO, Sept. 1 (AP) — Whitey Ford and Johnny Sain combined to deny Fireballer Virgil Trucks his 19th victory of the season tonight as the New York Yankees beat their fading challengers, the Chicago White Sox, 3-2.

The win, witnessed by 45,003, gave the Yanks a 9½ game bulge on the runnerup Sox—an all-but-statistically-impossible lead to overcome in the waning 1953 American League pennant chase.

A dazzling "surprise" single by Phil Rizzuto in the fourth inning knocked in the Yanks' first two runs and Mickey Mantle added the clincher in the seventh with his 17th home run of the season.

SCORES ACE—Mrs. G. William Bibby jumped the gun on the Cumberland Country Club's annual hole-in-one contest, scheduled for Labor Day, when she carded an ace yesterday on No. 10 with a No. 6 iron. The contest next week is scheduled for the 140-yard No. 10 hole. Mrs. Bibby's ace was the third recorded at the CCC this year. Dr. Frank T .Cawley made one on No. 18 and John Baggett got his on No. 10. It was the first in the long golfing career of Mrs. Bibby who was playing in a threesome with Mrs. W. Royce Hodges and Mrs. Gordon L. Bowie.

Giants Nose Out Chicago In 8th

Kiner Wallops 29th Homer In 10-9 Loss

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Dusty Rhodes scampered home from third on Tookie Gilbert's long fly to Hank Sauer in the last half of the eighth inning today to give the New York Giants a 10-9 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Rhodes was walked by relief pitcher Johnny Klippstein to start the inning and moved to third when Dee Fondy, Cub first baseman, threw the ball into right field on Daryl Spencer's attempted sacrifice.

Rhodes also belted a home run with one on in the third. Roy Smalley, Bubba Church and Ralph Kiner all hit homers for the Cubs. The blast was Kiner's 29th but his first since Aug. 8

The Giants played without first baseman Whitey Lockman, ill with a stomach malady, and without third baseman Henry Thompson, still in the hospital after being hit on the head by a ball yesterday.

Roe Serves Five Home Run Balls As Dodgers Win

Trounce Cards, 12-5, Take 11-Game Lead

BROOKLYN, Sept. 1 (AP)—Preacher Roe threw five home run balls, one short of the record, but still coasted to a 12-5 victory today as the Brooklyn Dodgers made it 11 straight without defeat against the St. Louis Cardinals in Ebbets Field this year. It was their final meeting here this season.

The triumph boosted the Dodgers' National League lead over the idle Milwaukee Braves to 11 games.

The Dodgers pounded five Cardinal hurlers for 17 hits but, strangely enough, there wasn't a home run in the lot. After blasting 18 home runs in their previous seven games, the Brooklyn arsenal was limited to six doubles and 11 singles.

Jackie Robinson and Peewee Reese paced the Dodger attack with four hits apiece. Carl Furillo and Gil Hodges had three each. Duke Snider extended his consecutive hitting streak through 15 games. Robinson and Hodges batted in three runs each. Reese scored four times and Robinson three.

Roe permitted four singles in addition to the five home runs, each of the four-baggers coming with nobody on base. Steve Bilko hit his 18th and 19th of the year, Stan Musial cracked his 21st. Rip Repulski hit his 15th and rookie Harry Elliott hit his first.

The victory was the ninth in succession for Roe, giving him a season record of 10 triumphs against two defeats.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Sept. 1 (AP)—A. W. (Bud) Cook of Logan, W. Va. and former West Virginia Governor Clarence W. Meadows of Charleston qualified today for the National Amateur Golf tournament.

They topped a comparatively small field of 10 entrants in sectional play over the Guyan Country Club course. Cook posted rounds of 73-74—147 for the par 72, 6,260 yard layout, and Meadows finished with 75-74—149.

Gardner Mulloy And Mo Connolly Score Net Wins

Clark Conquers Perry In National Singles

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Veteran Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, the third-seeded American star, reached the third round of the national tennis championships today with a routine 6-2, 6-3, 6-1 victory over one of the supporting players, Richard C. Squires of Bronxville, N. Y.

The 39-year-old Mulloy, who was defeated in last year's final by Frank Sedgman of Australia, took things easy in the oppressive heat and seldom was forced to leave the baseline against his much younger opponent.

Maureen Connolly, the defending women's champion, streaked through her second-round match with Patricia Stewart of Indianapolis, 6-3, 6-1. The little slugger from San Diego appeared to be in a trance at the start, when she dropped her opening service and fell behind 3-1, but from there on it was no contest.

The No. 1 foreign women player, Mrs. Thelma Long of Australia, also scored an easy second-round victory over Mrs. Dorothy Levine of Chicago, 6-2, 6-2.

Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., the current intercollegiate champion, had a hot and heavy workout in the stadium before he progressed to the third round at the expense of Hugh Stewart, a big ex-GI from Pasadena, by scores of 6-1, 9-7, 3-6, 6-1.

Bob Perry of Los Angeles, who is widely considered to be the brightest young star in Uncle Sam's tennis crown, disappointed his backers again today when he succumbed to Straight Clark of Pasadena 6-4, 6-3, 1-6, 7-5 in the feature second round match.

Although the 20-year-old U. C. L. A. student was unseeded while his opponent sported a No. 6 rating on the American list, his supporters had confidently expected him to win and clinch himself a berth on this year's Davis Cup expedition to Australia. As late as the fourth set they still thought he would, but Clark had other plans.

In another women's singles, Mrs. Margaret Osborne duPont, Wilmington, Del., defeated Belmar Gunderson, Arlington, Va., 6-0, 6-1.

Baltimore Bullets Get Leo Barnhorst

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1 (AP) — The Baltimore Bullets of the National Basketball Association today announced the signing of Leo Barnhorst, former Notre Dame star obtained from the Indianapolis Olympians.

The Bullets said the 6-5 guard was Coach Clair Bee's top choice among Olympians available to the club. Indianapolis will not operate this year in the NBA.

He played one season with Chicago and three with Indianapolis after graduating from Notre Dame and had a 13.6 average for the Olympians last year.

Three Are Released By Baltimore Colts

WESTMINSTER, Sept. 1 (AP) — Coach Keith Molesworth trimmed three more players from the Baltimore Colts squad today leaving the roster seven over the National Football league playing limit of 33.

Waivers went out on quarterback Bill Mackrides, Guard Bill Athey and Halfback George Sims. Mackrides and Sims are NFL veterans.

Tigers Beat A's

DETROIT, Sept. 1 (AP)—Ray Herbert, a big disappointment all season, turned in a sparkling relief job today as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 7-5.

The 22-year-old righthander, who had a fat earned run average of 5.56, replaced a battered and tired Ned Garver in the fifth inning and held the A's to one run and three hits in the last five innings.

Gus Zernial had clubbed Garver for his 36th and 37th home runs to pass Cleveland's Al Rosen in the American League homer derby. Rosen hit his 36th today as Cleveland trounced Boston.

Mrs. Cooper Is Victor In Best Nine Tourney

Mrs. Leonard Cooper won the best nine tournament staged by the Women's Golf Association of the Cumberland Country Club by posting a net 29 yesterday to lead a field of twenty players.

Mrs. Cooper had a best nine of 48 with a half handicap of 19.

The putting contest was won by Mrs. Fuller B. Whitworth who made 28 putts for the 18 holes.

Mrs. William Carscaden defeated Mrs. Monroe Sharer, 8 to 7, in the third round of the fall golf tournament. In a first round consolation match, Mrs. Fuller B. Whitworth was returned the winner over Mrs. Richard Trevaskis, 2 and 1.

National League Hitters Set Sights On New Homer Record

Latter Mark Was Set In 1950; Brooklyn Sets Pace With 180

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—National League hitters, aiming for the fences all season, now are setting their sights on a new league record for home runs.

Statistics compiled by The Associated Press disclose that with a month remaining National League batsmen have found the range for 1,019 four-baggers, surpassing last season's total of 907. The National League record for home runs in a season is 1,109 set in 1950.

The American League, although not as productive as the National League, has accounted for 750 round-trippers as compared to last year's figure of 794. Records include Monday's games.

Dodgers Hit 180

The league - leading Brooklyn Dodgers, who have topped the National League in home run output for four straight seasons, once again are showing the way with 180. The Dodgers should be able to better their club record of 194, which they established in 1950. The major league mark is 221, held by the New York Giants of 1947.

The Giants and the Cincinnati Redlegs trail Brooklyn in the home run standings with 151 each. Cincinnati already has exceeded the club's previous high of 110, made in 1938. The St. Louis Cards, with 115 circuit clouts, going into September, broke their club record of 119, set in 1940, with five today.

The Cleveland Indians are setting the pace in the American League home run parade with 133, followed by the New York Yankees with 120. Cleveland has led or tied the American League in homers for the past three seasons. The Indians hit the most home runs in 1950 and 1952 and shared honors with the Yanks in 1951. The league record is 182 by the Yanks in 1936.

Season Output Is 1,769

All told both leagues have combined for 1,769 home runs this season as compared to 1,701 in 1952. The record for both leagues is 2,073, set in 1950.

Brooks Pass 90 Mark 11th Time

Cards' 120 Hits Is All-Time High

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Eleven was Brooklyn's lucky number today as the Dodgers beat the St. Louis Cardinals 12-5.

The victory was the Dodgers' 91st of the season, marking the 11th year in the history of the club that they have won more than 90.

The Dodgers stretched their league lead to 11 full games over the idle Milwaukee Braves.

It was the 11th straight triumph over the Cardinals in Ebbets Field this year.

And the 17 hit Brooklyn attack included 11 singles.

The Cards lost despite five home runs—all off Preacher Roe. That's one short of the record for a pitcher in one game and the blows ran the Cards' total for the year to 120, an all time high for the club. Steve Bilko hit two and Stan Musial, Rip Repulski and Harry Elliott one each.

45,003 See Yanks Beat Chisox, 3-2

CHICAGO, Sept. 1 (AP) — Whitey Ford and Johnny Sain combined to deny Fireballer Virgil Trucks his 19th victory of the season tonight as the New York Yankees beat their fading challengers, the Chicago White Sox, 3-2.

The win, witnessed by 45,003, gave the Yanks a 9½ game bulge on the runnerup Sox—an all-but-statistically-impossible lead to overcome in the waning 1953 American League pennant chase.

A dazzling "surprise" single by Phil Rizzuto in the fourth inning knocked in the Yanks' first two runs and Mickey Mantle added the clincher in the seventh with his 17th home run of the season.

SCORES ACE—Mrs. G. William Bibby jumped the gun on the Cumberland Country Club's annual hole-in-one contest, scheduled for Labor Day, when she carded an ace yesterday on No. 10 with a No. 6 iron. The contest next week is scheduled for the 140-yard No. 10 hole. Mrs. Bibby's ace was the third recorded at the CCC this year. Dr. Frank T .Cawley made one on No. 18 and John Baggett got his on No. 10. It was the first in the long golfing career of Mrs. Bibby who was playing in a threesome with Mrs. W. Royce Hodges and Mrs. Gordon L. Bowie.

Kiner Wallops 29th Homer In 10-9 Loss

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Dusty Rhodes scampered home from third on Tookie Gilbert's long fly to Hank Sauer in the last half of the eighth inning today to give the New York Giants a 10-9 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Rhodes was walked by relief pitcher Johnny Klippstein to start the inning and moved to third when Dee Fondy, Cub first baseman, threw the ball into right field on Daryl Spencer's attempted sacrifice.

Rhodes also belted a home run with one on in the third. Roy Smalley, Bubba Church and Ralph Kiner all hit homers for the Cubs. The blast was Kiner's 29th but his first since Aug. 8

The Giants played without first baseman Whitey Lockman, ill with a stomach malady, and without third baseman Henry Thompson, still in the hospital after being hit on the head by a ball yesterday.

Roe Serves Five Home Run Balls As Dodgers Win

Trounce Cards, 12-5, Take 11-Game Lead

BROOKLYN, Sept. 1 (AP)—Preacher Roe threw five home run balls, one short of the record, but still coasted to a 12-5 victory today as the Brooklyn Dodgers made it 11 straight without defeat against the St. Louis Cardinals in Ebbets Field this year. It was their final meeting here this season.

The triumph boosted the Dodgers' National League lead over the idle Milwaukee Braves to 11 games.

The Dodgers pounded five Cardinal hurlers for 17 hits but, strangely enough, there wasn't a home run in the lot. After blasting 18 home runs in their previous seven games, the Brooklyn arsenal was limited to six doubles and 11 singles.

Jackie Robinson and Peewee Reese paced the Dodger attack with four hits apiece. Carl Furillo and Gil Hodges had three each. Duke Snider extended his consecutive hitting streak through 15 games. Robinson and Hodges batted in three runs each. Reese scored four times and Robinson three.

Roe permitted four singles in addition to the five home runs, each of the four-baggers coming with nobody on base. Steve Bilko hit his 18th and 19th of the year, Stan Musial cracked his 21st. Rip Repulski hit his 15th and rookie Harry Elliott hit his first.

The victory was the ninth in succession for Roe, giving him a season record of 10 triumphs against two defeats.

Former W. Va. Governor Qualifies For Amateur

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Sept. 1 (AP)—A. W. (Bud) Cook of Logan, W. Va. and former West Virginia Governor Clarence W. Meadows of Charleston qualified today for the National Amateur Golf tournament.

They topped a comparatively small field of 10 entrants in sectional play over the Guyan Country Club course. Cook posted rounds of 73-74—147 for the par 72, 6,260 yard layout, and Meadows finished with 75-74—149.

Gardner Mulloy And Mo Connolly Score Net Wins

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Veteran Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, the third-seeded American star, reached the third round of the national tennis championships today with a routine 6-2, 6-3, 6-1 victory over one of the supporting players, Richard C. Squires of Bronxville, N. Y.

The 39-year-old Mulloy, who was defeated in last year's final by Frank Sedgman of Australia, took things easy in the oppressive heat and seldom was forced to leave the baseline against his much younger opponent.

Maureen Connolly, the defending women's champion, streaked through her second-round match with Patricia Stewart of Indianapolis, 6-3, 6-1. The little slugger from San Diego appeared to be in a trance at the start, when she dropped her opening service and fell behind 3-1, but from there on it was no contest.

The No. 1 foreign women player, Mrs. Thelma Long of Australia, also scored an easy second-round victory over Mrs. Dorothy Levine of Chicago, 6-2, 6-2.

Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., the current intercollegiate champion, had a hot and heavy workout in the stadium before he progressed to the third round at the expense of Hugh Stewart, a big ex-GI from Pasadena, by scores of 6-1, 9-7, 3-6, 6-1.

Bob Perry of Los Angeles, who is widely considered to be the brightest young star in Uncle Sam's tennis crown, disappointed his backers again today when he succumbed to Straight Clark of Pasadena 6-4, 6-3, 1-6, 7-5 in the feature second round match.

Although the 20-year-old U. C. L. A. student was unseeded while his opponent sported a No. 6 rating on the American list, his supporters had confidently expected him to win and clinch himself a berth on this year's Davis Cup expedition to Australia. As late as the fourth set they still thought he would, but Clark had other plans.

In another women's singles, Mrs. Margaret Osborne duPont, Wilmington, Del., defeated Belmar Gunderson, Arlington, Va., 6-0, 6-1.

Baltimore Bullets Get Leo Barnhorst

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1 (AP) — The Baltimore Bullets of the National Basketball Association today announced the signing of Leo Barnhorst, former Notre Dame star obtained from the Indianapolis Olympians.

The Bullets said the 6-5 guard was Coach Clair Bee's top choice among Olympians available to the club. Indianapolis will not operate this year in the NBA.

He played one season with Chicago and three with Indianapolis after graduating from Notre Dame and had a 13.6 average for the Olympians last year.

Three Are Released By Baltimore Colts

WESTMINSTER, Sept. 1 (AP) — Coach Keith Molesworth trimmed three more players from the Baltimore Colts squad today leaving the roster seven over the National Football league playing limit of 33.

Waivers went out on quarterback Bill Mackrides, Guard Bill Athey and Halfback George Sims. Mackrides and Sims are NFL veterans.

Tigers Beat A's

DETROIT, Sept. 1 (AP)—Ray Herbert, a big disappointment all season, turned in a sparkling relief job today as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 7-5.

The 22-year-old righthander, who had a fat earned run average of 5.56, replaced a battered and tired Ned Garver in the fifth inning and held the A's to one run and three hits in the last five innings.

Gus Zernial had clubbed Garver for his 36th and 37th home runs to pass Cleveland's Al Rosen in the American League homer derby. Rosen hit his 36th today as Cleveland trounced Boston.

Mrs. Cooper Is Victor In Best Nine Tourney

Mrs. Leonard Cooper won the best nine tournament staged by the Women's Golf Association of the Cumberland Country Club by posting a net 29 yesterday to lead a field of twenty players.

Mrs. Cooper had a best nine of 48 with a half handicap of 19.

The putting contest was won by Mrs. Fuller B. Whitworth who made 28 putts for the 18 holes.

Mrs. William Carscaden defeated Mrs. Monroe Sharer, 8 to 7, in the third round of the fall golf tournament. In a first round consolation match, Mrs. Fuller B. Whitworth was returned the winner over Mrs. Richard Trevaskis, 2 and 1.

Somerset Golf Team Plays CCC

Series Rubber Match Is Set Here Today

The men's golf team of the Cumberland Country Club will engage in its seventh match of the season today, playing host to the Somerset (Pa.) Country Club at 1 p. m.

It will be the "rubber" match of the series in which Somerset lost the opener via the shutout route, 22½ to 0 but squared matters by winning the second contest, 26 to 13½.

Cumberland is playing .500 ball at the present time with three wins and three losses. The locals beat North Fork, 25½ to 10½ and lost to the Johnstown outfit, 20½ to 9½. In a pair of matches with Fountain Head Country Club, Hagerstown, the CCC linksmen won 23-11 and lost 17-10.

Accompanying the Somerset team is Steve Gaydos, pro, and one of the longest drivers in the nation. Gaydos out-drove the country's best long distance belters at the PGA Tournament in Birmingham, Mich., this year and a month ago displayed his skill at Yankee Stadium in New York City.

Phillips Wins Over McAlister In 2-1 Contest

Potomac Valley Tops Central In Opener

Hayden Phillips had the old Indian sign working yesterday and the Potomac Valley Cubs defeated Central Quick Lunch for the sixth consecutive time this season as the teams opened their County Softball League semi-final playoff series at Triple Lakes. The score was 2-1.

Phillips, who had decisioned Claget McAlister four times, 3-1, 7-5, 8-2 and 4-0, and Jack Mayo, once, 3-2, during the regular season and posted a 23-2 record, won his own game in the fourth inning when he came through with a long single to score Pete Cecil who had hit safely and reached second on a passed ball. Phillips' hit gave the Cubs a 2-0 lead which the Lunchers were unable to overcome.

Both teams played errorless ball in the opener of the best-of-three series. Phillips yielded five hits and fanned five while McAlister gave up six blows and struck out four.

Pete Cecil and William "Bee" Scarpelli led the winners' attack with three and two hits. Patsy Algieri rapped a two-bagger and single for the losers.

Potomac Valley and Central Lunch resume their series Thursday at 6 p. m. at Corriganville.

Today the second game of the playoff series between Hercules Powder Kegs and Cunningham's Grocery is set for Taylor Field at 6 p. m. Score:

Carter Offered $25,000 For Bout With Bud Smith

CINCINNATI, Sept. 1 (AP)—Lightweight Champion Jimmy Carter today was offered a $25,000 guarantee to fight Bud Smith of Cincinnati, in a title match here Sept. 30.

Sam Becker, local promoter, said he had talked to Billy Ketcham, manager of Carter, and had received a favorable reply. Ketcham is in New York City. Smith has agreed to accept 17½ per cent of the receipts, Becker said.

U. S. Netmen Named To Oppose Canada

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 1 (INS)—The U. S. Davis Cup selection committee tonight named a five-man team to oppose Canada in the north American zone final at Montreal, Sept. 11-13.

Alrick Man, chairman of the committee, said the U. S. team will be composed of Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif., Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., and Bernard Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex.

Amvets Beat Eagles, 4-3, In 1st Game

Gaffney's Hit Wins Overtime Contest

Jim Gaffney won his own game with a timely single in the eighth inning as the Amvets nosed out the Eagles, 4-3, at Stitcher Field in the opener of the Rocking Chair Softball League's final playoff series.

With the score knotted and two away in the last of the overtime stanza, Manager Clay Ingram singled, moved to second on an error by the short fielder, advanced to third on a wild pitch and crossed the platter when Gaffney delivered the winning blow.

The Amvets took a 3-0 lead in the first inning by grouping Esposito's walk, a sacrifice bunt, two errors with "Bub" Porter's single. The Eagles tied it up at 3-3 in the second by coupling singles by Lou Riehl, Jim Fradiska and Jim Rice with an outfield error, Sheetz's infield out and a fly to the outfield.

In the top of the eighth the Eagles threatened but a snappy double stopped them in their tracks. Jack Kauffman walked and was sacrificed to second. Collins also drew a pass. Doyle George grounded to Joe Geatz who whipped the ball home to nip Kauffman and Esposito lined the pellet to third to cut down Collins for the final out.

Joe Geatz obtained two of the nine hits yielded by Sheetz while Pete Elliott accounted for two of the five safeties given up by Gaffney.

The second game of the best-of-five series is scheduled for today at p. m. at Stitcher Field. Score:

Boxing Hall Of Fame Sought For New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 1—(INS)—Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, announced plans today for a Boxing Hall of Fame.

Boxing writers who will be in New York on Sept. 24 for the Rocky Marciano-Roland LaStarza heavyweight championship fight will be asked to meet with Christenberry to help organize the project.

The Hall of Fame will be started with 10 all-time greats and thereafter annually 20 nominations will be sent by an executive committee to leading boxing writers for their votes on entries.

Pictures and statues of those elected to the hall will be placed on display along with mementos in some public building, probably Madison Square Garden.

Al Rosen Hits 36th Home Run Against Bosox

Early Wynn Racks Up 16th Triumph, 13-3

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1 (AP)—Thirteen hits, including Al Rosen's 36th homer, were good for the same number of runs today as the Cleveland Indians blasted the Boston Red Sox 13-3, Early Wynn taking his 16th victory against 10 losses.

Before the final inning, the official Weather Bureau temperature in Cleveland hit 101. The official attendance was 4,801. Today's victory gave Cleveland the four-game series, three to one.

Wynn held the Red Sox to eight hits and struck out 10 in eight innings. Lou Brissie pitched the ninth inning, giving Wynn a rest.

Rosen knocked in three runs with a two-run homer and a single, increasing his RBI total to 125. Wally Westlake, who hit a double and two singles, also drove three runs across the plate.

The Indians chased starter Willard Nixon with a five-run burst in the second inning. They added three in the fourth off Frankin Sullivan and two in the sixth and three in the seventh off Ivan Delock.

The Red Sox scored two off Wynn in the first inning, but couldn't nick the Indians' right-hander again until the sixth, when they scored one.

Jimmy's Wins, Goes To Finals

Eliminates Andy's, 6-5; Plays Lathrum's Today

Jimmy's Market forged to the finals of the playoffs in the High School Division of the City Rec Softball League by decisioning Andy's Liquor Store in the third and final game of their series yesterday at Community Park. The score was 6-5.

The victory qualified Manager Curt Twigg's team for a series with Lathrum's Market which is scheduled to get under way today at 6 p. m. at Community Park.

Jimmy's blasted Andy's pitching for 11 safeties in the "rubber" game. Walter Younger socked a homer, double and single, Hank Page pounded two doubles and a single and Wayne Holly hammered a homer and single for the victors. Two of the five hits yielded by Logue were "Buddy" Clark's circuit wallop and a two-bagger by Kenny Perdew.

Folk Hurls No-Hit Game At Frostburg But Is Loser, 3-0

FROSTBURG, Sept. 1—Dale Folk pitched a no-hitter in the opening game of the Hot Stove Baseball League's championship series today but he lost it as Neil Sweene yielded only three hits and twirled the Cubs to a 3-0 victory over the Braves.

Three errors and a wild pitch paved the way to the Cubs' three tallies.

The Braves' hits were singles by Speir, Robeson and Staggs.

Folk fanned nine and Sweene whiffed 12.

Eliminates Andy's, 6-5; Plays Lathrum's Today

Jimmy's Market forged to the finals of the playoffs in the High School Division of the City Rec Softball League by decisioning Andy's Liquor Store in the third and final game of their series yesterday at Community Park. The score was 6-5.

The victory qualified Manager Curt Twigg's team for a series with Lathrum's Market which is scheduled to get under way today at 6 p. m. at Community Park.

Jimmy's blasted Andy's pitching for 11 safeties in the "rubber" game. Walter Younger socked a homer, double and single. Hank Page pounded two doubles and a single and Wayne Holly hammered a homer and single for the victors. Two of the five hits yielded by Logue were "Buddy" Clark's circuit wallop and a two-bagger by Kenny Perdew.

Score:

ANDY'S	030	000	2—5	5	2
JIMMY'S	101	103	x—6	11	1

Barrett and Clark. Logue and Johnson. HR—Younger, Holly (Jimmy's); Clark (Andy's).

Folk Hurls No-Hit Game At Frostburg But Is Loser, 3-0

FROSTBURG, Sept. 1—Dale Folk pitched a no-hitter in the opening game of the Hot Stove Baseball League's championship series today but he lost it as Neil Sweene yielded only three hits and twirled the Cubs to a 3-0 victory over the Braves.

Three errors and a wild pitch paved the way to the Cubs' three tallies.

The Braves' hits were singles by Speir, Robeson and Staggs.

Folk fanned nine and Sweene whiffed 12.

BRAVES	000	000	0—0	3	3
CUBS	000	021	x—3	0	0

Folk and Robeson. Sweene and Nolan.

Colts' Record 2-1, Redskins Lose Two Exhibition Games

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1 (AP) — The champion Detroit Lions, Los Angeles Rams and Philadelphia Eagles are undefeated in pre-game exhibitions among league clubs as the pro gridders work into shape for the opening of the National Football League season Sept. 27.

The Lions, Rams and Eagles each have won two games. The Baltimore Colts are a notch below with two wins and a loss.

Green Bay, Chicago Cardinals, San Francisco's 49'ers and Cleveland Browns have .500 records—one win, one defeat.

Pittsburgh's Steelers, with four games under their belts, have won only once. The Chicago Bears lost two out of three.

Beaten twice are the New York Giants and Washington Redskins.

The Rams, actually, have played four games—winning all—but two of the contests were against service teams. Detroit and San Francisco also have recorded wins against a service team.

Tenpin Loop Teams Will Post Forfeits

The Allegany County Tenpin League will hold a meeting at the D.A.V. Club, Frostburg, tonight at 7:15 o'clock.

Teams will be required to post forfeits at this meeting.

Eleven of the twelve teams that were in the circuit last season are expected to be represented for the coming campaign. They are Clarysville Inn, the defending champions, Green's Chevrolet of Frostburg, Art Blank's of Frostburg, Silver Lanes of Cresaptown, Cresap Tavern, Mason's Dairy, The Music Shop, Hy-Burger Restaurant and Allegany Ballistics.

Itsthetruth Killed, Two Jockeys Hurt In Atlantic City Spill

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 1 (INS)—Two jockeys were hurt and a horse killed in a spill today during the fourth race at the Atlantic City Race Track.

Jockey Charley Burr was believed to have suffered internal injuries and Jockey Jerry Parenti, a shoulder injury.

The dead horse was Itsthetruth, with Burr up. Itsthetruth was in close quarters between horses coming to the eighth pole when he fell. Gaelic Gal, Parenti's mount, fell over Itsthetruth.

Durando, Sandy Clash Tonight

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1 (AP)—Ernie Durando of Bayonne, N. J. takes another crack at battering his way back into the top 10 middleweight ranks at the Arena tomorrow night in a scheduled 10-round bout with Randy Sandy of New York.

Sandy, only once beaten in 14 fights, and Durando, who started the year as the fourth ranked welter, will fight the feature bout on a card arranged for the benefit of the National American Legion convention.

The bout, scheduled for 9 p.m. (EST) will be telecast nationally (CBS) and locally.

Schwenk Will Manage West Point Athletics

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—Lt. Col. James T. L. Schwenk, former Army football captain, assumed his post today as graduate manager of athletics at the U. S. Military Academy.

A native of Schuylkill Haven, Pa., Col. Schwenk was captain and fullback of the 1938 eleven and also played lacrosse. He was a graduate of the class of 1939.

LaVale Teams Meet In Deciding Game

LaVale's Pen-Mar Little League teams, the Orioles and Maroons, will conclude their three-game series today at 5:30 p. m. at Goodfellow Field, LaVale.

During the regular season the Orioles took three out of four from the Maroons.

Giants' Thompson Suffers Concussion

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Hank Thompson, New York Giants third baseman who suffered a concussion yesterday after being hit in the head by a ground smash, will be sidelined until Sept. 15.

Dr. Anthony Palermo, the club physician, ordered the rest today even though X-rays showed no fracture. Dr. Palermo said as a precautionary measure Dr. Fritz Cramer, a neuro-surgeon at medical center, will be called for consultations. Thompson will remain at medical center for a few days.

School Gridder Dies

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—A Peekskill high school football player collapsed and died today while practicing with the squad in 100-degree heat. The player Charles Blythe was 18 yesterday.

Colts' Record 2-1, Redskins Lose Two Exhibition Games

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1 (AP) — The champion Detroit Lions, Los Angeles Rams and Philadelphia Eagles are undefeated in pre-game exhibitions among league clubs as the pro gridders work into shape for the opening of the National Football League season Sept. 27.

The Lions, Rams and Eagles each have won two games. The Baltimore Colts are a notch below with two wins and a loss.

Green Bay, Chicago Cardinals, San Francisco's 49'ers and Cleveland Browns have .500 records—one win, one defeat.

Pittsburgh's Steelers, with four games under their belts, have won only once. The Chicago Bears lost two out of three.

Beaten twice are the New York Giants and Washington Redskins.

The Rams, actually, have played four games—winning all—but two of the contests were against service teams. Detroit and San Francisco also have recorded wins against a service team.

Tenpin Loop Teams Will Post Forfeits

The Allegany County Tenpin League will hold a meeting at the D.A.V. Club, Frostburg, tonight at 7:15 o'clock.

Teams will be required to post forfeits at this meeting.

Eleven of the twelve teams that were in the circuit last season are expected to be represented for the coming campaign. They are Clarysville Inn, the defending champions, Green's Chevrolet of Frostburg, Art Blank's of Frostburg, Silver Lanes of Cresaptown, Cresap Tavern, Mason's Dairy, The Music Shop, Hy-Burger Restaurant and Allegany Ballistics.

4-Day Celebration To Mark Founding Of Martinsburg

MARTINSBURG, W. Va.,—Four days filled with colorful activities are in prospect here September 2, 3, 4 and 5 when this city marks its 175th anniversary.

Commodore T. E. VanMetre (USN. Ret.), general chairman of the affair, said plans are complete for the celebration which is designed with the educational and pride-inspiring motives dominant.

He said several thousand visitors are anticipated for the affair.

Featuring the observance will be a costumed pageant of 20 episodes, to be presented on a 60 x 40-foot stage two evenings under the lights at the high school stadium here; a parade with 20 bands and as many other marching units, along with floats which will carry out the historic note; a concert by the B. and O. Glee Club of Baltimore; a band concert; dancing; special entertainment for the visiting distinguished guests. Prize money is being offered for parade entries.

Youth Fair Scheduled

The affair is home-inspired, home-made and home-financed, minus the professional touch (except for rented period costumes).

Paralleling the city anniversary observance will be the annual two-day program of the Youth Fair whose activities will be sandwiched into the larger production.

The program for the anniversary observance follows (all time is EDT):

Wednesday

8 p. m.—Baltimore and Ohio Glee Club at Cobourn Field.

Thursday

Friday

12 noon—Luncheon for distinguished guests at The Shenandoah; 2 p. m.—Grand parade; 5:30 p. m.—Dinner for distinguished guests at The Shenandoah; 7:30 p. m.—Special drill by Air Force Drum and Bugle Corps at Cobourn Field. 8 p. m.—Second presentation of pageant.

Saturday

p. m.—Promenade and old-time band concert in Public Square; 8 p. m. — Square dance exhibition, Public Square; 9 p. m.—Jitterbug contest, Public Square.

Mayor Carlton B. Stuckey has declared a half-holiday for Friday afternoon.

An illustrated program will be sold, including an authoritative history of the founding and evolution of the city.

The community has entered wholeheartedly into the affair by volunteering to appear in the pageant; sponsoring floats in the parade; and especially, in a spirit of good humor, producing hundreds of men who have grown beards and women who have donned bonnets — some of the old-time sunbonnet type, others along more elaborate lines. They have served to simulate the methods of dress of the colonial days.

Band Concert Featured

One element of nostalgia will be a band concert in the Public Square Saturday night, starting with a promenade in which participants will use costumes of the earlier days. Guest director for the affair will be W. F. McAneny, a banker here for more than 50 years who will resume the directing role which he held for many years in connection with the old City Band. There will be a square dancing exhibition in the Square, followed by a jitterbug contest with prizes for the best couples.

There has been a settlement here where the city now is for more than 200 years but existence as an incorporated city dates back 175 years. The town took its name from Colonel Thomas Bryan Martin, a friend of General Adam Stephen, of Revolutionary War note, who owned the land on which the city has arisen. Tradition has it that he and Colonel Martin agreed each to name a city on his land after the other. It is General Stephen's name which went to "Stephens" City in Virginia.

B. And O. To Abandon Two Passenger Trains

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 31 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission today authorized the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to abandon two passenger trains between Connellsville, Pa., and Grafton, W. Va.

The order affects the 33-mile Pennsylvania portion of the 92-mile run of trains 65 and 66.

The PUC found that "light and continually dropping patronage" does not justify continuance of the trains. Adequate bus service is available, it added.

The number of passengers on both trains, the commission found, fell about 75 per cent from 76,000 in 1946 to 18,000 last year.

The B&O claimed it lost $217,100 on the two runs last year. The United Mine Workers and a group of commuters had protested the abandonment.

Barton Soldier Sent To Alaska

BARTON—Pvt. James W. Colmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Colmer, Route 1, Barton, was recently assigned to the Port of Whittier in Alaska.

Colmer, who entered the Army in November, 1952, was previously stationed at Fort Lee, Va. A former student of Barton High School, he was employed in Pontiac, Mich. prior to joining the service. The Port of Whittier is located in the southern part of Alaska and is one of the main supply ports for the U. S. Army.

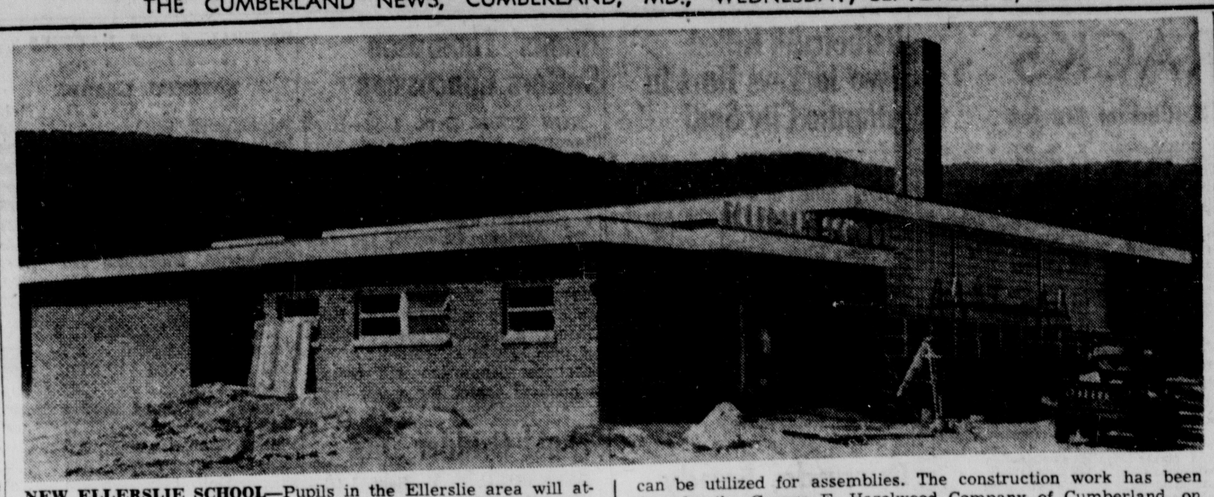
MT. SAVAGE — The 500 Card Club of Calla Hill met at the home of Mrs. Thelma Green and prize winners were Mrs. Freda McKenzie, Mrs. Margaret Crow, and Mrs. Edith Lancaster. Next hostess will be Mrs. Mary Green at the home of her mother, Mrs. John Deffenbaugh on Railroad Street September 10.



NEW ELLERSLIE SCHOOL—Pupils in the Ellerslie area will attend this brand new three-room school when classes start next Tuesday. This new Ellerslie Elementary School, which includes two standard-sized classrooms also has one larger room which can be utilized for assemblies. The construction work has been done by the George F. Hazelwood Company of Cumberland, on a low bid of $59,552 submitted to the Allegany County Board of Education last November.

Southern States Meeting Planned At Lonaconing

Election Of Officers Set September 10th

LONACONING — Election of local and Farm Home Advisory committees will feature the annual Southern States membership meeting at Lonaconing Thursday, September 10, at Fireman's Armory.

Included in the program will be a showing of the 30th anniversary technicolor movie, "We," and a "basketball" quiz game. A supper will precede the election meeting at 6:30 p. m. while the business session will begin at 8 o'clock.

Chairman of the meeting will be Harry T. Warnick of Lonaconing. Mr. and Mrs. William Weir will coach the men's and women's teams in the 20-minute quiz on the cooperative's operations and history and C. A. Williams of Oakland will be the referee.

Nominees for the advisory board posts are Alfred Broadwater of Grantsville; Frank Getson and Chester A. Green of Lonaconing; and Howard Llewellyn and Ivan Wilson, both of Midland.

Nominees for vacancies on the Farm Home Advisory Committee are Mrs. Bertus Beeman, Mrs. Stanley Green and Mrs. Julius Wattenschaidt, all of Lonaconing; Mrs. Wilson Ravenscroft, Midland; and Mrs. Wilmer Calmer, Barton.

Members of the general committees assisting in carrying out the meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Warnick, Mr. and Mrs. Parker Warnick, Mr. and Mrs. William Weir, Mr. and Mrs. Sam A. Keyser Council Moves To Speed Traffic Flow

Plan Will Get 30-Day Trial

KEYSER—City Council yesterday voted a 30-day trial for a new traffic rule which may speed the movement of school buses here each school day.

Involved in the change is one block of South Mineral Street, which has been a south-bound traffic artery from Piedmont Street since the Memorial Bridge was opened.

The school bus director was given permission to pick up students each day on South Mineral Street in front of the school, with the buses headed north.

Under the approved motion, school buses will aproach the school each afternoon going west along Piedmont Street to Orchard, south on Orchard to St. Cloud Street, thence to South Mineral, where the buses will park on South Mineral Street before the school property, as near bumper to bumper as possible. A cross walk will be honored across Mineral at the St. Cloud Street intersection.

After the buses pick up student passengers they will move northward on South Mineral to Piedmont, travelling on the curved part of the thoroughfare and continuing east on Piedmont to Davis Street, thence north to Armstrong, where east-bound buses will turn east on Armstrong Street, and south bound buses will turn west at the intersection and south on North Mineral, after they pass under the bridge, and continue their southbound journey.

As a result of the council action, South Mineral will be a two-way street for the block from St. Cloud to Piedmont Streets.

Band Concert Featured

One element of nostalgia will be a band concert in the Public Square Saturday night, starting with a promenade in which participants will use costumes of the earlier days. Guest director for the affair will be W. F. McAneny, a banker here for more than 50 years who will resume the directing role which he held for many years in connection with the old City Band. There will be a square dancing exhibition in the Square, followed by a jitterbug contest with prizes for the best couples.

There has been a settlement here where the city now is for more than 200 years but existence as an incorporated city dates back 175 years. The town took its name from Colonel Thomas Bryan Martin, a friend of General Adam Stephen, of Revolutionary War note, who owned the land on which the city has arisen. Tradition has it that he and Colonel Martin agreed each to name a city on his land after the other. It is General Stephen's name which went to "Stephens" City in Virginia.

Christopher, James Murray, Robert Harden, Ronald Cosgrove, Harry Cosgrove, Harold Klink, William Pugh, Curtis Green, John A. Thomas, James R. Thomas, George Thomas, Robert Ferree, Russell Dennison, Joseph Coakley, Cecil R. Folk, Carl Bennett, Kenny Miller and Niles Sperry. All members are asked to attend the meeting.

B. And O. To Abandon Two Passenger Trains

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 31 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission today authorized the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to abandon two passenger trains between Connellsville, Pa., and Grafton, W. Va.

The order affects the 33-mile Pennsylvania portion of the 92-mile run of trains 65 and 66.

The PUC found that "light and continually dropping patronage" does not justify continuance of the trains. Adequate bus service is available, it added.

The number of passengers on both trains, the commission found, fell about 75 per cent from 76,000 in 1946 to 18,000 last year.

The B&O claimed it lost $217,100 on the two runs last year. The United Mine Workers and a group of commuters had protested the abandonment.

Barton Soldier Sent To Alaska

BARTON—Pvt. James W. Colmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Colmer, Route 1, Barton, was recently assigned to the Port of Whittier in Alaska.

Colmer, who entered the Army in November, 1952, was previously stationed at Fort Lee, Va. A former student of Barton High School, he was employed in Pontiac, Mich. prior to joining the service. The Port of Whittier is located in the southern part of Alaska and is one of the main supply ports for the U. S. Army.

Ray Malcolm is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Howard C. Shaw, Woodville, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haugh of Hagerstown spent the weekend in Oldtown visiting relatives and friends.

Card Club Meets

MT. SAVAGE — The 500 Card Club of Calla Hill met at the home of Mrs. Thelma Green and prize winners were Mrs. Freda McKenzie, Mrs. Margaret Crow, and Mrs. Edith Lancaster. Next hostess will be Mrs. Mary Green at the home of her mother, Mrs. John Deffenbaugh on Railroad Street September 10.

NEW ELLERSLIE SCHOOL—Pupils in the Ellerslie area will attend this brand new three-room school when classes start next Tuesday. This new Ellerslie Elementary School, which includes two standard-sized classrooms also has one larger room which can be utilized for assemblies. The construction work has been done by the George F. Hazelwood Company of Cumberland, on a low bid of $59,552 submitted to the Allegany County Board of Education last November.

Southern States Meeting Planned At Lonaconing

Election Of Officers Set September 10th

LONACONING — Election of local and Farm Home Advisory committees will feature the annual Southern States membership meeting at Lonaconing Thursday, September 10, at Fireman's Armory.

Included in the program will be a showing of the 30th anniversary technicolor movie, "We," and a "basketball" quiz game. A supper will precede the election meeting at 6:30 p. m. while the business session will begin at 8 o'clock.

Chairman of the meeting will be Harry T. Warnick of Lonaconing. Mr. and Mrs. William Weir will coach the men's and women's teams in the 20-minute quiz on the cooperative's operations and history and C. A. Williams of Oakland will be the referee.

Nominees for the advisory board posts are Alfred Broadwater of Grantsville; Frank Getson and Chester A. Green of Lonaconing; and Howard Llewellyn and Ivan Wilson, both of Midland.

Nominees for vacancies on the Farm Home Advisory Committee are Mrs. Bertus Beeman, Mrs. Stanley Green and Mrs. Julius Wattenschaidt, all of Lonaconing; Mrs. Wilson Ravenscroft, Midland; and Mrs. Wilmer Calmer, Barton.

Members of the general committees assisting in carrying out the meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Warnick, Mr. and Mrs. Parker Warnick, Mr. and Mrs. William Weir, Mr. and Mrs. Sam A. Metz, Bertus Beeman, Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Green, Stanley Warnick, Jesse Green, Allen Warnick, Mrs. Jesse Green, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Delwood Merrill, Charles Clise.

Firemen's Auxiliary To Sponsor Carnival

BARTON—The Auxiliary of Barton Hose Company will sponsor a carnival next week.

Features of the event will be a kiddie parade on the evening of September 9 and a firemen's parade on the evening of September 11. Members of the Auxiliary will sell candy on September 9 and pie, cake and coffee on the 11th. The unit participated in the firemen's parade during the recent Cumberland Fair.

Deaths

OTHER DEATHS ON PAGE 7

ALER FUNERAL

PIEDMONT—Services for Rev. Robert E. F. Aler, former pastor of First Baptist Church here, who died August 14 in Churchland, Va., were held there.

Rev. Mr. Aler served as pastor of Churchland Baptist Church for 25 years. Following his pastorate here, he was Sunday School secretary of the Maryland Baptist Union from 1920 to 1926, after which he went to Larchmont Baptist Church, Norfolk, Va.

Born in Baltimore, Rev. Aler was a graduate of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and the Colgate-Rochester Seminary, New York.

MRS. D. F. MULLIGAN SR.

HAGERSTOWN — Mrs. Mary Ada Mulligan, 66, wife of Daniel F. Mulligan Sr., died Sunday night at her home here. She had been ill for some time.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Emma Harr, Cumberland. A requiem mass will be celebrated tomorrow at 10 a. m. in St. Mary's Catholic Church. Burial will take place in Rose Hill Cemetery.

MELVIN ASHBY

GRANTSVILLE—Melvin Ashby, nephew of C. E. Ashby of here, died recently while serving with the Air Force in the Azore Islands. Death was attributed to an acute coronary occlusion.

Mr. Ashby had been in the Air Force 25 years.

MRS. JOSEPH LORENZO

LUKE—Mrs. Joseph Lorenzo, formerly of here, died August 19 at her home in Akron where services were held. She had been in failing health some time.

Her first husband, Urbano Alvarez, died here during the "flu" epidemic of 1918. After her second marriage the family moved to Akron 25 years ago.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Lorenzo is survived by five children, Argentine, Fred and Armando Alvarez and Ernest and Joseph Lorenzo, all of Akron, and a stepdaughter, Natalie Lorenzo at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfredo Diaz, Helen and Louis Diaz, Mrs. Mary Diaz, Mike Botomino, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cueva, Manuel Alvarez, Miss Ethel Manuel Tuya and daughter, Miss Marina, of here, and Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Evans of Westernport, attended the services.

CHARLES M. HALTERMAN

MATHIAS—Services for Charles M. Halterman, 79, who died at his home here August 18, were conducted at the Church of the Brethren by Rev. Ernest E. Muntzing, pastor. Interment was in the Caldwell Cemetery.

He was a son of the late William and Mrs. Hannah Halterman. Surviving are his widow, the former Miss Susan J. Caldwell; a daughter, Mrs. Sadie M. Moyers, Mathias; four sons, Cletus G. Halterman and Carl C. Halterman, both of Mathias, and Titus G. Halterman and Elwood D. Halterman, both of Harrisonburg, Va.; and a sister, Mrs. Annie Shipe, Broadway, Va.; six grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

ROBESON SERVICE

GRANTSVILLE — A funeral service for Enoch O. Robeson, 79, retired farmer and prominent citizen of Garrett County, who died at his home in Avilton, August 26, was held at Mt. Zion Methodist Church Saturday afternoon.

Rev. Donald Hinkle, pastor, officiated and interment was in the church cemetery. Pallbearers were William Warnick, Ira Stark, William Merrill, Frank Robeson, Harold Fike and Asa Wilhelm.

A native of Garrett County, he had been foreman for the State Roads Commission for eight years, and for a number of years was employed on the Garrett County Roads.

A Democrat, he was instrumental in establishing the 15th Election District in the county and served a number of terms as Registrar. He and his wife celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary on April 18, 1953. Surviving are seven sons and 10 grandchildren.

Daughters Are Feted With Turkey Dinner

MT. SAVAGE—Mrs. Leona Reagan and daughter, Miss Mary Teresa, entertained Sunday with a turkey dinner at their home on Locust Avenue in honor of Mrs. Reagan's two daughters, Miss Sarah L. Reagan, a graduate of Sacred Heart Hospital School of Nursing and Miss Mildred Reagan, a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College.

Others attending were Mrs. Lucy Clarey, Chicago; Miss Terry St. Cryr, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Couter, Cumberland; Mr. and Mrs. William Farrell, Miss Nellie Tansey; Mrs. Anna Marie Williams and son, Danny; and Misses Catherine and Elinor Reagan.

Keyser Council Moves To Speed Traffic Flow

Plan Will Get 30-Day Trial

KEYSER—City Council yesterday voted a 30-day trial for a new traffic rule which may speed the movement of school buses here each school day.

Involved in the change is one block of South Mineral Street, which has been a south-bound traffic artery from Piedmont Street since the Memorial Bridge was opened.

The school bus director was given permission to pick up students each day on South Mineral Street in front of the school, with the buses headed north.

Under the approved motion, school buses will aproach the school each afternoon going west along Piedmont Street to Orchard, south on Orchard to St. Cloud Street, thence to South Mineral, where the buses will park on South Mineral Street before the school property, as near bumper to bumper as possible. A cross walk will be honored across Mineral at the St. Cloud Street intersection.

After the buses pick up student passengers they will move northward on South Mineral to Piedmont, travelling on the curved part of the thoroughfare and continuing east on Piedmont to Davis Street, thence north to Armstrong, where east-bound buses will turn east on Armstrong Street, and south bound buses will turn west at the intersection and south on North Mineral, after they pass under the bridge, and continue their southbound journey.

As a result of the council action, South Mineral will be a two-way street for the block from St. Cloud to Piedmont Streets.

Frostburg Plans Kiddie Program

FROSTBURG — A kiddie program, open to all the children of the area surrounding the Braddock Playground, will be presented Thursday from 2 p. m., to 4 p. m., by the park association.

A treasure hunt and games will be featured. Drinks will be furnished by the Ladies Auxiliary and all children are to bring a picnic lunch. This will be the final event for children before the opening of the fall school term.

Plan Ice Cream Sale

MT. SAVAGE—The Junior and Senior Choir of the Mt. Savage Methodist Church will sponsor an ice cream sale tomorrow beginning at 10 a. m. Proceeds will be used for the purchase of new choir robes.

For Sale: Farm, 169 Acres, ideal for hunting camp. Spring and log cabin. $1600. Phone Frostburg 895-W. Adv. T-N—1-2—2-3

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 1 (INS)—The Ruth Etting story certainly has plenty of drama and was front page at the time it happened. Ruth, a popular singing star from 1926 to 1932, was the heroine in a dramatic shooting.

She married a handsome young man named Myrl Alderman, and her first husband, Colonel Martin Snyder, called Moe the Gimp, shot him in Ruth's home. Alderman was wounded only slightly but the Gimp was sent to jail.

Ruth's life story has been bought for Jane Powell and it will follow "Sobbin' Women" and "Hit the Deck."

Saw Jane flitting about at the multiple sclerosis telethon with Gene Nelson. She didn't make an appearance, however, because MGM refused to allow any of its people to appear.

If you saw "My Sister Eileen," you'll remember the athletic young man who went around wearing shorts for his health, and the girl who was so frightened that her mother would discover she had married the athlete.

Well, I'd call it a real inspiration on the part of Jerry Wald to get Marge and Gower Champion to play the bride and groom neighbors of the girls. Marge and Gower flew in from Las Vegas to ink the contract and, of course, they'll dance in the musical.

How's this for one of those science-fiction shockers to make you sit up and take notice: An expedition goes to the Himalayas to look for saber-toothed tigers and find a pre-historic race of men who are fiercer and more dangerous than the tigers themselves.

Well, that's the story idea back of an expedition Darryl Zanuck told me he is sending to the towering Himalayas for background shots, and it's some idea I must say.

Producer Philip Dunne and Director Sammy Fuller will make the picture after the camera crew returns with the film. Of course, it will be an outdoor Cinemascope special, since Darryl has said he will make no more pictures without Cinemascope and technicolor.

If Dick Haymes is deported, Rita Hayworth will go right with him to the Argentine.

Dick is making plans to get a divorce in Nevada. He sang a two-day engagement at Cal-Neva Lodge, and when he goes to Del Mar he'll fly back to Las Vegas every night so that he can establish his six-week residence as soon as possible.

Rita makes no secret that she would go right with him to the Argentine—that's how much she's in love with him.

She was in very bad with her studio Saturday when she didn't show up in time for an added scene for "Miss Sadie Thompson." After waiting a half hour, the entire company was dismissed by order of the boss.

Andre De Toth and Liz Scott have been dating and are getting along just fine.

Joan Deiner, who has one of the top femme roles in "Kismet," will be tested by Warners.

Marilyn Monroe will be Jack Benny's first guest on his TV program. Yes, 20th Century-Fox broke down and let her do the show—her first TV appearance.

Charlie Chaplin received $650,000 for the Chaplin studios. Now I hear a new client is willing to pay $750,000.

Betty Grable, who has had offers for New York shows, TV series, and pictures, will be with Harry James' band for a time and, believe me, she'll be a big draw.

Tony De Marco is recovering in a New York hospital from a leg injury he sustained in a New York bus accident.

At the Plymouth House Swedish Actress Anita Eckberg with Jerry Ohrbach.

Everyone is still talking about Shirley Temple's wonderful appeal on the multiple sclerosis telethon. It's a cause very close to Shirley's heart—her brother, George, is a sufferer from the disease.

Life goes on. Dorinda, daughter of the late Elmer Clifton, who directed "Down to the Sea in Ships," is the mother of a 6½-pound son. She is a movie actress.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Well, that's the story idea back of an expedition Darryl Zanuck told me he is sending to the towering Himalayas for background shots, and it's some idea I must say.

Producer Philip Dunne and Director Sammy Fuller will make the picture after the camera crew returns with the film. Of course, it will be an outdoor Cinemascope special, since Darryl has said he will make no more pictures without Cinemascope and technicolor.

If Dick Haymes is deported, Rita Hayworth will go right with him to the Argentine.

Dick is making plans to get a divorce in Nevada. He sang a two-day engagement at Cal-Neva Lodge, and when he goes to Del Mar he'll fly back to Las Vegas every night so that he can establish his six-week residence as soon as possible.

Rita makes no secret that she would go right with him to the Argentine—that's how much she's in love with him.

She was in very bad with her studio Saturday when she didn't show up in time for an added scene for "Miss Sadie Thompson." After waiting a half hour, the entire company was dismissed by order of the boss.

Andre De Toth and Liz Scott have been dating and are getting along just fine.

Joan Deiner, who has one of the top femme roles in "Kismet," will be tested by Warners.

Marilyn Monroe will be Jack Benny's first guest on his TV program. Yes, 20th Century-Fox broke down and let her do the show—her first TV appearance.

Charlie Chaplin received $650,000 for the Chaplin studios. Now I hear a new client is willing to pay $750,000.

Betty Grable, who has had offers for New York shows, TV series, and pictures, will be with Harry James' band for a time and, believe me, she'll be a big draw.

Tony De Marco is recovering in a New York hospital from a leg injury he sustained in a New York bus accident.

At the Plymouth House Swedish Actress Anita Eckberg with Jerry Ohrbach.

Everyone is still talking about Shirley Temple's wonderful appeal on the multiple sclerosis telethon. It's a cause very close to Shirley's heart—her brother, George, is a sufferer from the disease.

Life goes on. Dorinda, daughter of the late Elmer Clifton, who directed "Down to the Sea in Ships," is the mother of a 6½-pound son. She is a movie actress.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Radio And Television

by John Crosby

Momism On The Loose

Momism, a scathing word invented by Philip Wylie to describe the more excessive forms of mother worship in this country, runs rampant on televised soap opera. Come to think of it, momism ran amok on radio soap opera, too, but the variations on TV, it seems to me, are even more numerous and malignant.

John Crosby

Motherhood, as practised on TV soaps, is an absolutely agonizing experience either for mother or child or for both. On "The Guiding Light," a CBS soap, there is at present a case of triple-momism, easily winning the momism award of the year. One mother is trying to break up her daughter's marriage because Bill drinks.

Another girl, Kathy, just became a mother and as a result of the psychological changes of motherhood, can't bear her husband. At the same time, Kathy is in full revolt against even the memories of maternal authority and keeps yelping that she isn't a child any more and doesn't need to be told to do things. Motherhood just runs berserk on "The Guiding Light."

Over on "Follow Your Heart," there's a case of double momism. One is a benevolent mom — who may be the worst kind — who keeps trying to get her daughter to take her glasses off so she can capture the man of her heart. The other, an aristocratic old baggage from the Main Line, is trying to bust up the romance of her daughter — "the beautiful and capricious Julie Fielding" — with a chemist who is clearly not of her class.

On "Hawkins Falls," which may, incidentally, be the most sensible of the TV soaps, there's a mother who wants desperately to be a stage mother. She has a small monster of a girl who sings and whom she inflicts on every passing soul. "God preserve me from ambitious mothers," says cantankerous old Judge Sharpe on that show. God preserve us all, Judge.

One of the more complicated cases of momism is on "Search for Tomorrow." Jo, the mom in question, who is — I guess — a widder lady, has a little girl Patty who is crazy about Uncle Arthur. Everyone in town is trying to make a match between Jo and Uncle Arthur. Jo doesn't want to marry Uncle Arthur but, she keeps musing, that maybe she ought to give little Patty a father. She takes motherhood real hard, this girl, and most any weekday you'll find her mooning over the dishes — not because her daughter is unhappy but because she's so happy with Uncle Arthur.

"Oh, Lord in heaven," she keeps moaning, "help me to do the right thing — the right thing by Patty, the right thing by Arthur and — the right thing by me." Obviously someone is going to get left out in that triangle.

Over on "Three Steps to Heaven," momism is dormant but that doesn't mean it doesn't exist. Mary Ellen on that show, the villainous psychiatrist, Dr. Bremner tells us, has a bad mother complex and, while it isn't causing any trouble at the moment, some instinct tells me, it will, it will.

When they're not tangling with their mothers, the girls on TV soap are usually embroiled with another woman over some man. Rarely is it the other way around, two men after one babe. There's a great man shortage on TV soaps and the girls claw each other's eyes out over the few eligible males around, though none of the men are anything you'd write mother about. Probably the most savage contest on at the moment is on "Love Of Life" where Meg is trying to steal Matt away from her sister Vanessa and using no scruples at all about it. In fact, she's trying to pin a $15,000 robbery on her dear little innocent sister. They play rough in this league.

On "The Bennetts," Mrs. Elkins has just been arrested for manslaughter. Shot and killed an innocent bystander while aiming at the girl her husband was playing around with. On "Three Steps To Heaven," Mary Ellen has just told Jennifer to keep her dirty hands off Bill and on "Follow Your Heart" Julie and Georgie are both after that crummy chemist, Peter, and somebody's bound to get hurt.

Between motherhood and love, life isn't worth living in this jungle.

DOUBLE PLAY

HARTFORD, Ky. (AP)—Balls can dodge bats, but can bats dodge balls? Apparently not. In a softball game here this summer, a Hartford player hit a high fly that struck and killed a bat on the wing. Byron Taylor, Centertown player, made a put-out catch of both the ball and bat.

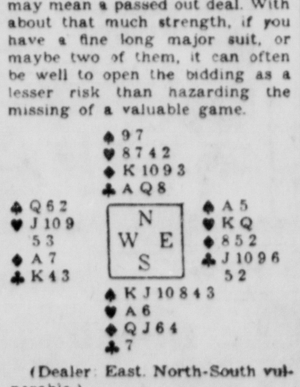
DON'T MISS YOUR GAME

CERTAIN hands have such pronounced distributional values, though a bit shy of standard high card requirements, that you know a pass of them may mean the loss of an available game by your side. That is particularly likely if your hand is just about average, or slightly above average, in general strength. There is then quite a chance that a pass by you may mean a passed out deal. With about that much strength, if you have a fine long major suit, or maybe two of them, it can often be well to open the bidding as a lesser risk than hazarding the missing of a valuable game.



(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♠	2 ♥	3 ♦
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	3 NT
Pass	4 ♦	Pass	4 ♠

That was rather neat bidding, reaching the correct game contract on a deal that probably would have been passed out if South had not opened it. West said he did not feel specially "psychic or shady" and would not have opened if South passed.

North's pretty bid was his 4-Spades. Since he had not supported the spades at once after hearing South's rebid of 3-Spades, he knew this belated spade call by him would not show South more than two cards of the suit. South therefore might be impelled to try 5-Diamonds, in which a fit had been advertised, if he could not stand two-card support. South got that clearly and left it in. He was glad he did, as a nice game resulted to close out the rubber.

After the heart J lead to the A, South noted that he had to succeed with the club finesse to make the game. So he tried it at once, then used the club A to discard his losing heart. That assured his game, as he then lost only two tricks in trumps and one in diamonds.

Note how much better hand South's really is, for game purposes, than a 4-3-3-3 distribution with three aces in it.

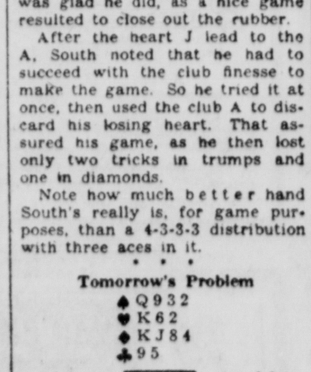
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: West. North-South vulnerable.)

23 ON ONE HOLE

DURHAM, N. C. (AP) — Wade Myers took a 23 on the narrow, par 4 ninth hole at the Hillsdale golf course. He began by knocking three tee shots out of bounds. Later, from the fairway, he put three more out of bounds. He eventually reached the green in 19 and took four putts. Myers finished his round in 139.

Come to think of it, momism ran amok on radio soap opera, too, but the variations on TV, it seems to me, are even more numerous and malignant.

John Crosby

Motherhood, as practised on TV soaps, is an absolutely agonizing experience either for mother or child or for both. On "The Guiding Light," a CBS soap, there is at present a case of triple-momism, easily winning the momism award of the year. One mother is trying to break up her daughter's marriage because Bill drinks.

Another girl, Kathy, just became a mother and as a result of the psychological changes of motherhood, can't bear her husband. At the same time, Kathy is in full revolt against even the memories of maternal authority and keeps yelping that she isn't a child any more and doesn't need to be told to do things. Motherhood just runs berserk on "The Guiding Light."

Over on "Follow Your Heart," there's a case of double momism. One is a benevolent mom — who may be the worst kind — who keeps trying to get her daughter to take her glasses off so she can capture the man of her heart. The other, an aristocratic old baggage from the Main Line, is trying to bust up the romance of her daughter — "the beautiful and capricious Julie Fielding" — with a chemist who is clearly not of her class.

On "Hawkins Falls," which may, incidentally, be the most sensible of the TV soaps, there's a mother who wants desperately to be a stage mother. She has a small monster of a girl who sings and whom she inflicts on every passing soul. "God preserve me from ambitious mothers," says cantankerous old Judge Sharpe on that show. God preserve us all, Judge.

One of the more complicated cases of momism is on "Search for Tomorrow." Jo, the mom in question, who is — I guess — a widder lady, has a little girl Patty who is crazy about Uncle Arthur. Everyone in town is trying to make a match between Jo and Uncle Arthur. Jo doesn't want to marry Uncle Arthur but, she keeps musing, that maybe she ought to give little Patty a father. She takes motherhood real hard, this girl, and most any weekday you'll find her mooning over the dishes — not because her daughter is unhappy but because she's so happy with Uncle Arthur.

"Oh, Lord in heaven," she keeps moaning, "help me to do the right thing — the right thing by Patty, the right thing by Arthur and — the right thing by me." Obviously someone is going to get left out in that triangle.

Over on "Three Steps to Heaven," momism is dormant but that doesn't mean it doesn't exist. Mary Ellen on that show, the villainous psychiatrist, Dr. Bremner tells us, has a bad mother complex and, while it isn't causing any trouble at the moment, some instinct tells me, it will, it will.

When they're not tangling with their mothers, the girls on TV soap are usually embroiled with another woman over some man. Rarely is it the other way around, two men after one babe. There's a great man shortage on TV soaps and the girls claw each other's eyes out over the few eligible males around, though none of the men are anything you'd write mother about. Probably the most savage contest on at the moment is on "Love Of Life" where Meg is trying to steal Matt away from her sister Vanessa and using no scruples at all about it. In fact, she's trying to pin a $15,000 robbery on her dear little innocent sister. They play rough in this league.

On "The Bennetts," Mrs. Elkins has just been arrested for manslaughter. Shot and killed an innocent bystander while aiming at the girl her husband was playing around with. On "Three Steps To Heaven," Mary Ellen has just told Jennifer to keep her dirty hands off Bill and on "Follow Your Heart" Julie and Georgie are both after that crummy chemist, Peter, and somebody's bound to get hurt.

Between motherhood and love, life isn't worth living in this jungle.

DOUBLE PLAY

HARTFORD, Ky. (AP)—Balls can dodge bats, but can bats dodge balls? Apparently not. In a softball game here this summer, a Hartford player hit a high fly that struck and killed a bat on the wing. Byron Taylor, Centertown player, made a put-out catch of both the ball and bat.

DON'T MISS YOUR GAME

CERTAIN hands have such pronounced distributional values, though a bit shy of standard high card requirements, that you know a pass of them may mean the loss of an available game by your side. That is particularly likely if your hand is just about average, or slightly above average, in general strength. There is then quite a chance that a pass by you may mean a passed out deal. With about that much strength, if you have a fine long major suit, or maybe two of them, it can often be well to open the bidding as a lesser risk than hazarding the missing of a valuable game.

That was rather neat bidding, reaching the correct game contract on a deal that probably would have been passed out if South had not opened it. West said he did not feel specially "psychic or shady" and would not have opened if South passed.

North's pretty bid was his 4-Spades. Since he had not supported the spades at once after hearing South's rebid of 3-Spades, he knew this belated spade call by him would not show South more than two cards of the suit. South therefore might be impelled to try 5-Diamonds, in which a fit had been advertised, if he could not stand two-card support. South got that clearly and left it in. He was glad he did, as a nice game resulted to close out the rubber.

After the heart J lead to the A, South noted that he had to succeed with the club finesse to make the game. So he tried it at once, then used the club A to discard his losing heart. That assured his game, as he then lost only two tricks in trumps and one in diamonds.

23 ON ONE HOLE

DURHAM, N. C. (AP) — Wade Myers took a 23 on the narrow, par 4 ninth hole at the Hillandale golf course. He began by knocking three tee shots out of bounds. Later, from the fairway, he put three more out of bounds. He eventually reached the green in 19 and took four putts. Myers finished his round in 139.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear wife and darling mother, Mrs. Cora E. Easton, who passed away three years ago, September 2nd, 1950.
If we had seen you to the last.
And held your dying hand,
And heard the last sigh from your heart
We would not feel so bad.
We did not know the pain you had,
We did not see you die,
We only know you passed away
And did not say goodbye.
God give us strength to bear it,
And courage to fight the blow;
But what it meant to lose you, Mom,
No one will ever know.
Sadly missed by her husband,
Children and Grandchildren.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the many friends, neighbors and relatives for the many kind expressions of sympathy and condolence shown us during the illness and recent bereavement, the death of our husband and father, Enoch Robeson. Our special thanks is extended to Rev. Donald Hinkle, the Quartet and those contributing flowers, cars, and to all those who assisted in any way.
MRS. LILLIE ROBESON and SONS.
Avilton, Maryland.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our relatives, neighbors and friends for their kindness to us during the illness and following the death of our beloved husband and father, Gilbert Walter Bowman. We especially wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and those who donated the use of their automobiles for the funeral.
Mrs. G. W. Bowman & family.

We take this manner in which to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our neighbors and friends for the kindness and sympathy shown us following the death of our beloved wife and sister, Mrs. Dorothy Hawkins. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and loaned cars for the funeral.
Husband and Family.

Tops Them All!
We have in our garage a 1946 Chrysler Windsor 7-passenger 4 door sedan that is in such exceptional condition it is amazing! Honest folks, this car is practically new. It has only been driven 27,000 miles and looks like it has hardly been out of the garage. The brilliant dark blue finish is without a scratch and the chrome trim is perfect. The spotless interior is a dream in blue and chrome with seat covers that show very little wear. The car is equipped with radio and heater and the motor runs like a charm. This is an ideal car for a large family or for anyone who hauls riders to and from work. We've never seen anything like it for a car 7 years old and we'll bet you never have either. If you want to latch on to the bargain of a lifetime, you'd better hurry.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear wife and darling mother, Mrs. Cora E. Easton, who passed away three years ago, September 2nd, 1950.

If we had seen you to the last.
And held your dying hand,
And heard the last sigh from your heart
We would not feel so bad.
We did not know the pain you had,
We did not see you die,
We only know you passed away
And did not say goodbye.
God give us strength to bear it,
And courage to fight the blow;
But what it meant to lose you, Mom,
No one will ever know.
Sadly missed by her husband,
Children and Grandchildren.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the many friends, neighbors and relatives for the many kind expressions of sympathy and condolence shown us during the illness and recent bereavement, the death of our husband and father, Enoch Robeson. Our special thanks is extended to Rev. Donald Hinkle, the Quartet and those contributing flowers, cars, and to all those who assisted in any way.
MRS. LILLIE ROBESON and SONS.
Avilton, Maryland.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our relatives, neighbors and friends for their kindness to us during the illness and following the death of our beloved husband and father, Gilbert Walter Bowman. We especially wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and those who donated the use of their automobiles for the funeral.
Mrs. G. W. Bowman & family.

We take this manner in which to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our neighbors and friends for the kindness and sympathy shown us following the death of our beloved wife and sister, Mrs. Dorothy Hawkins. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and loaned cars for the funeral.
Husband and Family.

Tops Them All!
We have in our garage a 1946 Chrysler Windsor 7-passenger 4 door sedan that is in such exceptional condition it is amazing! Honest folks, this car is practically new. It has only been driven 27,000 miles and looks like it has hardly been out of the garage. The brilliant dark blue finish is without a scratch and the chrome trim is perfect. The spotless interior is a dream in blue and chrome with seat covers that show very little wear. The car is equipped with radio and heater and the motor runs like a charm. This is an ideal car for a large family or for anyone who hauls riders to and from work. We've never seen anything like it for a car 7 years old and we'll bet you never have either. If you want to latch on to the bargain of a lifetime, you'd better hurry.

(daylight savings), on Tuesday, the Fifteenth (15th) day of September, 1953, at the office of the Board of Education, Washington Street, Cumberland, Maryland, at which time and place all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory Performance Bond in full amount of the contract.

The contract documents, including plans and specifications, are on file at the office of the architect, S. Russ Minter, 307 South Centre Street, Cumberland, Maryland.

Copies of the documents may be obtained by depositing Twenty Dollars ($20.00) with S. Russ Minter, Architect, Cumberland, Maryland, for each set of documents so obtained. The deposit for one set of documents will be refunded to each bidder who returns the plans and documents in good condition within ten (10) days after the opening of bids. No refund will be made except as hereinbefore stated.

The Board of Education of Allegany County reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any informalities in bidding.

A certified check or bank draft or a satisfactory bid bond must be executed by the bidder and a surety company, in the amount equal to five (5) per cent of the bid, for at least thirty (30) days.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF ALLEGANY COUNTY.
By:
Kenneth R. Malcolm, President.
Ralph R. Webster, Superintendent.

Auto Parking Poses Problem At Mt. Savage

A Mt. Savage man appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday to complain about the blocking of Columbia Avenue in that community.

He is Joseph Taccino, who told the commissioners cars park partly on a gas station property with either the front or back end jutting out onto the narrow street. Taccino said he was speaking not only for himself but for other residents of the street.

One day recently he had to wait for more than an hour until the owner of one machine blocking the street appeared to let him gain access to the street and his own garage. Taccino said he has reported the problem to the State Police here but realizes they cannot have a trooper on hand at all times to prevent the blocking of the thoroughfare.

Creates Fire Problem

Taccino said that in the case of a fire it would be impossible for firemen to get their equipment into the burning area. The street he complains about is located between the Mt. Savage VFW Club and the gas station.

In support of his complaint he showed a dozen photographs of the street to the commissioners to show several cars blocking all but a few feet of the street one afternoon recently. Another picture showed a car parked across the entrance to the street from the main highway which runs through Mt. Savage.

Taccino said the upper end of the street is too steep to be safe for use as an entrance and is accessible only by a roundabout route.

No Jurisdiction

The commissioners told Taccino they have no jurisdiction on parking or other street regulations for Mt. Savage or any other community. The Mt. Savage man said he realizes that, but thought he would bring the matter to the attention of the board.

John W. Bierman appeared before the board to complain about an open ditch near his property in Mexico Farms. The ditch runs to the Potomac River.

Nancy Mullan of Rawlings wrote the board to inquire if a sign could not be placed on the McMullen Highway to notify motorists that they were entering the community. She says Rawlings appears on road maps but there is no sign with the community's name located at the entrance to the town.

LaVale Homemakers To Meet September 14

LaVale Homemakers Club has postponed its September meeting from the 7th until the 14th, because of the Labor Day holiday.

Mrs. Bertha Simpson, Nutrition chairman, will give a food demonstration, taught at the food training meeting at Fort Hill High School, given by Miss Janet Coblentz, food and nutrition specialist of the University of Maryland.

Club Elects

Mrs. Joan Robertson was elected president of the Young Married Couples Club of Mapleside at the meeting recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dicken. Other officers are Mrs. Marian Webster, vice president; Mrs. Betty Webster, secretary; Lee Robertson, treasurer and Homer Dicken, chaplain.

A corn roast preceded the meeting.

Officers will be installed at the September meeting in the church recreation hall. Members are to bring box lunches and the recreation will be under the direction of Mrs. Jean Dicken.

Market Stages Comeback After Hitting Low For Year

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—The stock market bounced up smartly today after dipping yesterday to a new low for the year.

Gains ran to between 1 and 2 points at the most while losses were usually small.

Railroads were out in front in the turn ahead. Also higher on balance were steels, utilities, oils, coppers, air lines, aircrafts, chemicals, rubbers, and radio-televisions. The motors were hesitant and ended mixed. Other major sections were quietly steady.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 70 cents. It lost $2.20 yesterday. It now stands at $103.10. The industrial component of the average advanced $1.00, the railroads advanced 90 cents, and the utilities advanced 10 cents.

The list was composed of 1,142 individual issues traded of which 463 advanced and 399 declined. Business amounted to 1,580,000 shares as against 2,190,000 shares traded yesterday.

Auto Parking Poses Problem At Mt. Savage

A Mt. Savage man appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday to complain about the blocking of Columbia Avenue in that community.

He is Joseph Taccino, who told the commissioners cars park partly on a gas station property with either the front or back end jutting out onto the narrow street. Taccino said he was speaking not only for himself but for other residents of the street.

One day recently he had to wait for more than an hour until the owner of one machine blocking the street appeared to let him gain access to the street and his own garage. Taccino said he has reported the problem to the State Police here but realizes they cannot have a trooper on hand at all times to prevent the blocking of the thoroughfare.

Creates Fire Problem

Taccino said that in the case of a fire it would be impossible for firemen to get their equipment into the burning area. The street he complains about is located between the Mt. Savage VFW Club and the gas station.

In support of his complaint he showed a dozen photographs of the street to the commissioners to show several cars blocking all but a few feet of the street one afternoon recently. Another picture showed a car parked across the entrance to the street from the main highway which runs through Mt. Savage.

Taccino said the upper end of the street is too steep to be safe for use as an entrance and is accessible only by a roundabout route.

No Jurisdiction

The commissioners told Taccino they have no jurisdiction on parking or other street regulations for Mt. Savage or any other community. The Mt. Savage man said he realizes that, but thought he would bring the matter to the attention of the board.

John W. Bierman appeared before the board to complain about an open ditch near his property in Mexico Farms. The ditch runs to the Potomac River.

Nancy Mullan of Rawlings wrote the board to inquire if a sign could not be placed on the McMullen Highway to notify motorists that they were entering the community. She says Rawlings appears on road maps but there is no sign with the community's name located at the entrance to the town.

LaVale Homemakers To Meet September 14

LaVale Homemakers Club has postponed its September meeting from the 7th until the 14th, because of the Labor Day holiday.

Mrs. Bertha Simpson, Nutrition chairman, will give a food demonstration, taught at the food training meeting at Fort Hill High School, given by Miss Janet Coblentz, food and nutrition specialist of the University of Maryland.

Club Elects

Mrs. Joan Robertson was elected president of the Young Married Couples Club of Mapleside at the meeting recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dicken. Other officers are Mrs. Marian Webster, vice president; Mrs. Betty Webster, secretary; Lee Robertson, treasurer and Homer Dicken, chaplain.

A corn roast preceded the meeting.

Officers will be installed at the September meeting in the church recreation hall. Members are to bring box lunches and the recreation will be under the direction of Mrs. Jean Dicken.

Market Stages Comeback After Hitting Low For Year

Gains ran to between 1 and 2 points at the most while losses were usually small.

Railroads were out in front in the turn ahead. Also higher on balance were steels, utilities, oils, coppers, air lines, aircrafts, chemicals, rubbers, and radio-televisions. The motors were hesitant and ended mixed. Other major sections were quietly steady.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 70 cents. It lost $2.20 yesterday. It now stands at $103.10. The industrial component of the average advanced $1.00, the railroads advanced 90 cents, and the utilities advanced 10 cents.

The list was composed of 1,142 individual issues traded of which 463 advanced and 399 declined. Business amounted to 1,580,000 shares as against 2,190,000 shares traded yesterday.

Maryland Fair Opens At Timonium Today

TIMONIUM, Md., Sept. 1 (AP) — The 72nd annual Maryland State Fair—the big one—opens tomorrow on the brightly decorated and newly painted fair grounds at Timonium.

Fair officials expressed confidence that last year's record attendance of 220,000 will be exceeded by at least 50,000 between the opening at 9 a. m. Wednesday and the closing Sept. 12.

The opening event will be the judging of 4-H and FFA dairy cattle at 9 o'clock. A horse breeders' show and the opening of the midway and the exhibition hall come an hour later.

17 Building Permits Issued In August

Seventeen building permits issued in August by the building engineer resulted in construction estimated at $36,125.

Seven permits were for new construction including four residences and three garages. These were estimated at $32,200. Eight of the additions and improvements were for residences and two for businesses estimated at $3,925.

Ninth Area Polio Case Is Reported

Three Garrett Children Are Latest Victims

Authorities Report All Are Improving

A Mt. Lake Park boy is being treated for polio in a local hospital and two other Garrett County children are undergoing treatment for the disease at their home near the Allegany County line. Yesterday's reports bring to nine the total cases of polio reported so far this year in the Greater Cumberland area.

Garrett County health authorities said the latest cases brings the total victims in Garrett County to four.

So far, there are no indications of paralysis in any of the children who were stricken during the past few weeks. All are reported improving.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital here Monday was David Paugh, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Paugh, Mt. Lake Park.

The lad's condition was reported fairly good yesterday following a definite diagnosis. Officials reported there were no signs of paralysis at present.

Two Are Stricken

Undergoing treatment for polio at their home near Avilton, in Garrett County about seven miles from Lonaconing, are two members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilhelm.

Stricken were John, 9, and Thelma, 11. They became ill last Friday at their farm home. Both are reported in good condition and r signs of paralysis have developed.

Gamma Globulin has been given to the other five children in the family and to actual family contacts, authorities said.

In good condition in Memorial Hospital here yesterday was the fourth victim, Linda Harbosky, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harbosky, Star Route, Frostburg, who reside in Garrett County.

Get GG Shots

Authorities said that gamma globulin — which often offers temporary immunity — has been given to the family contacts of the polio victims.

Allegany County health authorities, who are sweating out the polio season, said they have had no reports of polio in this county.

They admit they will breathe freer when cool weather arrives and the worst of the danger is past.

The disease is generally restricted to the summer months and health officials term it reassuring that most of the cases in this area struck so late in the season.

One physician yesterday commented on the need for heavy rains to flush out sewage laden streams in Western Maryland if epidemics are to be avoided.

Area Children Stricken

Early in August, Mary Ellen Riggleman, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Davis, New Creek Drive, near Keyser, was stricken with polio.

Three children in the Meyersdale, Pa., area became ill in mid August. They were identified as Kevin Twigg, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Galen Twigg; Elizabeth Ann Werner, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Werner, and Lois Logue, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Logue.

THOMAS W. DWYER

Phone Company Appoints New Area Manager

Thomas W. Dwyer, of Baltimore City, has been appointed District Commercial Manager of The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company's Western District, as announced by G. C. Hicks, of Baltimore. He will assume responsibilities for commercial activities in five of Maryland's western counties—Carroll, Frederick, Washington, Allegany and Garrett, and portions of Howard and Montgomery Counties. Dwyer succeeds Harry B. Gretz, of Fountain Head Heights, who has been District Manager for more than four years, with headquarters in Hagerstown.

The announcement notes that Gretz was transferred to Baltimore to assume similar duties in the southeastern section of the city, being responsible for nine large exchange areas.

Dwyer is a native of Baltimore and started with the Maryland Company in 1940 as a shop repairman. In 1941 he was appointed as Manager in Linthicum, and in 1943 went to Bel Air, where he managed the business for eight years. In 1951 he was sent to Baltimore, where he remained until his appointment to the Western District on August 17, 1953.

He has been active in the Lions Club and held the office of president in 1949 while at Bel Air. He was elected Deputy District Governor in District 22-A in 1950. For the past ten years he has been an officer in the Bel Air Athletic Association, sponsoring athletics for young and old. Being active in church affairs, he has been president of the Holy Name Society, at St. Margaret's Church in Bel Air.

Dwyer married the former Adoree Keebler in 1939. She is a native of Charleston, S. C., and a former practicing registered nurse. She received her training at St. Joseph's Hospital in Baltimore.

They have eight children, four girls and four boys, ranging in age from twelve years to four months. Six of their children are of school age and will be entered in parochial schools in Hagerstown.

The Weather

Hot, dry weather continued in the Queen City yesterday, while several showers were reported in nearby communities. Official high reading yesterday was 100 for the third straight day according to Constitution Park weather station; low was 65 and at 8 p. m. mercury stood at 84 degrees. Humidity at 6 p. m. was 44 per cent. The Weather Bureau says today will be fair and hot with highest between 96 and 100.

City Swelters As Rain Cools Nearby Towns

Break Seen In Heat Wave This Weekend

Official high temperature yesterday was 100 degrees according to Robert R. Golden, observer at Constitution Park weather station. Mercury was up to 100 again Monday, t 101 on Sunday and up to 99 on Saturday.

The Weather Bureau at the same time predicted more of the same for Cumberland for most of this week with a chance of a break in the heat wave Friday or Saturday. The Bureau's forecast calls for 100-degree readings all this week until Friday night or Saturday when scattered showers are to bring cooler weather.

A "refreshing shower" was reported in the area about 25 miles southeast of Romney, W. Va. about 2 p. m. yesterday, and another, at about the same time, was reported near Springfield.

A sprinkle of rain was felt in the George's Creek area yesterday evening and a few drops fell in Frostburg and LaVale early last night.

Also adding to yesterday's discomfort, was a climbing humidity percentage, which although is an indication of coming rain, is also a hindrance for "cooling off." Humidity measured at 6 p. m. yesterday was up to 44 per cent. It has been in the 30's for the past several days.

At 6 p. m. mercury at Elkins stood at 90; Thomas, 80; Connellsville, Pa., 98; Deal, 88, and Cumberland, 90.

Chaney Reported In Good Condition

Owen Chaney, 28, of 6 Altamont Terrace, who was admitted to Memorial Hospital Monday night following an auto accident on Route 28 at the Wiley Ford Bridge, was reported in "good" condition last night.

He was admitted to the hospital in a state of shock. Treated was a passenger in the car, Walter R. Sczerbicki, 26, Baltimore, who resides at Central YMCA. The auto, driven by Chaney, struck the bridge, rode the guard rail for a short distance and upset on its top. Damage to the car was estimated at $1,500.

Optimists To Fete Ball Team Tonight

The Cumberland Optimist Club's Hot Stove Baseball team will be guests of honor today at 6:15 p. m. during the weekly luncheon meeting of the organization in Central YMCA.

Earl M. Nonnenmann, athletic chairman, last night said the team members will be feted for their participation in the sport this season.

Man Hurt In Attempt To Hop Freight

Hyndman Police Take "Buddy" Off Train

A man attempting to hitch a free ride to Ohio narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday evening when he slipped and fell while trying to board a B&O freight train at the Baltimore Street crossing.

Authorities here listed him as Homer William Marlow, 33, of Martinsburg, W. Va. He was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital for a cut on the back of his head. Several stitches were used to close the wound.

He was taken to the hospital about 6:20 p. m. and was attended by nurses until a doctor arrived about two hours later. After he was treated he was lodged in the City Jail.

Marlow told City Police Officers John G. Powers and Joseph H. Stitcher, who investigated, that he slipped after trying to "hop" the freight with a companion at about 6:10 p. m. His friend boarded the train without difficulty, but was taken off the train later by authorities at Hyndman, Pa.

Police said Marlow fell between the tracks and struck his head. Marlow told police he and his friend were going to Portsmouth, Ohio to seek employment, and that he had sent his tools to Ohio a day before.

B&O police agents, meanwhile, wired to Hyndman and asked authorities there to stop the freight and pick up Marlow's companion.

Hyndman Police Officer Paul Wise said he arrested Walter James, 39, of Baltimore, who explained he was worried about his buddy who had fallen off at Cumberland.

James told Wise his friend, Marlow, was also of Baltimore and was 43 years of age. Wise said James was a carpenter and Marlow was a cement finisher. Both were going to Ohio to seek work. Both men are World War II veterans. James said he and his friend stopped at a relative of Marlow's in Martinsburg Monday night and were to continue to Ohio yesterday.

W. Md. Section Of Holy Name Meets Sept. 13

The Western Maryland Section of the Holy Name Society will hold its quarterly meeting at 2:30 p. m., September 13, at St. Anne's parish hall, Avilton, Thomas F. Conlon, president, announced yesterday.

Special guests at the meeting will be five area boys awarded four-year scholarships to LaSalle High School in July by the Maryland Archdiocesan Union of the Holy Name Society. Boys to attend the meet are:

George Weaver, 118 West Chase Street, of St. Patrick's parish; Paul Stakem, 611 Sedgwick Street, of SS. Peter and Paul's parish; Edward Crowe, Midland, of St. Joseph's parish; Thomas Joyce, 432 Grand Avenue, of St. Mary's parish, and James Winner, Lonaconing, of Lonaconing St. Mary's parish.

The Archdiocesan officers will also attend the meeting and will outline the schedule of activities for the year.

Rev. Father Hilary, O.F.M., Capuchin, has invited members and their families to a basket picnic during the all-day event. Members are also invited to attend mass at 11 a. m. at St. Anne's Catholic Church.

Officers of the Western Maryland Section are: Rev. Father Lawrence Landrigan, spiritual director; Conlon, president; Charles R. Burkey, vice president; Augustine L. Will, treasurer; James E. Coyle, secretary, and Bernard S. Rafferty, marshal.

Hall Will Speak

Ivan Hall, former production superintendent at Goodyear Engineering Corporation, will be guest speaker tomorrow at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA during the weekly luncheon meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club. His subject will be "Constructive Destruction."

Interest Grows In Light Surface Treatment Plan Tried On City's Streets

Residents of two city streets have asked the Street Department for more information about light surface treatment of streets.

A great deal of favorable comment has been reported as a result of this treatment on MacDonald Terrace and LeFevre Road.

Residents of those streets recently acquired a good street surface as a result of the cooperation of property owners, the City of Cumberland and the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

Property owners put up the 40 cents a front foot needed to buy asphalt and chips, the City, which has been oiling the streets each year, furnished labor and the county loaned its equipment for the experiment.

Is Used By County

Experiment is hardly the word, since the county has been using the method for years and has already surfaced 28 miles of county road by the "light surface treatment" method so far this year.

Just how much of such street the city could treat in any given year is not known. Actually, the light surface treatment requires more time and labor, but every mile built would cut down by one mile the amount of surface which each year has to be shaped, rolled and oiled.

Residents of MacDonald Terrace and LeFevre Road, who are tickled pink with their paving job, do not expect the job to take the place of permanent paving.

They do expect the surface to stand up for at least three or so years, and even longer with some patching as the surface becomes eroded by traffic.

May Sign Petitions

A letter from C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, to one of those who may petition for the surfacing, explains the city's stand on the work.

He said that after petitions were signed by all residents, the forms should be returned to the City Engineer's Office.

The city solicitor, the letter said, has deemed it advisable that property owners purchase the materials—asphalt and stone chips—needed to treat the street bed.

The Street Department, it was pointed out, cannot assume the full cost of the more expensive treatment and at the same time continue its oiling program on unimproved streets.

If the city were to assume the full cost of the project, it would have to file liens against the property owners to protect its investment.

114 Given Jobs During August

The Cumberland office of the Maryland Department of Employment Security last month placed 114 persons in jobs, according to Francis A. Kenney, manager.

During August the local agency received 290 new applications for employment, and the active file to date totals 1,809 persons.

Kenney said the local office staff administered 42 aptitude tests which were requested by employers, many of whom are hiring only new employes who have been screened through the General Aptitude Battery.

Also the office gave proficiency tests to seven persons who were all in the clerical field.

There were 242 persons referred to jobs by the office in August, of which 234 were local. In addition personnel of the local agency visited 81 employers in an effort to secure new job openings.

Kenney added that at present, there are job openings in the local office for waitresses, cooks, domestic help, etc.

Symphony Orchestra To Begin Rehearsals

The executive committee of the orchestra met at the home of Donald Paupe, 810 Schriver Avenue, president. Personnel of the orchestra was studied and a need for violins and other string players was noted. Any one interested in playing is asked to call Paupe.

Tentative concert dates were set and soloists, program data and music were discussed. S. Lua Syckes, conductor, requested suggestions about purchasing new music. Several new numbers were agreed upon, including a medley from "South Pacific."

The Junior Woman's Civic Club is continuing its financial support of the orchestra and will begin its drive for advertising and patrons shortly.

Rawlings Man Found Dead Near Home

He is Joseph Rosebrough, 74, who lived alone. Death, according to Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, was due to a heart attack.

Rosebrough had stated he was ill and was going to see a doctor. He was found by Mrs. Dorothy Hull, who lives nearby. She notified authorities.

A native of Hampshire County, W. Va., he was a son of the late John and Mariah Rosebrough. Authorities said he had no known relatives.

Edgar A. Dashiell's Brother Dies In Fla.

Edgar A. Dashiell, Mason Road, left early this morning by plane for Miami, Fla., to attend the funeral of his brother at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Philbrick Funeral Home, Coral Gables.

Harry E. Dashiell, 65, a native of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, had resided in Florida for the past 25 years where he was engaged in the insurance business. He was a veteran of World War I and served in France with the United States Army.

He is survived, besides his brother here, by a son Harry E. Dashiell, Jr., and a sister, Mrs. Minnie Hopkins, Salisbury, Md.

Four Teachers Named To Posts Around County

Four more teacher appointments were announced yesterday by Assistant Superintendent of Schools Richard T. Rizer as the slate of instructors for the new school year neared competition.

Mrs. Vella Patterson has been appointed to teach home economics at Flintstone High School. Mrs. Patterson was graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1947 and has taught in high schools of that state ever since. First she was at Russell Springs and Waco, each for a year, and for the past four years has taught at Shopville, Ky. Her husband, who is connected with the Southern States Cooperative, is being transferred to Cumberland from Kentucky.

Mrs. Eleanor R. Weber, 900 Louisiana Avenue, has been assigned to teach home economics and English at Mt. Savage High School. A 1945 graduate of Duke University, Mrs. Weber has done substitute teaching in Cumberland schools the past two years.

John Russell Snyder of LaVale has been appointed to teach mathematics and science in the junior high school level at Oldtown High School. He was graduated in June from Frostburg State Teachers College.

Wayne Layman, 4 Beall Street, Frostburg, has been named to teach junior high school science at Fort Hill High School. Like Snyder he is a 1953 graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College.

Meanwhile, Rizer reported that John C. Harvey of Piedmont, W. Va., will teach core and English at Bruce High School in Westernport. Earlier it had been announced that Harvey would teach at Fort Hill but he has been transferred to a school nearer his home.

Eight Receive One-Year Terms

Eight young Tri-Towns men, charged with carnal knowledge of a 14-year old Lonaconing girl, were sentenced yesterday to terms not to exceed one year in the Maryland Reformatory For Males by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Sentenced were Artie W. Hanlin, James E. Taylor, Richard E. Johnson, Charles L. Hartman, Roy S. Dayton, Paul Morehead and Russell Miller, all of Westernport, and Charles Johnson, Piedmont, W. Va. They were tried on a criminal information filed August 11 by State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher. Through their attorney, Earl E. Manges, each entered a guilty plea.

Before passing sentence on the young men, who range in age between 19 and 25, Judge Harris quoted from a text he had prepared before the trial.

". . . For the court to permit this kind of conduct to go unpunished would be to encourage others to do likewise," Judge Harris stated. "Punishment in these cases is not only for the offenders but to deter others. The good mothers and fathers of this county are entitled to be assured that the court has some respect for womanhood and will do what is reasonable and proper to prevent a repetition of this to some other mother's daughter."

Phone Workers Continue Talks

Negotiators for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. and the union representing some 4,300 of its employes recessed contract talks yesterday afternoon, with another meeting set for this morning.

The company and representatives of the CIO Communications Workers of America are trying to work out a new contract covering clerical, maintenance and repair workers in Maryland. The old contract expired July 22.

There have been sporadic walkouts in the state since the talks began, but none since last Friday when walkouts occurred in Baltimore and five counties. Operators, who belong to an independent union, came to an agreement with C & P last week.

CWA also is seeking new contracts for workers in Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Local Police Gun Turns Up In D. C. Homicide Case

A Cumberland Police Department pistol this week turned up as a weapon in a homicide case in Washington, D. C.

The weapon was identified as one that had been sold to a New York firm in 1948 by the Cumberland Police Department. At that time the local department purchased a number of new pistols and sold a number of the old ones to the company in New York.

The case is being handled by the Washington Police Department's Homicide Squad.

Ridgeley Tables Raise In Sewer Tappage Rates

Amendment Would Hike Costs $15

The third reading of an amendment to the sewer tapping ordinance in Ridgeley, W. Va., was tabled last night at the regular monthly meeting of the Ridgeley Mayor and Town Council pending further clarification with the West Virginia Public Service Commission.

Meeting in the Ridgeley City Hall the council heard a letter from the Public Service Commission outlining details setting up monthly tariffs for a sewage system, including tappage fees.

However, since Ridgeley has no monthly sewerage service charge the amendment which would increase Ridgeley's present tappage rate from $15 to $30 was tabled until the matter is cleared by the PSC.

Amendment Raises Rates

The amendment raises the present charge for tapping the town's sewer lines to defray present high costs for labor and material as current rates are not deemed sufficient by the Mayor and Council.

The council also decided to ask written applications for a new town plumber and maintenance man, replacing the former Arthur Sisk, deceased. The appointment for the position will be made at the next council meeting, October 6.

Authority was granted Carl McAbee, operator of a garbage and trash truck, to use the Ridgeley dump. The dump, now under strict control, is open only to trucks operated by the town and business establishments in Ridgeley.

Robert F. Edenhart, town recorder and treasurer, was asked by councilmen present to write letters to Ralph Frantz and William Knieriem, members of the council, to inquire of their intentions after the latter had given indication at a previous meeting of desires to resign. Neither Frantz nor Knieriem attended last night's session.

Fail To Attend

It marked the second straight session Frantz and Knieriem failed to attend after the two councilmen indicated they would resign after a squabble over legal advisor to the council.

A motion to purchase safety toes for the shoes of workmen operating the air compressor and jack hammer in construction work for the town was approved.

A financial report which included expenditures of $846.96 was also approved. Largest item in the expenses was a water bill from the City of Cumberland for the month of August for $562.35.

When Councilman Robert Zimmerman questioned the amount as being too excessive, it was pointed out that use of water on the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood project was included in the bill. A letter of approval from the E. J. Albrecht Company, contractors on the flood project, agreeing to reimburse Ridgeley with $154.75 for use of the water was read before the council approved payment of the bill.

Collections Reported

Total collections for the month of August were reported by Edenhart as $345.55. They included garbage collections, $49.65; license fees, $35; water rents $196.40; miscellaneous water $6; sewage tapping fees, $58.50. Balance of all town funds in the bank was reported as $7,039.15.

Attending last night's council meeting were Edenhart, Zimmerman, Councilman William Preskorn, Councilman Harry Kelso; Mayor William D. Bidinger; Jesse H. Simmons, city advisor; and Alvin L. Henry, chief of police.

W. Va. Company Low Bidder On Garrett Work

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1 (AP) — The M. J. Grove Lime Co. of Limekiln, Md. today submitted the apparent low bid of $112,316 for building the approach on the Maryland shore for the new bridge across the Potomac River at Brunswick, Md.

Thomas, Bennett and Hunter of Westminster, Md. was the only other bidder at $125,995.

The Keeley Construction Co. of Clarksburg, W. Va. submitted the apparent low bid of $149,163 on about six miles.

Contee Sand and Gravel Inc. of Laurel, Md. was second low on this project, at $156,245.

The other two projects in addition to the resurfacing of U. S. 219 are the re-paving of St. Paul Street in Loch Lynn and parts of Oak and Third streets in Oakland.

Harry T. Campbell Sons Corp. of Towson, Md., was low bidder at $124,684 on the resurfacing of Maryland Route 27 from the Westminster city limits south for almost 5½ miles to a point below Warfieldsburg.

Sam Finley Inc. of Roanoke, Va. was second low among the bidders at $124,985.

Ohioans Sue For $35,000

Mrs. Mary I. Catley and her husband, Howard Catley, Shaker Heights, Ohio, yesterday filed suits in Allegany County Circuit Court seeking a total of $35,000 damages from B. Fay Thompson, 206 Elder Street.

Both actions grew out of an accident which occurred along U. S. Route 40 on Little Savage Mountain June 28.

Mrs. Catley, who was a passenger in the east-bound automobile driven by her husband, states in her declaration seeking $25,000 damages that she has been hospitalized virtually ever since the accident, first at Miners Hospital, Frostburg, and subsequently in a Cleveland, Ohio hospital. She contends that she sustained a serious fracture of the right thigh bone and a fracture of the second finger of her right hand.

Catley asks $10,000 for contusions and abrasions of the chest, a bruised heart and eight broken ribs. He also notes that the accident has cost him the loss of his wife's services and companionship. The suits were filed by Attorney William H. Geppert.

Maryland Educators Face Twin Public School Problems

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is one of a series of articles prepared in connection with the opening of Maryland schools next week. The series reviews the twin problems of state educators: getting enough money to finance an adequate school program and finding enough teachers to put that program into effect.

By HUELL WARREN

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1 (AP)—Taxpayers will lay out about 95 million dollars to provide public schools for Maryland's youngsters during the school year which opens next week.

Public education is easily the most expensive single function, not only of the state government itself but of the 23 counties and the city of Baltimore as well.

Even the 95 million figure doesn't tell the whole story.

It does not count the outlay for the University of Maryland and the five state teachers colleges, or state contributions to Maryland's other institutions of higher learning.

Nor does it include tax money which must be shelled out to pay this year's installment on the millions of dollars in bonds which the local governments have floated to pay for new buildings.

The state government of Maryland will put up almost 38 of the 95 millions. The remainder will come from tax levies in the counties and Baltimore.

The State's contribution represents 35 per cent of all the general tax revenues it will collect, since the State's general fund budget for fiscal 1954 is about 105 millions.

(These comparisons do not take into consideration the state's so-called special funds. They are collected from special sources and dedicated to special uses. An example is the tax on gasoline, dedicated to streets and highways).

On the local level, in the counties, an average of 40 per cent of all taxes collected has been going to schools for the past few years. Schools always are the largest single item when the county commissioners and Baltimore's city council draw up their levies.

It is well to note the word 'average" in the statement about local taxes for schools. Local financial support for schools varies widely.

Up-to-the-minute figures on this are not available, but recent experience is that some counties devote as much as 55 per cent of local taxes to schools. Montgomery, Kent and Cecil are examples. But Garrett County's rate is only 29 per cent.

Most of the state's 38 million for education in fiscal 1954 will go toward "equalizing" this difference.

But in Garrett County, for example, it will be paying about 75 per cent. In some other counties, it will have to shoulder no more than 22 per cent of the burden.

When Gov. McKeldin took office in January of 1951, amid a great pulling and hauling over heavier State contributions to teachers' salaries, he voiced a philosophy it should be more up to local governments than the state to support the public schools.

The Green commission found Maryland has a model system of integrated state and local financing for schools. It's "equalizing" pattern has been copied all over.

But, the Green Commission went on:

"The State has not provided funds sufficient for its proper functioning . . . The quality of education in Maryland has been endangered by the State's failure to insure adequate financial support during the past few years."

The intricate formula by which it was worked out does not take full effect, as far as pay envelopes are concerned, until the fall of 1955.

Meantime, there were some immediate adjustments for teachers in lower-pay counties, entirely from state contributions, and this will cost the state $1,172,000 in the 1953-54 school year.

When the new formula takes full effect, the counties will have to step up their contributions to education's cost. They will have to levy at least 75 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation for schools instead of 65.

Although it faces a 95-million dollar bill for education in the coming school year, Maryland in recent years has been ranking 24th among the states in its outlay per pupil.

Dr. David W. Zimmerman, director of finance and research at the State Department of Education, says Maryland manages to school its children at less cost per child largely because of its well-developed system of large school units.

Even so, he says:

"There is a definite relation between the amount of money you spend and the education you get."

Ninth Area Polio Case Is Reported

Three Garrett Children Are Latest Victims

Authorities Report All Are Improving

A Mt. Lake Park boy is being treated for polio in a local hospital and two other Garrett County children are undergoing treatment for the disease at their home near the Allegany County line. Yesterday's reports bring to nine the total cases of polio reported so far this year in the Greater Cumberland area.

Garrett County health authorities said the latest cases brings the total victims in Garrett County to four.

So far, there are no indications of paralysis in any of the children who were stricken during the past few weeks. All are reported improving.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital here Monday was David Paugh, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Paugh, Mt. Lake Park.

The lad's condition was reported fairly good yesterday following a definite diagnosis. Officials reported there were no signs of paralysis at present.

Two Are Stricken

Undergoing treatment for polio at their home near Avilton, in Garrett County about seven miles from Lonaconing, are two members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilhelm.

Stricken were John, 9, and Thelma, 11. They became ill last Friday at their farm home. Both are reported in good condition and r signs of paralysis have developed.

Gamma Globulin has been given to the other five children in the family and to actual family contacts, authorities said.

In good condition in Memorial Hospital here yesterday was the fourth victim, Linda Harbosky, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harbosky, Star Route, Frostburg, who reside in Garrett County.

Linda became ill on August 20 and was taken to Miners Hospital the following day. She was later transferred to Memorial Hospital here.

Get GG Shots

Authorities said that gamma globulin — which often offers temporary immunity — has been given to the family contacts of the polio victims.

Allegany County health authorities, who are sweating out the polio season, said they have had no reports of polio in this county.

They admit they will breathe freer when cool weather arrives and the worst of the danger is past.

The disease is generally restricted to the summer months and health officials term it reassuring that most of the cases in this area struck so late in the season.

One physician yesterday commented on the need for heavy rains to flush out sewage laden streams in Western Maryland if epidemics are to be avoided.

Area Children Stricken

The continued heat wave and dry spell had caused the condition of Wills Creek to deteriorate here considerably in recent weeks, and only water from the Savage River Dam has curtailed what the Upper Potomac River Board terms the "cesspool effect" noted at the Blue Bridge in extended droughts.

Early in August, Mary Ellen Riggleman, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Davis, New Creek Drive, near Keyser, was stricken with polio.

Three children in the Meyersdale, Pa., area became ill in mid August. They were identified as Kevin Twigg, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Galen Twigg; Elizabeth Ann Werner, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Werner, and Lois Logue, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Logue.

Somerset County health authorities reported a mild case of polio in July.

THOMAS W. DWYER

Phone Company Appoints New Area Manager

Thomas W. Dwyer, of Baltimore City, has been appointed District Commercial Manager of The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company's Western District, as announced by G. C. Hicks, of Baltimore. He will assume responsibilities for commercial activities in five of Maryland's western counties—Carroll, Frederick, Washington, Allegany and Garrett, and portions of Howard and Montgomery Counties. Dwyer succeeds Harry B. Gretz, of Fountain Head Heights, who has been District Manager for more than four years, with headquarters in Hagerstown.

The announcement notes that Gretz was transferred to Baltimore to assume similar duties in the southeastern section of the city, being responsible for nine large exchange areas.

Dwyer is a native of Baltimore and started with the Maryland Company in 1940 as a shop repairman. In 1941 he was appointed as Manager in Linthicum, and in 1943 went to Bel Air, where he managed the business for eight years. In 1951 he was sent to Baltimore, where he remained until his appointment to the Western District on August 17, 1953.

He has been active in the Lions Club and held the office of president in 1949 while at Bel Air. He was elected Deputy District Governor in District 22-A in 1950. For the past ten years he has been an officer in the Bel Air Athletic Association, sponsoring athletics for young and old. Being active in church affairs, he has been president of the Holy Name Society, at St. Margaret's Church in Bel Air.

Dwyer married the former Adoree Keebler in 1939. She is a native of Charleston, S. C., and a former practicing registered nurse. She received her training at St. Joseph's Hospital in Baltimore.

They have eight children, four girls and four boys, ranging in age from twelve years to four months. Six of their children are of school age and will be entered in parochial schools in Hagerstown.

The Weather

Hot, dry weather continued in the Queen City yesterday, while several showers were reported in nearby communities. Official high reading yesterday was 100 for the third straight day according to Constitution Park weather station; low was 65 and at 8 p. m. mercury stood at 84 degrees. Humidity at 6 p. m. was 44 per cent. The Weather Bureau says today will be fair and hot with highest between 96 and 100.

City Swelters As Rain Cools Nearby Towns

Break Seen In Heat Wave This Weekend

Mercury climbed to the 100-degree mark for the third consecutive day yesterday while residents looked hopefully at dark clouds gathering west of Cumberland last night.

Official high temperature yesterday was 100 degrees according to Robert R. Golden, observer at Constitution Park weather station. Mercury was up to 100 again Monday, t 101 on Sunday and up to 99 on Saturday.

The Weather Bureau at the same time predicted more of the same for Cumberland for most of this week with a chance of a break in the heat wave Friday or Saturday. The Bureau's forecast calls for 100-degree readings all this week until Friday night or Saturday when scattered showers are to bring cooler weather.

A "refreshing shower" was reported in the area about 25 miles southeast of Romney, W. Va. about 2 p. m. yesterday, and another, at about the same time, was reported near Springfield.

A sprinkle of rain was felt in the George's Creek area yesterday evening and a few drops fell in Frostburg and LaVale early last night.

But Cumberland and sections east could only watch the gathering clouds west and hope for a strong wind "coming this way."

Also adding to yesterday's discomfort, was a climbing humidity percentage, which although is an indication of coming rain, is also a hindrance for "cooling off." Humidity measured at 6 p. m. yesterday was up to 44 per cent. It has been in the 30's for the past several days.

At 6 p. m. mercury at Elkins stood at 90; Thomas, 80; Connellsville, Pa., 98; Deal, 88, and Cumberland, 90.

Chaney Reported In Good Condition

Owen Chaney, 28, of 6 Altamont Terrace, who was admitted to Memorial Hospital Monday night following an auto accident on Route 28 at the Wiley Ford Bridge, was reported in "good" condition last night.

He was admitted to the hospital in a state of shock. Treated was a passenger in the car, Walter R. Sczerbicki, 26, Baltimore, who resides at Central YMCA. The auto, driven by Chaney, struck the bridge, rode the guard rail for a short distance and upset on its top. Damage to the car was estimated at $1,500.

Optimists To Fete Ball Team Tonight

The Cumberland Optimist Club's Hot Stove Baseball team will be guests of honor today at 6:15 p. m. during the weekly luncheon meeting of the organization in Central YMCA.

Earl M. Nonnenmann, athletic chairman, last night said the team members will be feted for their participation in the sport this season.

Man Hurt In Attempt To Hop Freight

Hyndman Police Take "Buddy" Off Train

A man attempting to hitch a free ride to Ohio narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday evening when he slipped and fell while trying to board a B&O freight train at the Baltimore Street crossing.

Authorities here listed him as Homer William Marlow, 33, of Martinsburg, W. Va. He was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital for a cut on the back of his head. Several stitches were used to close the wound.

He was taken to the hospital about 6:20 p. m. and was attended by nurses until a doctor arrived about two hours later. After he was treated he was lodged in the City Jail.

Marlow told City Police Officers John G. Powers and Joseph H. Stitcher, who investigated, that he slipped after trying to "hop" the freight with a companion at about 6:10 p. m. His friend boarded the train without difficulty, but was taken off the train later by authorities at Hyndman, Pa.

Police said Marlow fell between the tracks and struck his head. Marlow told police he and his friend were going to Portsmouth, Ohio to seek employment, and that he had sent his tools to Ohio a day before.

B&O police agents, meanwhile, wired to Hyndman and asked authorities there to stop the freight and pick up Marlow's companion.

Hyndman Police Officer Paul Wise said he arrested Walter James, 39, of Baltimore, who explained he was worried about his buddy who had fallen off at Cumberland.

James told Wise his friend, Marlow, was also of Baltimore and was 43 years of age. Wise said James was a carpenter and Marlow was a cement finisher. Both were going to Ohio to seek work. Both men are World War II veterans. James said he and his friend stopped at a relative of Marlow's in Martinsburg Monday night and were to continue to Ohio yesterday.

Wise last night was holding James for local authorities.

W. Md. Section Of Holy Name Meets Sept. 13

The Western Maryland Section of the Holy Name Society will hold its quarterly meeting at 2:30 p. m., September 13, at St. Anne's parish hall, Avilton, Thomas F. Conlon, president, announced yesterday.

Special guests at the meeting will be five area boys awarded four-year scholarships to LaSalle High School in July by the Maryland Archdiocesan Union of the Holy Name Society. Boys to attend the meet are:

George Weaver, 118 West Chase Street, of St. Patrick's parish; Paul Stakem, 611 Sedgwick Street, of SS. Peter and Paul's parish; Edward Crowe, Midland, of St. Joseph's parish; Thomas Joyce, 432 Grand Avenue, of St. Mary's parish, and James Winner, Lonaconing, of Lonaconing St. Mary's parish.

The Archdiocesan officers will also attend the meeting and will outline the schedule of activities for the year.

Rev. Father Hilary, O.F.M., Capuchin, has invited members and their families to a basket picnic during the all-day event. Members are also invited to attend mass at 11 a. m. at St. Anne's Catholic Church.

Officers of the Western Maryland Section are: Rev. Father Lawrence Landrigan, spiritual director; Conlon, president; Charles R. Burkey, vice president; Augustine L. Will, treasurer; James E. Coyle, secretary, and Bernard S. Rafferty, marshal.

Hall Will Speak

Ivan Hall, former production superintendent at Goodyear Engineering Corporation, will be guest speaker tomorrow at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA during the weekly luncheon meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club. His subject will be "Constructive Destruction."

Interest Grows In Light Surface Treatment Plan Tried On City's Streets

Residents of two city streets have asked the Street Department for more information about light surface treatment of streets.

The data is being forwarded to spokesmen for residents of Forster and Ridgewood Avenues.

A great deal of favorable comment has been reported as a result of this treatment on MacDonald Terrace and LeFevre Road.

Residents of those streets recently acquired a good street surface as a result of the cooperation of property owners, the City of Cumberland and the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

Property owners put up the 40 cents a front foot needed to buy asphalt and chips, the City, which has been oiling the streets each year, furnished labor and the county loaned its equipment for the experiment.

Is Used By County

Experiment is hardly the word, since the county has been using the method for years and has already surfaced 28 miles of county road by the "light surface treatment" method so far this year.

Just how much of such street the city could treat in any given year is not known. Actually, the light surface treatment requires more time and labor, but every mile built would cut down by one mile the amount of surface which each year has to be shaped, rolled and oiled.

Residents of MacDonald Terrace and LeFevre Road, who are tickled pink with their paving job, do not expect the job to take the place of permanent paving.

They do expect the surface to stand up for at least three or so years, and even longer with some patching as the surface becomes eroded by traffic.

May Sign Petitions

A letter from C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, to one of those who may petition for the surfacing, explains the city's stand on the work.

He said that after petitions were signed by all residents, the forms should be returned to the City Engineer's Office.

The city solicitor, the letter said, has deemed it advisable that property owners purchase the materials—asphalt and stone chips—needed to treat the street bed.

The Street Department, it was pointed out, cannot assume the full cost of the more expensive treatment and at the same time continue its oiling program on unimproved streets.

If the city were to assume the full cost of the project, it would have to file liens against the property owners to protect its investment.

114 Given Jobs During August

The Cumberland office of the Maryland Department of Employment Security last month placed 114 persons in jobs, according to Francis A. Kenney, manager.

During August the local agency received 290 new applications for employment, and the active file to date totals 1,809 persons.

Kenney said the local office staff administered 42 aptitude tests which were requested by employers, many of whom are hiring only new employes who have been screened through the General Aptitude Battery.

Also the office gave proficiency tests to seven persons who were all in the clerical field.

There were 242 persons referred to jobs by the office in August, of which 234 were local. In addition personnel of the local agency visited 81 employers in an effort to secure new job openings.

Kenney added that at present, there are job openings in the local office for waitresses, cooks, domestic help, etc.

Symphony Orchestra To Begin Rehearsals

A need for violins has been noted and September 15, the first rehearsal of Cumberland Civic Symphony Orchestra.

The executive committee of the orchestra met at the home of Donald Paupe, 810 Schriver Avenue, president. Personnel of the orchestra was studied and a need for violins and other string players was noted. Any one interested in playing is asked to call Paupe.

Tentative concert dates were set and soloists, program data and music were discussed. S. Lua Syckes, conductor, requested suggestions about purchasing new music. Several new numbers were agreed upon, including a medley from "South Pacific."

The Junior Woman's Civic Club is continuing its financial support of the orchestra and will begin its drive for advertising and patrons shortly.

Rawlings Man Found Dead Near Home

He is Joseph Rosebrough, 74, who lived alone. Death, according to Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, was due to a heart attack.

Rosebrough had stated he was ill and was going to see a doctor. He was found by Mrs. Dorothy Hull, who lives nearby. She notified authorities.

A native of Hampshire County, W. Va., he was a son of the late John and Mariah Rosebrough. Authorities said he had no known relatives.

Edgar A. Dashiell's Brother Dies In Fla.

Edgar A. Dashiell, Mason Road, left early this morning by plane for Miami, Fla., to attend the funeral of his brother at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Philbrick Funeral Home, Coral Gables.

Harry E. Dashiell, 65, a native of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, had resided in Florida for the past 25 years where he was engaged in the insurance business. He was a veteran of World War I and served in France with the United States Army.

He is survived, besides his brother here, by a son Harry E. Dashiell, Jr., and a sister, Mrs. Minnie Hopkins, Salisbury, Md.

Four Teachers Named To Posts Around County

Four more teacher appointments were announced yesterday by Assistant Superintendent of Schools Richard T. Rizer as the slate of instructors for the new school year neared competition.

Mrs. Vella Patterson has been appointed to teach home economics at Flintstone High School. Mrs. Patterson was graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1947 and has taught in high schools of that state ever since. First she was at Russell Springs and Waco, each for a year, and for the past four years has taught at Shopville, Ky. Her husband, who is connected with the Southern States Cooperative, is being transferred to Cumberland from Kentucky.

Mrs. Eleanor R. Weber, 900 Louisiana Avenue, has been assigned to teach home economics and English at Mt. Savage High School. A 1945 graduate of Duke University, Mrs. Weber has done substitute teaching in Cumberland schools the past two years.

John Russell Snyder of LaVale has been appointed to teach mathematics and science in the junior high school level at Oldtown High School. He was graduated in June from Frostburg State Teachers College.

Wayne Layman, 4 Beall Street, Frostburg, has been named to teach junior high school science at Fort Hill High School. Like Snyder he is a 1953 graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College.

Meanwhile, Rizer reported that John C. Harvey of Piedmont, W. Va., will teach core and English at Bruce High School in Westernport. Earlier it had been announced that Harvey would teach at Fort Hill but he has been transferred to a school nearer his home.

Eight Receive One-Year Terms

Eight young Tri-Towns men, charged with carnal knowledge of a 14-year old Lonaconing girl, were sentenced yesterday to terms not to exceed one year in the Maryland Reformatory For Males by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Sentenced were Artie W. Hanlin, James E. Taylor, Richard E. Johnson, Charles L. Hartman, Roy S. Dayton, Paul Morehead and Russell Miller, all of Westernport, and Charles Johnson, Piedmont, W. Va. They were tried on a criminal information filed August 11 by State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher. Through their attorney, Earl E. Manges, each entered a guilty plea.

Before passing sentence on the young men, who range in age between 19 and 25, Judge Harris quoted from a text he had prepared before the trial.

". . . For the court to permit this kind of conduct to go unpunished would be to encourage others to do likewise," Judge Harris stated. "Punishment in these cases is not only for the offenders but to deter others. The good mothers and fathers of this county are entitled to be assured that the court has some respect for womanhood and will do what is reasonable and proper to prevent a repetition of this to some other mother's daughter."

Phone Workers Continue Talks

Negotiators for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. and the union representing some 4,300 of its employes recessed contract talks yesterday afternoon, with another meeting set for this morning.

Spokesmen declined to comment on results of Tuesday's meeting.

The company and representatives of the CIO Communications Workers of America are trying to work out a new contract covering clerical, maintenance and repair workers in Maryland. The old contract expired July 22.

There have been sporadic walkouts in the state since the talks began, but none since last Friday when walkouts occurred in Baltimore and five counties. Operators, who belong to an independent union, came to an agreement with C & P last week.

CWA also is seeking new contracts for workers in Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Local Police Gun Turns Up In D. C. Homicide Case

Washington authorities yesterday called local police seeking to identify the .38 calibre police special revolver.

The weapon was identified as one that had been sold to a New York firm in 1948 by the Cumberland Police Department. At that time the local department purchased a number of new pistols and sold a number of the old ones to the company in New York.

The case is being handled by the Washington Police Department's Homicide Squad.

Amendment Would Hike Costs $15

The third reading of an amendment to the sewer tapping ordinance in Ridgeley, W. Va., was tabled last night at the regular monthly meeting of the Ridgeley Mayor and Town Council pending further clarification with the West Virginia Public Service Co...mission.

Meeting in the Ridgeley City Hall the council heard a letter from the Public Service Commission outlining details setting up monthly tariffs for a sewage system, including tappage fees.

However, since Ridgeley has no monthly sewerage service charge the amendment which would increase Ridgeley's present tappage rate from $15 to $30 was tabled until the matter is cleared by the PSC.

Amendment Raises Rates

The amendment raises the present charge for tapping the town's sewer lines to defray present high costs for labor and material as current rates are not deemed sufficient by the Mayor and Council.

The council also decided to ask written applications for a new town plumber and maintenance man, replacing the former Arthur Sisk, deceased. The appointment for the position will be made at the next council meeting, October 6.

Authority was granted Carl McAbee, operator of a garbage and trash truck, to use the Ridgeley dump. The dump, now under strict control, is open only to trucks operated by the town and business establishments in Ridgeley.

McAbee, who earns his livelihood with his trash collections, had asked the town's permission to use the dump to get rid of his trash and garbage.

Robert F. Edenhart, town recorder and treasurer, was asked by councilmen present to write letters to Ralph Frantz and William Knieriem, members of the council, to inquire of their intentions after the latter had given indication at a previous meeting of desires to resign. Neither Frantz nor Knieriem attended last night's session.

Fail To Attend

It marked the second straight session Frantz and Knieriem failed to attend after the two councilmen indicated they would resign after a squabble over legal advisor to the council.

A motion to purchase safety toes for the shoes of workmen operating the air compressor and jack hammer in construction work for the town was approved.

A financial report which included expenditures of $846.96 was also approved. Largest item in the expenses was a water bill from the City of Cumberland for the month of August for $562.35.

When Councilman Robert Zimmerman questioned the amount as being too excessive, it was pointed out that use of water on the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood project was included in the bill. A letter of approval from the E. J. Albrecht Company, contractors on the flood project, agreeing to reimburse Ridgeley with $154.75 for use of the water was read before the council approved payment of the bill.

Collections Reported

Total collections for the month of August were reported by Edenhart as $345.55. They included garbage collections, $49.65; license fees, $35; water rents $196.40; miscellaneous water $6; sewage tapping fees, $58.50. Balance of all town funds in the bank was reported as $7,039.15.

Attending last night's council meeting were Edenhart, Zimmerman, Councilman William Preskorn, Councilman Harry Kelso; Mayor William D. Bidinger; Jesse H. Simmons, city advisor; and Alvin L. Henry, chief of police.

W. Va. Company Low Bidder On Garrett Work

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1 (AP) — The M. J. Grove Lime Co. of Limekiln, Md. today submitted the apparent low bid of $112,316 for building the approach on the Maryland shore for the new bridge across the Potomac River at Brunswick, Md.

Thomas, Bennett and Hunter of Westminster, Md. was the only other bidder at $125,995.

The Keeley Construction Co. of Clarksburg, W. Va. submitted the apparent low bid of $149,163 on about six miles.

Contee Sand and Gravel Inc. of Laurel, Md. was second low on this project, at $156,245.

The other two projects in addition to the resurfacing of U. S. 219 are the re-paving of St. Paul Street in Loch Lynn and parts of Oak and Third streets in Oakland.

Harry T. Campbell Sons Corp. of Towson, Md., was low bidder at $124,684 on the resurfacing of Maryland Route 27 from the Westminster city limits south for almost 5½ miles to a point below Warfieldsburg.

Sam Finley Inc. of Roanoke, Va. was second low among the bidders at $124,985.

Ohioans Sue For $35,000

Mrs. Mary I. Catley and her husband, Howard Catley, Shaker Heights, Ohio, yesterday filed suits in Allegany County Circuit Court seeking a total of $35,000 damages from B. Fay Thompson, 206 Elder Street.

Both actions grew out of an accident which occurred along U. S. Route 40 on Little Savage Mountain June 28.

Mrs. Catley, who was a passenger in the east-bound automobile driven by her husband, states in her declaration seeking $25,000 damages that she has been hospitalized virtually ever since the accident, first at Miners Hospital, Frostburg, and subsequently in a Cleveland, Ohio hospital. She contends that she sustained a serious fracture of the right thigh bone and a fracture of the second finger of her right hand.

Catley asks $10,000 for contusions and abrasions of the chest, a bruised heart and eight broken ribs. He also notes that the accident has cost him the loss of his wife's services and companionship. The suits were filed by Attorney William H. Geppert.

Maryland Educators Face Twin Public School Problems

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is one of a series of articles prepared in connection with the opening of Maryland schools next week. The series reviews the twin problems of state educators: getting enough money to finance an adequate school program and finding enough teachers to put that program into effect.

By HUELL WARREN

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1 (AP)—Taxpayers will lay out about 95 million dollars to provide public schools for Maryland's youngsters during the school year which opens next week.

Public education is easily the most expensive single function, not only of the state government itself but of the 23 counties and the city of Baltimore as well.

Even the 95 million figure does not tell the whole story.

It does not count the outlay for the University of Maryland and the five state teachers colleges, or state contributions to Maryland's other institutions of higher learning.

Nor does it include tax money which must be shelled out to pay this year's installment on the millions of dollars in bonds which the local governments have floated to pay for new buildings.

The 95 million simply is current expense money for grades one through twelve, from July 1 this year to June 30 next year.

The state government of Maryland will put up almost 38 of the 95 millions. The remainder will come from tax levies in the counties and Baltimore.

The State's contribution represents 35 per cent of all the general tax revenues it will collect, since the State's general fund budget for fiscal 1954 is about 105 millions.

(These comparisons do not take into consideration the state's so-called special funds. They are collected from special sources and dedicated to special uses. An example is the tax on gasoline, dedicated to streets and highways).

On the local level, in the counties, an average of 40 per cent of all taxes collected has been going to schools for the past few years. Schools always are the largest single item when the county commissioners and Baltimore's city council draw up their levies.

It is well to note the word 'average" in the statement about local taxes for schools. Local financial support for schools varies widely.

Up-to-the-minute figures on this are not available, but recent experience is that some counties devote as much as 55 per cent of local taxes to schools. Montgomery, Kent and Cecil are examples. But Garrett County's rate is only 29 per cent.

Most of the state's 38 million for education in fiscal 1954 will go toward "equalizing" this difference.

The State will find itself paying almost 38 per cent of all education costs.

But in Garrett County, for example, it will be paying about 75 per cent. In some other counties, it will have to shoulder no more than 22 per cent of the burden.

When Gov. McKeldin took office in January of 1951, amid a great pulling and hauling over heavier State contributions to teachers' salaries, he voiced a philosophy it should be more up to local governments than the state to support the public schools.

The furor over teachers' salaries led him to appoint a commission —the Green Commission—to study the question.

The Green commission found Maryland has a model system of integrated state and local financing for schools. It's "equalizing" pattern has been copied all over.

But, the Green Commission went on:

"The State has not provided funds sufficient for its proper functioning . . . The quality of education in Maryland has been endangered by the State's failure to insure adequate financial support during the past few years."

Meantime, there were some immediate adjustments for teachers in lower-pay counties, entirely from state contributions, and this will cost the state $1,172,000 in the 1953-54 school year.

When the new formula takes full effect, the counties will have to step up their contributions to education's cost. They will have to levy at least 75 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation for schools instead of 65.

Although it faces a 95-million dollar bill for education in the coming school year, Maryland in recent years has been ranking 24th among the states in its outlay per pupil.

Dr. David W. Zimmerman, director of finance and research at the State Department of Education, says Maryland manages to school its children at less cost per child largely because of its well-developed system of large school units.

Years ago it started moving away from the one-room school, using buses to bring the youngsters in from a wide area to a big well-equipped plant.

Even so, he says:

"There is a definite relation between the amount of money you spend and the education you get."
